COLONIAL CONFERENCE CONCLUDES.
 The Colonial Conference has approved the scheme of the Agricultural Technical Research Organisation set out in the report of the Committee on the subject, and has authorized the Secretary of State to appoint a committee to work out a detailed scheme for submission to the Government.
 The Conference was of opinion that the scheme should be administered by the Colonial Office.

THE E.A. OFFICE IN LONDON.
 The first Administrative Report of the activities of the E.A. Office in London has been received in Kenya and lengthy extracts are given below.
 From the point of view of Kenya it is of interest to note the criticisms of obstacles placed in the way of increased white settlement. The Colony still a considerable number of pupils because the London Office had been hindered of openings. Another difficulty was the unwillingness of these pupils to pay to the employing farmer a premium. This was a small salary.
 One of the most important handicaps to settlement is the absence of any official assistance in East Africa to new settlers and the territories in the absence of land settlement schemes assisted passages, etc. The Report says that detailed principles for the conduct of the office have been laid down by the Kenya Government and other territories are following suit.

Petrol economy without a parallel

Owners of the new 1927 model Buicks are reporting mileages as high as 22 and 24 miles per gallon of petrol and 1,500 miles per gallon of oil.

Considering the great power of these new Buicks -- their matchless acceleration and speed capabilities -- their ample size -- weight and strength, what rival car equals or approaches the new 1927 Buicks in fuel economy?

and give or be related accordingly. So far, our enquiries have not taken us into the reserves and among the houses of the labourers the latest Labour Commission, was specifically directed from consulting its enquiries with reference to the subject of those arising out of development of alienated areas. But the success of any enquiry and of any policy depends on the African and the whole value of all reports upon the present time rests upon the willingness of the labourer to be worthy of his hire and upon his general mental attitude towards the habits of work. We shall always maintain that every labour enquiry which does not address some evidence of the mind of the labourer falls short of completeness. It may be difficult to get the evidence and that is what is related to only in order to be drawn general and definite conclusions from it, but conditions are becoming more and more favourable to such an enquiry and the rapid progress which is being made by the younger generation of Natives and the development of the present alienated system of local government within the reserves is destined to supply a wealth of data on the labour question; there has been no other aspect of our problems of development which is so industrially or politically subjected to the same diligent investigation and study from one side. We have consulted those enquiries on administrative officers and as employers of labour; we have as a community provided our own views and experience, not at all restricted, but we have been able to form a fairly complete picture of conditions. As a community, however, we have never in the past been able to express his opinion or explain any grievances or aspirations from which his material life may suffer and we have been inclined to regard the labourer as a class of natives and a nation made according to our varying individual conditions which will need liberally to certain conditions.

greater use of mechanical aids to agricultural development, etc., are permitted to operate and encouraged to extend a beneficial influence upon the economic situation. The Commission very wisely analysed itself with a concrete issue. The enquiry was directed towards discovering the extent of development in agriculture and to the best extent in industry within the last three years, the data of labour provided for each operation, the approximate strength of the labour force and the percentage of annual increase in that portion of the force which had come out to work in the field. Faced with the two sets of figures and having made most of the probable and generous allowances, the Commission came to the conclusion that the present sources of labour supply are insufficiently elastic to carry on the development of the Colony with African labour and has been carried on for several years. There is no immediate need to explore outside alternative sources of supply but at the same time it is not entirely probable that the country should make itself acquainted with methods of organisation elsewhere and discover to what extent those methods can be adapted to the conditions in Kenya. In addition the Commission have stated the many recommendations for development of the country which have proved in some representative employers and have communitarily widened the scope of their enquiries. The impression that the improvement in the labour supply depends on the improvement of the individual employer's willingness voluntarily to employ more; seems to be unfounded; we have regard to the relative increase of the number of workers which have proved which occurs from good farming practice. It is of course in general true that the wide margin of profit which accrues from good farming practice. It is of course in general true that the wide margin of profit which accrues from good farming practice. It is of course in general true that the wide margin of profit which accrues from good farming practice. BEIRUT

BAGDAD

Buick carries the Desert Mail

Oil discovered in Iraq!

Overnight sleepy Bagdad became a feverish center of commerce. Transportation facilities were swamped—mails delayed. By the established trade route, Bagdad was 30 days from London.

A new way, and a shorter one, had to be found to carry passengers and the mail to Bagdad. The motor car suggested itself. And the difficulties of the situation suggested Buick. The route chosen was an abandoned camel trail, leading from Beirut on the Mediterranean—500 miles through the mountains and across the Syrian Desert.

This happened two years ago. To-day Major McCallum of the British Army and the Nairn

Transport Company has this to say of his fleet of Buicks:

"I should always use Buick again under the same circumstances.
"This car maintains a high speed for hours on end.

"It has the power to carry excessive weight over two ranges of mountains and the desert, without overheating. Our cars go to Bagdad and back again, 1000 miles, without adding a drop of water to the radiator."

Buick quality and design produce a reliability of performance known and spoken of all over the civilized world. Whenever there is hard work to be done, Buick is the car to do it.

THURSDAY, JUNE 2, 1927

An Unreliable Labour Force.
According to the Agricultural Census the percentage of women and juvenile labour in use of Kenya varies between approximately 20 per cent. in December and 22 per cent. in March and it is thought that a large proportion of women and juveniles employed on daily tasks in the coffee picking season are not shown on the returns to the Agricultural Department from which these figures are compiled. The Report of the Labour Commission suggests that during the April-September period at least twenty-five per cent. of the labour units may be women or juveniles during the October-March period 10 per cent. The proportion of women and juveniles employed in the industries outside agriculture is negligible so that the factor in the position represented by this type of employee operated almost exclusively in the economic position of the main industry to which the progress of the Colony is inseparably dependent. The Labour Commission Report makes no mention of dealing with adult male labour; it sets out the number of men required for the proper performance of that task. The Commission accepts the employment of women and children as a source of labour supply likely to continue and in serving as a valuable differentiates between the number of adult males and the number of children who go to make these totals but we can nowhere find any suggestion that reliability in development is given to relatively high on the principle of juvenile labour in the allotted areas and it seeks the support of Rhodesia before on the subject. We draw attention to this aspect of the labour situation in Kenya not to disparage the Report of the women Commission but to point out what, in our opinion, is a weakness which would receive adequate thought. The whole of the theories of our social policy—education and medical in particular—rest entirely on the assumption of an increased in the numbers of women and children who labour at unskilled work outside the reserves. The Native Councils are seeking powers to use their own people for purposes of providing education; we see evidence of every hand in every report that the demand for education is one of the most insistent and desperate indications of the rapidity of native development and we are setting up systems which are being rapidly applied in the course of some years, to provide for the educational wants of African children in their own villages. Among the women, social work and the in-formation of women through their own very slowly developing institutions and the traditional and the African reserves is a study being undertaken to improve her status in the social sphere as ever before. This is a study being undertaken in our country. As a community we are depending upon the satisfaction of that improved status of women as an indication of the progress which they will bring to bear, even as a partial basis upon which the young man to associate himself with work which will provide him a means of employment for life for the women. We are bent upon improvement in social conditions and domestic relations; we even feel that we ought to break down the custom which encourages a man to marry a second wife, even as a matter of fact, we believe that it is necessary as soon as possible to make a man free to marry a second wife to be treated as an equal to his first and which we speak of development of our reserves; we wish that we

General Manager Addresses East African Section of London Chamber.

General Manager of Tanganyika in the Inter-Colonial Council.
 C. O. N. Felling, General Manager of the Kenya Uganda Railways, has been addressing the East African Section of the London Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

Mr. Felling said that the present conditions were not as good as had been suggested and the loan burden in 1929 would stop him from believing they would carry all the burden.

He pointed out the hope of reduction of port charges for some time to come.

He suggested the inclusion of Tanganyika in the Inter-Colonial Council to avoid unfortunate competition.

He also mentioned the fact that the railway was not yet completed and that the Government was not yet in a position to take any further steps.

GOVERNOR GENERAL OF S.A.
Becomes the representative of H.M. the King.
THE PRIME MINISTER.
General Sarda Brins Walkers of Dual Representation of King and Nation.

According to General Herring the decisions of the Imperial Conference in the minutes of the Dominion means that in future the Governor-General of S.A. for example, will be a personal representative of H.M. The King, and not of the British Government who will presumably appoint another official for that special task. General Sarda Brins Walkers in English representation and hopes that the Governor General will act in the dual capacity.

An important statement on the position of the Governor-General of S.A. and the situation of the S.A. Government in respect of the appointment of a diplomatic representative was made by the Premier (General Sarda Brins Walkers) in the House of Assembly recently. General Sarda Brins Walkers stated that the Premier had said it was his intention to submit the position of the Governor-General to the House to get an opportunity of agreeing by a vote. He therefore called upon the House to elect a number of important points, including the position of the Governor-General, the position of the diplomatic representative, and so on.

GENERAL HERRING.
It is to be noted that the Governor-General of S.A. is not a representative of the British Government, but a representative of H.M. Majesty. The Governor-General will therefore be a representative of H.M. Majesty, and not of the British Government, which will be represented here by a specific person, which we have no doubt will be decided in the first place, as to whom they will appoint here to act as Liaison with the Government and the Union.

NO AMBASSADOR.
There is a matter which still has to be dealt with. The Premier has suggested that the Government should be done. But the question of form, and

ECONOMY

The most important factor is ECONOMY OF OPERATION. Correct design in the "Caterpillar" converts the minimum power at the drawbar. Non-slipping tracks avoid slipping wastes of power. "Caterpillar" Tractors have rightly earned their reputation for accomplishing things impossible for any other type of tractive power. Where even horses cannot get a good footing or can pull only a light load, the "Caterpillar" makes its own footing and converts its power into pull.

Reduced Production Cost Increased Yields and Profits
Thousands of Farmers all over the World have Accomplished These Results with CATERPILLAR TRACTORS
