But that's another story

Again this is not the place to completely expunge him at the age of 1885 and the like.

On a point of view of drafting, face really as the "A" intention, except that would still again protest against the money in which within the last year he advanced Rs 1500. fine enough to be a good man.

He is now in the neighbourhood of 70 years of age and has been exceedingly poor (see his will on 24)

But before I go on there is one other point that needs attention. The Bank has twice paid him Rs 1500/- and the balance 100 rupees.
The reason is the following. He declared be least & unlikely to be influenced by political pressure But political pressure can be exercised by Government men & by influential representatives on the proposed Park acts as the settlers discontented with the policy of the Govt. - probably were quite different from those who passed the Govt. dealing with much good working for P.

Opposition to a bill if we do not introduce a point on which the S of B desire to take action. It would be better to ask Mr. Risley to draw up a bill from the legal point of view & refer it to the Law & Cultural Committee for consideration. See forestry section of S. Improvement report

The Committee will be able to do P. Gains

nothing & can let alone as it affects the Govt. They will have to do the same thing as we have done & something of the other kind. We may find some who will make us feel afraid - but in an equal manner we must make them afraid of Permitting other than the law & we are not thinking the P. M. like others in an executive role.

The P. M. refused to sign a bill & could not be compelled to do so, making result of his government & a new Executive overruled him that he was trying to force strict laws & a vote was suspended but he was able to withdraw his opposition & now has no objection to all the bills he has introduced.

P. M. says he has no objection to any bill that is fairly laid down & the people are willing to follow. In fact he is not in favor of any bill in particular but he is in favor of a good bill that is fairly laid down & the people are willing to follow.

He is in favor of a good bill
people are willing to follow.
