A Dozen Good Reasons Why the CASE is a BETTER Combine

Harvesting and threshing grain under the old methods, takes and sometimes months to complete the harvest. With the hervester-thresher there is only one operation, which reduces this time to neede and sometimes even days. The farmer can wait until the grain is in the best condition for harvesting and he is not so dependent on weather conditions.

SAVES GRAIN.

With every handling of grain there is a loss. This may be the result of shattered grain, loss in handling, loss through birds, rodents, ste. By pitting the grain from the field directly into the sack, all of these losses are eliminated.

SAVES LABOUR

The harvester-thresher reduces to a minimum the number of horses and equipment required. During a hargester-threater makes the grain grower independent of outside help. It enables him, also, to bundle larger acreage than he otherwise could.

PARLIER PLOWING.

By the use of the harrester-thresher, the field is immediately ready for early plowing, which not only requires power, but, also, is beneficial in fighting words, acving valuable moisture, increasing the water-holding capacity of the soil and improving the physical condition of the soil.

EASY TO HANDLE.

The Case harvester-thresher is very easy to handle. One man on The Case harvester-threshie is very easy to handle. One man on the opprative higherm controls presenting the entire operation of the combine. A difficult wheel operated from the judaterm controls the halpin of the handler. Thereigh the recisense at 6th top of the median-saltors the operator to keep in close toods with the cleaning operation at all timess. The platform being situated high up in out of the first and dies and also popular which operator a clear view of the whole machine as he can covere all of the operations.

STRONG CONSTRUCTION.

The cape ingresses therefore is constructed of the strongest materials, until part being units for them units in themself. From it is in our largest rigidly treated, with planning that the cales. The straw rack is of paralleled that side and in no for an around a fill parts not of steel. Wheely are of great strength and are of special Case construction. The muchile is constructed for withstand the shocks and straint which are daily appropriated by the fault.

When service is required because of accident or other cause, it is seemtial that new parts be obtainable in the least possible time. Our dependable and prompt service is a big-asset to the owner of a Case.

LIGHT DRAFT

The large where 12 inches wide and 54 inches in diameter, carry the major portion of the weight of the threather. The grain whoel is also large being 54 mohes in diameter with a 6 inch face. On the Case this grain wheel carries only 800 pounds instead of the mount 2500 rounds. The front wheel is 32 inches in diameter with a 40 inch face, being amply large for the weight carried. All wheels are easily lubricated With the wagon attached to the combine there is also-lutely no side draft. Under favourable conditions the combine is easily pulled by the Caterpillar 2 ton tractor

The machine has large calpority and will handle, say, grain; whether a be forty hushed wheat or ten bushel, ghost, and save the grain chilvering it in a slean condition to the wagos about. ¹This is assured because of its large separating surface and method of ingristion.

EFFICIENT MOTOR.

The motor is of ample power and is dependable. Mounting the motor rigidly on the frame of the combine lessons vibration and arouse riginity on in erame of the continue lessons, vibration and increases the life of both the motor and combine...A positive governor regulates the ageed of the motor, unsintaining a smillerin appeal at all leads, an extremely important factor in fast, clean threshing. This power is utilized in driving all working parts of the combine.

It is important in a combine that the grain be fed to the feeder ouse and then to the cylinder in a steady stream to assure of good. elean work. Only two canvasace are used—a large canvas going from the header direct to the feeder-house and a top canvas over the spout leading up to the feeder-house. This assures a constant alream to the feeder-house. From here a chain and alat carrier in conjunction with a down beater, assures a steady atream into the cylinder. In the Case combine there is no stopping because of elogged cylinder or

THOROUGH CLEANING.
