Propose to appoint Hollis - Have you any objection?

Mr Butler

In ordinary course of course, a proposal is due to make any future appointments must be duly thought fit without reference to the S. G. P., but I presume that Mr P. Finlayson feels some hesitation because Mr Downing has not yet actually taken up his appointment. The point of the appointment is presumably to give Mr Hollis the duty allowance of £1000 attached to the salary of Chief Secretary, but I
