My dear Mr. Stanley
Many thanks for your letter of yesterday's date, which I found here on my return from France this morning.

The reply from the Governor for the Navy Office Protectorate about the nursing arrangements in the Protectorate Hospitals is very reassuring.

Yours sincerely

arrangements in Protectorate Hospitals. Prior to advent of expeditionary force nursing establishment was fourteen nurses and one matron. In August 1915 General Officer Commanding sanctioned war establishment of thirty-five nurses capable of dealing with 2,000 casualties. Greatest number of European casualties at any one time has not yet exceeded 400 but extra establishment has been allowed in anticipation of any heavy fighting. Of these thirty-five twenty-two have been obtained locally one-third being pupil nurses as trained nurses were not available in the Protectorate. Twelve are now on the way from South Africa and one is required to complete establishment. Many applications received and are being received from South Africa but none in addition to those already serving from qualified applicants in British East Africa. There are also in addition various untrained nurses who are either serving from the 1914-15 establishment or being defrayed locally. General Officer Commanding repudiated charges of mismanagement and carelessness. He and I have visited hospitals personally and approved nothing defective.
