Mr. Anderson

I had been of course could see Mr.
... .. He had one candidate to propose undergoing me the papers, which I have handed to the Press Sec but I explained to him that I thought we had included the the whole of the proceedings & he seemed quite to be satisfied with my view. The chief anxiety was that he should not have the constant change in the staff to which he had been subjected and he would have had that such a case would be better if the staff were more permanent.

He also mentioned that Mr Howard had been in London for 6 months & he was sure that he would be more than 6 years in the Ministry & (assuming) Dept of the Colonies would be better for the Minister looking at the whole of the world. He is well up to date in the subject & I think he will be a great benefit to the Ministry.

The end of the world has not yet been reached. The British Empire is still growing & the world is still growing.

It was contemplated that when we took over the East African Pro tection, we should surrender to the East and West African countries.

possible to select a West African officer for this appointment?

Mr. Butler,

That was my first attempt - I thought I had been through all the most likely ones - but the chance to be named the first in the course I can give the ground over again, if you like. But the matter is so pressing now that I shall be very glad if you can suggest any other names and recommendations.

I agree proceed with the various purposes

Mr. Harris

Genl Barrington, in answer to your letter, has informed us that there is a vacant post in the Mombasa "messing" for us to fill

The post in question is presumably one of Assistant in £250 by £100 to £600 left vacant in the staff list of 1st H. 05

Mr H. H. Green, of the C. A., is a candidate in England that there is at least one other possible candidate in the C. A. (say Def), and before any one from the C. A. staff is selected, all others should be consulted

If the Def wishes the post filled by selection and not by a local candidate, perhaps Mr Harris has a name to recommend

I think that we should carefully consider the first point whether there is a suitable W. African candidate who could be found in the appropriate country with the W. of African origin
