THE ONE-TON TRUCK.

In Farming activities the adaptability of the FORD ONE-TON TRUCK Chassis to a wide range of uses makes it the most economical and efficient of lightage units.

Whatever your need may be, there is a body type suited to your purpose, which may be fitted to the Truck Chassis. With varied types of bodies, the one-ton truck chassis is also suited to the transportation of farm produce and to the needs of large or small commercial concerns.

This adaptability coupled with the three major advantages—low first cost, low operating cost and low maintenance cost—has led to the acceptance of the FORD Truck as standard equipment by Truck users the world over.

WHEAT PRODUCTION.

Testing Hybrids in South Africa.

In view of the discussion which has been going on lately regarding wheat production in South Africa, the Director of Agriculture, situated in the Cape, has always been desirous of ascertaining the results of the various experiments which are being carried out in the various provinces. It is a fact that the Director has been able to ascertain that the wheat which is being raised in the various provinces is of a very high quality, and that it is well adapted to the soil and climate of the country. The Director has also been able to ascertain that the wheat which is being raised in the various provinces is of a very high quality, and that it is well adapted to the soil and climate of the country.

HIGH SPECIALIZATION.

It is well known that a specialist is one who is engaged in a particular branch of a profession or business. In the case of a farmer, this means that he is engaged in a particular branch of agriculture. It is a fact that the farmer who specializes in a particular branch of agriculture is able to produce a higher quality of produce than the farmer who is engaged in a general agriculture. This is because the specialist is able to devote all of his time and energy to a particular branch of agriculture, and thus he is able to acquire a high degree of skill and knowledge in that branch.

TO CALL FOR HIRE.

Very important notice to all who are engaged in the business of hiring and letting. It is a fact that the business of hiring and letting is a very important one, and that it is one which is becoming increasingly so. This is because the business of hiring and letting is a very important one, and that it is one which is becoming increasingly so. Sydney, Dec. 9.—The High Court has refused the request of Mr. Walsh and Mr. Johnson, who on Nov. 20 were arrested by the Government and held for 14 days, to grant them writs of habeas corpus.

It is believed that the High Court's decision will be a landmark in the history of the Commonwealth, and will be a severe blow to the Government's policy of using force to suppress the seaman's strike.

THE MULTI-WHEELED VEHICLE.

Advantages of New Design Models.

There are almost unlimited opportunities in the field of transport for the use of six-wheeled and eight-wheeled motor vehicles, and Mr. A. F. Murray, vice-president and chief engineer of the International Motor Company, in an address recently before a meeting of the Metropolitan section of the Society of Automotive Engineers in New York City, pointed out many advantages which a heavy-duty motor vehicle may possess over the ordinary four-wheeled motor vehicle, but when about concrete benefits the standard four-wheeled motor transportation a demand will be made for a vehicle that will accommodate the maximum weight or passenger loads in the minimum of street space.

SPACE AND SAFETY.
These vehicles must be designed so as to permit speeds comparable with common sense and safety. They will offer the same passenger capacity and will prove of great value in hauling portable goods over long distances in quantities large enough to necessitate strictly economic operation. The growing need for more economical transportation is paving the way for larger vehicles. There will be a demand in the future for many kinds of highways and developed many of larger vehicles than at the present time.

SEVEN-WHEELED CARRIAGE.
Last October Mr. Murray's own company completed a six-wheeled motor coach of the new standard type, which has been described as having a load capacity of 12,000 lbs. It has two driving axles at the rear and one at the front, behind the chassis including bumper, front end, and motor. The front end is 24 ft. long and 6 ft. 6 in. wide, and the rear end is 24 ft. long and 6 ft. 6 in. wide. The motor is a 100-horse-power six-cylinder motor. It is driven by a 100-horse-power six-cylinder motor. It is driven by a 100-horse-power six-cylinder motor. It is driven by a 100-horse-power six-cylinder motor.

A good gun is worth preserving.

MURKIN was the name given to the mysterious disappearance of the motor car which was found in the back seat of a motor car. The car was found in the back seat of a motor car. The car was found in the back seat of a motor car. The car was found in the back seat of a motor car.

Sustained energy would be impossible upon a diet consisting solely of one dish. A well-balanced meal is essential. Your motor engine cannot sustain energy at the expense of the others. A well-balanced motor fuel is essential. In Shell all the hydrocarbons are perfectly balanced to assure good mileage as well as easy starting, and the utmost horse power, without pinking.

SPORTING ROADMEN. CORRESPONDENCE.

Disadvantages of Perfect Mechanism.
NOISY MOTOR CYCLES.

Amongst the older generation of motor-cyclists there exists a species of apprehension towards certain "improvements" and "fads" in machinery which add to what may be called the "road noise" rather than the "sporting side" of motoring. Representing, in fact, the attachment of a larger engine to certain models, the advantage of the earlier motor vehicle is now being lost, and it is likely to be degraded. It stands for conservatism, and perhaps a poor opinion of those who desire to strive in luxury and to be found to be as possible from any old spot general reconstructions which are made. Perhaps says the Captain, the usefulness of the "old" to the minds of those old time motor-cyclists, and the "new" to the minds of those who are not so old time.

LESS SATISFACTION.
By no means without sympathy, a realization of the fact that the addition of refinement has greatly reduced the number of the human satisfaction derived from motoring difficulties. They have seen personal responsibilities quickly and by no means slowly supplanted by mechanical perfection. The cars they drive today have countless complications with whom they fought side by side against opposition, and now, through with its spirit of all obstacles. They have become a specially prepared "species" of "sports" type, but their owners are generally prepared to accept of them as never before being the "noise" of the old.

APPEARANCES.
To a large extent they must react against the "sporting" appearance rather than sporting appearance, because of the fact that the maintenance of their appearance is a matter of great importance. It is a matter of great importance. It is a matter of great importance.
