In Boston

Your report on the fact that more than half of the 1000 B applicants got one of their first three choices is distinctly good.

We have already asked for the Gov's view on the point raised in the last sentence, although the suggestion from Lord Hanworth and Major

Grogan was that successful applicants should be given two years in which to settle down.

We are at present working a corrigenda slip to those who had the original scheme, and fresh copies of

"1st of August" read "1st of September"

Paragraph 20.—Delete, and substitute—

The arrangements for the lottery, for applicants selected in London will

Names of selected applicants in each class will be drawn in London in order of priority of choice of the farms available. Each applicant will attend in person in the presence of a representative holding power of the Government to select from the farms which remain unchosen by him, subject to such special adjustments, if desired, as provided for in the regulations. If the number of selected applicants exceeds the number of farms available the lottery will involve the exclusion of those applicants whose names have not occurred before all the farms available have been taken.

The lottery in Nairobi will be conducted on different lines, which have been explained in the case of applicants selected in London.

Paragraph 21.—For "1st of August" read "1st of September."

Paragraph 22.—For "26th of August" read "26th of September"

Paragraph 23.—For "1st of August" read "1st of September."
