claims within boundaries
originally mentioned.

But unless land available within boundaries is less than 250,000 acres none
shd. be given outside
the boundaries. If it is less than 250,000 acres sufficient shd. be granted to make up that area
as near as possible to the boundaries and as far as possible in one block.

There seems to be true misunderstanding, and I would like to see it cleared up. The letter to telegraph fully as follows: —

I am afraid from your telegram n^o. 113 there may be some misunderstanding.
Facts are as follows. The claim originally applied for a definite block of land estimated to contain 350,000 acres, and it was decided to grant them that block subject to deductions on account of nature and other known rights. It was understood on both sides that there would be large deductions on account of rights, and the only block given to the Indians is that, if the acreage of block should be less than 250,000 acres, the deficiency would be made up by granting an equivalent of adjacent land, if available.

lands within boundaries
originally mentioned.

than 250,000 acres more
shd. be given outside

some misunderstanding, and I think that it would be better to be explicit fully
as follows:

Facts are as follows. I indicate originally offered
