His Majesty the King Said:

The same causes which render it necessary for individual firms to spend large sums of money on advertisements, in order to maintain their position in a particular trade, also render it imperative that every effort should be made at the present day to maintain and improve the reputation of British manufacturers as a whole. Experience has shown that, even in the case of firms having an established reputation and worldwide connections, attempts to discontinue advertising have usually been followed by a diminution of the sales effected, and it is not unreasonable to assume that the neglect by Great Britain of one of the most important forms of national advertisement would be equally detrimental to her interests as a manufacturing country.

Speech by King George, April 5th, 1909.

EXCHARGE—The Bank transacts all index of Exchange business and issues brafts on the Head Office in London, and than in earlier years the present system can no longer cope with the Country's needs and we would suggest the gradual doption of a system of subsidizing medical en throughout the country—Medical Offi pers of Health and Specialists being alone etained as civil servants proper—we ould suggest that the country be mapped out into districts and each district subs dized. In more thickly populated Districts the Government subsidy to a Distric Surgeon might be £100 a year and i sparsely populated districts, or in district where the climate or conditions are unsafisfactory, the subsidy neight be as high at 1230 to 4300.
