NEW FLOUR MILL AT NJORO.

Building during construction.

Baker Floor.

There is being erected at Njoro, for Messrs. Fynn Ltd., an entirely new flour mill, and Apple passing through Njoro has to date absorbed the high building, which is visible far below around. Both the building itself, which is entirely of steel, and the complete new plant, have been supplied by Messrs. Thorneycroft & Son, Ltd., of Buxton, Lancashire, and the machinery is being erected under their supervision.

Miss M. K. Drown in imperturbable mood during her match with Miss M. K. Drown, the American, at Winkfield. In final rounds made her opponent do all the running. She won 6-2, 6-3, but Miss Drown made a fine fight, and was warmly applauded at the finish.

The Mombasa-Nairobi Road.

Now REFERRED TO BE GREATLY IMPROVED.

M. J. D. Gibson writes as follows: I received a call on Saturday, 19th June, from a Mr. J. H. Spence, who has just returned from a trip by the new road. He is a very experienced driver, and is a member of the Mombasa-Nairobi Road Committee. He has just returned from a trip of 100 miles, and he says that the new road is a very good one, and that it is a great improvement on the old road.

There was no lack of speed of the new road. It was a very good road, and it was a great improvement on the old road. It was a very good road, and it was a great improvement on the old road.

Songhor.
[From One Day's Correspondence.]
The event of the week has of course been the announcement of the marriage between Miss W. H. Hervey and Duncan Irvine, or "Ginger," as he is affectionately called by his friends and not a few acquaintances of the bride.

Over about nine are the core of the day and the road throughout the district are of course practically impassable again. There appears to be more than the average amount of rain since prevailing southerly and a moderate breeze of 10 to 12 m.p.h. is the rule. Attacks of the local fever form of malarial parasites associated with the advent of rains are at this season more numerous than these days and strongly enough the latest malarial miasma seems to have broken its customary habitations. There is no doubt that the rapid deterioration which is taking place in the district is contributing in no small degree to the general demoralization of the occupied tract and that in no region will fewer than three deaths should not, within a few weeks, be reported as having occurred.

The point of view of the trial has been considerably relaxed. The Government has decided to grant a special grant of £10,000 per annum for the purchase of land situated fairly centrally for most purposes.
