My dear Mark,

My dear Surgeon
I have your [further] letter of the 6th of December relating to Mr E.H.M. Furley. The latest information furnished by the Governor of the East Africa Protectorate is that there is no further news of Mr Furley. I am afraid that I can only rely upon the Governor to do his best to obtain further information. I am confident that he is doing everything in his power, especially in view of the fact that I telegraphed to him as to the anxiety of Mr Furley's relatives and asked that all possible enquiries should be made. If he were able to communicate with the enemy as to Mr Furley, I have no doubt that he would do so, but I doubt whether it is sufficiently realised that it is only possible to communicate with German East Africa across the firing line. The circumstances are entirely different from those in Europe, where there are neutral countries through which
