Drawn into his application for 5 months leave, and asks instructions as to Re-engagement not received.

Mr. Brad.

I incl. to give Mr. Boring advocates. The cases of temporary appointments should be entered into specifying the leave conditions. But even in cases where agreements are made no provision is made as to leave. The F.O. principle was that temporary officials were not entitled to any leave-wait in the event of their re-employment. In West Africa all European employees, whether appointed by letter or agreement, enjoy the ordinary leave conditions of the permanent staff.

If this plan is to be adopted in East Africa, it will mean that to turn a temporary official into a permanent one if he is not re-employed...

which to look around for a new job, I shall want the very approval. If he do adopt it, it matters little whether temporary appointments are made by letter or agreement and in some cases, by the temporary M.D., where temporary & permanent officers are independent of the same footing except as to the duration of their appointments, the latter has advantages the former was appointed by letter "in pursuance of regulations" but was not given a copy of the regulations. His service has been extended to Sept 30th but is not satisfactory will not be renewed. He has for five months, but it seems unlikely to keep him on more pay beyond Sept 30th I do not think that 2000 can be contemplated his being given leave but in view of the he has filled various Government appointments in this it would be well to pay his passage to England and give him the leave he asks for.

I may add that I have practically been in Government service since December 1898 with only a break of 2 months in 1902, a period of over 7 years and feel that I require a change badly.

I have etc.,
