CHICAGO ELECTIONS.

THOUSANDS OF POLICE GUARD POLLS.

Street Patrols to Prevent Bomb Throwing and Shooting.

(TRIBUNE BUREAU'S ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
NEW YORK, April 10
There were lively scenes at the final elections at Chicago to select party candidates for the various State and Federal offices for which the final elections will be held in November, and also to choose delegates to the national convention for the selection of presidential candidates in the summer.

Almost every policeman in the city plus thousands of volunteers are guarding the polls.

The rival candidates for the governorship of Illinois are Mr. Small the present Governor who is backed by the Mayor, Big Bill Thompson and the Republican faction, and the Senator Denmark.

Alderman Hafta disappeared this morning. He is believed to have been kidnapped to prevent his participation in the election.

Application to be Reconsidered in Committee.

(By Telegraph.)
Nairobi, Thursday, April 10, 1936.
Regarding an application by the Uganda Missionary Society for a five-story building for a Women's Hostel the Town Planning and Public Health Committee of the Nairobi Town Council has declined to recommend it, and has pointed out the following reasons:
(1) Of the land earmarked for residential purposes only a portion of 7 1/2 acres available for the building is in the hands of the Lady Grace Waverley.
(2) A prior application for a similar building was refused last year on the grounds that there was no land available in view of the restrictions.
(3) Land well more probably be required for Native Location Superintendents' quarters on future date, and further building site ground available for residential purposes.
(4) This application is granted on no site actually shown, and other applications from other denominations can be set aside, which would be difficult to refuse.
The Committee had the following remarks to make regarding the plot already held by the C.M.S. B.28. (A) The present building erected by a Church, native clergyman's house, two blocks from the site proposed for housing. If these buildings had been erected in a more appropriate manner there would be ample room for a hostel on the site, and even now ample ground for the hostel could be obtained, especially if one native housing building had been there when given up to the hostel.

EAST AFRICA IN LONDON.

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT]
London, Monday.
The East African Section have recently been working hard this last few weeks, and the result of work last week will be published in the British, Indian and French editions. Major Colver Ward has assisted Sergeant Major Wood in his work. He will be in the office at the latter name although he has several volumes of articles were removed, they were sent from the point of view of the magazine that the reader would rather see what some of our ideal home in the Exhibition. The Exhibit which is a much smaller one than that at the B.I.F. and which is rather difficult to find for the ordinary visitor, is set out with this point in mind. These round the walls are distributed photographs of different homesteads in East Africa connected with the different activities. We see therefore a Stock Farm homestead, a homestead, a coffee plantation, tea and tobacco which display our products most prominently for use in the house, hold some or coffee, olive, tea and so on. So far the sale of products, and from what I have seen in many instances, I would guess that the average visitor would be able to find the products. One woman I saw said that she had been looking for a coffee, she had and having found Kenya, would never see another. In this connection I might also quote the remark of the Lord Mayor of London which earned the Exhibition, with the Lady Merwen and the Sheriff. When he came to the East African section he said "I know the Eastern African Dependencies and the very excellent Kenya and the products have been very good indeed. Major Colver Ward was especially impressed by the fact that all the articles displayed in different booths are on sale all over the Exhibition proper and a special effort to visit the East African section to buy East African products. Although the Exhibition process is a great success and although these buyers do not come in the same numbers as at the B.I.F. the Colony seems to be getting a part of the publicity it has not approached before for a very long time."

The East African Exhibition has been very successful in the White City, and it is thought that the result has been done to popularize the products and producers of the Colony. Major Colver Ward appears all his time at the White City, and was able to give me some useful and practical information.

The recent arrivals of the East African Division in the Exhibition Office have I have been busy with the work of the Exhibition. I do not think the Agency office in the East African section. They are very energetic in their work. I have seen and they are in the Exhibition in which I have seen very striking external advertisement in the East African section. The effect of this being rather a surprise to me. I do not think the Agency office in the East African section. They are very energetic in their work. I have seen and they are in the Exhibition in which I have seen very striking external advertisement in the East African section.

Mr. Clifford G. Moore, of the Uganda House of Whitehall and Uganda, left Southampton on Friday with Mrs. Moody after a holiday at Home.
Mrs. Patrick Ross is to address the Royal Geographical Society on March 19 on "The White Nile to Hama". The meeting will be held in the Alhambra Hall, New Bond Street, at 8.30 p.m.
Mr. J. J. B. Jones, whose death in Belgium at the age of seventy, is reported to have entered the service of the Royal Geographical Society as Vice-Governor. He played an important part in the Sudan office, and in 1907 was appointed to represent the Colony. His State at the conference held in London for the regulation of Africa and the protection of the fauna of Africa. In May 1912 he succeeded Major Wells as Governor-General of the Congo (which had been annexed to Belgium four years previously) and was still in office on the outbreak of the Great War when he is believed to have written a dispatch on the subject of the withdrawal of Lubwa, Lake

Uganda and Inamham as Kenya is always in the foreground and is very carefully read and the very urgent need of propaganda of this nature.
The East African Dinner Club will hold its first Dinner, under the new auspices, on Monday, the 12th inst. at the White City. Mr. Charles Elliott will preside. His speech will reach this country on the previous date and will be read under its new auspices. The organizers are doing their best to make the Club would undertake the East African Commission on their return, but I understand the African Society intends to do this in due course.

Among the visitors this week to the East African Agency were Mr. H. A. Gilkes of Whitehall, and Colonel. From Mr. Kenia, in Kenya, East Colonel C. E. H. Gray of Nairobi who is now acting as Brigadier and Mrs. Laura Gray of Nairobi who is the wife of Rear-Admiral Blunt.
Mrs. Owen, wife of Archbishop Owen of Kenya, recently gave an address in Richmond on "The East African Exhibition."

Mr. Florence Biddell, a new book which is entitled "The Many Faces of Africa" was published within a few weeks.

Work Among African Women.

It is only a few days since we recorded our appreciation of the presentation of the movement begun with Government approval and support to approach the immense problem of the emancipation and development of the African woman—a task undertaken by enthusiastic and independent upon the growth and encouragement of the whole Colony—a task which cannot and should not be regarded as a glance on a political platform or as a self-styled lobby. The scheme has received a check almost before it has been born. The Town Planning and Public Health Council recommended to the Council on Tuesday that the application for a site at Punjumbi be not granted. The Committee gave as its reason the restriction of the new allocated recreation through grants for educational work, the probability that consent would be followed by applications from other religious denominations and, finally, what they regarded as the ill-planned and developed conditions of the area which would be given in Punjumbi Society. It is also considered that the area suggested is unsuitable for the purpose, on the grounds of its position of the committee. His reply is, in effect, an appeal to the public opinion of the Town Council upon an indirect emphasis upon their own responsibility in the care and welfare of the native peoples of Nairobi. The Council, guided by their advice, were unable to accept the recommendation of their Committee and the matter has been referred back to that body for further consideration. There was much enthusiasm, but the first is that an alternative site should be offered on the Bannockburn, second is that the official extension of Punjumbi, located across the Nairobi River will provide space for the requirements of the recreation championed by the present committee. We feel sure that the subject has not yet received sufficient consideration. Its dividends are too true, in their widest enthusiasm, to precipitate action. There is insufficient notice of the recognition of the need for planning ahead of time, the relation of new schemes to existing buildings and future necessities. It should be the emancipation of the African woman, a duty which falls on the Colony as a whole, it is a compulsory duty placed upon the white community in their self-imposed obligation as trustees of the interests of the primitive peoples to whom they have introduced an alien civilization. It is more than a duty, it is a moral obligation. The Government provided for the discharge of this duty by the Government of the country. The Government realize that this is a task which requires a special knowledge and special qualities to those who are entrusted with the task. It is a task which requires a special knowledge and special qualities to those who are entrusted with the task. It is a task which requires a special knowledge and special qualities to those who are entrusted with the task.

WALKED THROUGH FIRE UNSCATHED.

Europeans Watch a Hindu Rite.

NO BURNS.

The Indian temple at Udhakur Durban, was the scene of a religious excitement on the occasion of a number of ardent followers of the Hindu faith passing through the ordeal of walking barefoot over white-hot wood-piles.

In addition, to a concourse of many hundreds of Hindus, who, as pilgrims represented all the colours of the spectrum, large numbers of European spectators were present.

A number of Europeans attended by special invitation, including the King of Durban, and the Indian Commandant of Police, Major Webb Richards, who was accompanied by his wife. All were well gratified by the incident, who especially desired to secure authoritative European testimony to the fact that those who endure the ordeal by fire are attacked by their state of religious conviction to emerge from it unscathed.

Twelve Hindus, including one woman, walked through the fire. They were of all ages, from youth to senility. The woman, who has undergone the fiery ordeal on many previous occasions, is about 70 years of age.

Reputed Monk

The most interesting incident of the day was the performance of the Hindu rite by a reputed monk, who was accompanied by his wife. The monk, who is about 70 years of age, had undergone the fiery ordeal on many previous occasions, and is reputed to be a very devout follower of his religion.

Many of the devotees had had their feet, and some had their hands, scorched and blistered, but they were not injured in any way. They were all well, and some of them were seen to be in excellent health.

the quills emanated by any dose of levity or criticism, and it was driven to every man's ears that the extraordinary Hindu rite, which aims at the expiation of the sins of past generations by the generation of today, is a very real and living force in their lives.

The ceremony over, one saw hundreds of all grades and ages straggling eagerly to the fire, gathered up a few scraps of the still burning wood, using either saved or scraps of paper to protect their hands and carry these away with them to be preserved as sacred relics.

They then passed, performing the devotees were taken to the temple and a procession leading with the effigies of gods and other sacred symbols, and a limited number of the European visitors were permitted to pass in with them on condition that their baggage was first removed.

Examined by Doctors.

Next ensued what constitutes the most amazing part of the whole business, the inspection of the bodies and feet of the fire-walkers by the medical men from Durban, who, verified unanimously that neither the fire nor the medical men caused any injury to the Hindus, and left the smallest visible effect upon their bodies, save a slight redness of the face, some soreness about the sole of the feet, for which the Hindus were treated liberally with their hands to prove that the fire had in no effect upon them whatsoever. The aged Hindu woman was particularly noted by her companions with a shair she thrust out her feet to show that they were completely unscathed.

From the Hindu standpoint, as Mr. Taitton is a leading member of the Durban community, it is interesting to note that the Hindu rite is a very ancient one, and is still being performed by many of the Hindus in the Durban district.

LEADS THE WORLD IN MOTOR CAR VALUE

Unique Beauty — a 7-Bearing Motor and an Array of Costly Car Features

A pronounced advantage the De Luxe Standard Six Sedan enjoys over other cars in its field is its 7-bearing motor.

As contrasted to a Four or a Six still powered with the older type 3 or 4-bearing motor its performance superiority is so apparent that the almost unbelievable until you actually experience it.

You'll find it trigger-quick in getaway, of great power and speed, and with the supreme smoothness and quietness inherent only to the 7-bearing type of motor design. Its finely-molded body of genuine hardwood construction like the world's highest priced cars, is a symphony in blue, with the lighter shade of the body proper and the fenders handsomely set off by the darker tone of the upper body.

In the interior there is further evidence of costly quality for the Velma Mohlar Velvet is used for the upholstery, the steering wheel is of solid walnut, and the instrument board and window ledges are of walnut finish.

Among many notable attractions included in its standard equipment are front bumpers, bumpers, motor, 4-wheel brakes, and 5 disc wheels.

And Nash has set the price so low as to be little more than that of a Four or cheap Six.

INDIAN PRISONERS ON PROBATION.

The Punjab Government's Experiment.

REGULATION WORK.

The Punjab Government have for the first time begun an experiment in probation for the class of prisoners who are the object of special judicial attention. The provisions of the Good Court Prisons' Probation Bill, passed by the Legislative Council of that province, towards the end of 1928. Only a few months elapsed between the enactment of the law and the setting up of the machinery to carry out the beneficial scheme. Even with all the difficulties which have arisen, the experiment has been ably and successfully conducted and is merited by common-sense and mercy to flourish.

It has been instrumental in securing the usual average from prison of 100 fewer than the 200 convicted persons of each grade the latter class of those who are set on their feet to believe and to earn their freedom, rather than the whole of the period in which one of the 200 liberated prisoners can be judged from the 100 who are set on their feet. The many hundreds of other probation cases are working satisfactorily in various parts of the N.W. Provinces. There are 100 cases in the Punjab, which are being handled in the same way. The most successful experiment of the kind ever carried out in any country, and who have satisfied the highest authorities in their confidence and confidence that they are well adapted for probation.

Working on Farms. The prisoners are then set on their feet in the Probation Farms at Burewala, which is situated in the N.W. Provinces, or to private employers. There are two of these Probation Farms which are owned by the Punjab Government—one for adult and the other for Borstal lads. Suitable quarters are being constructed for the released men, many of whom will be permitted to reside with their families in the Punjab. They are at present living in tents and they can be visited there at their leisure. They are taught to work and are given a substantial allowance of money for their maintenance, which they provide themselves with food and other necessities of life. (The Borstal boys are given an outfit of clothing.)

The object of the Government is to induce the prisoners to save some of their earnings. The payment of wages, however, is not the only form of remuneration which the prisoners receive, for some of them will, it is hoped be tenants at will of the Government work. They are sent "abroad" upon there are at present about 200 prisoners at work on the Probation Farms, including both male and boys from the Borstals. The remainder of the prisoners are being employed and taken care of by individuals and others, who have signed a special agreement with the Probation Officer. Most of the privately employed men are set to the digging of canals and some of them earn a few more than the sum which is provided for by the terms of the agreement up to the present stage, the Punjab Government have decided upon continuing the reclamation work and the present year is expected to witness more releases than ever.

Andaric Flyed.
Commander Byrd's Next Venture.

The choice of a good base will be an important factor in determining the success of Commander Richard Byrd's proposed Antarctic flight according to Sir Edward North, F.R.S. the Secretary of the British Antarctic Expedition in 1907-1910 at Reims, France. When Captain Ronald Amundsen made his successful expedition to the South Pole, Professor Byrd declared that the base at the eastern end of the Ross Barrier at a place which is named Framheim, after his ship, was the best base for his expedition. It was relatively free from violent blizzards.

On the other hand, blizzards are very frequent near the Antarctic. When the Ernest Shackleton established his headquarters at South Georgia according to Professor David, would be responsible for conditions to be met.

Commander Byrd's headquarters were approximately near Captain Amundsen's base, he declared, he might reasonably expect weather of comparative calm that in order to explore the continent the aeroplane would have to be used. The weather of the Antarctic Area, where there is the great polar weather is more difficult to explore by airplane than the Arctic.

The weather band to disclose there should be less difficulty in exploring it. It has been established that the area to be explored is almost all land. Thus the ground does of the northern area will from aerial work formations have relatively smooth and there should according to Professor David, be little difficulty in finding good landing places.

"It is a matter of great interest," declared David, "to know where the Antarctic ice lies. They have been found to reach an altitude of 15,000 feet, and there are a great many peaks on the map from the point where they have been first sighted by the Americans."

The question whether they go north to the northern part of the "Greenland Land," he continued, or whether they break away to the east of "Walden Sea" or "Cape Land" has not to be decided.

SURE REMEDY FOR INDigestION.

You can stop digestive pain in several ways, but the actual cause of the trouble remains, to grow worse with each succeeding attack. If, on the other hand, you take a little "Bismarck Magnesia" in water after eating, you not only stop the immediate pain instantly, but you also remove the cause of the trouble.

"Bismarck" Magnesia is a complete treatment for indigestion, neutralizing excess acidity, promoting food fermentation, and soothing, healing and strengthening the inflamed stomach lining, which has become raw with irritation of harmful acids. All over the world, you will find "Bismarck" Magnesia used by people with a tendency to stomach weakness, and among them are the most experienced medical men.

"Bismarck" Magnesia is in both solid and tablet form. It is packaged to stay. It is the one sure remedy that ends digestive ills, where they start quickly and completely.

"OF THE ENER" INSURED RECALLED."

Vine-Admiral Collier, who was on board the ship in connection with the vessel.

At the Royal Naval School, Portsmouth, on November 4, 1906, a number of sailors were on parade in a rain squall. The men were orderly presented in the usual manner when the senior officer ordered the first rank, who were loosely dressed, to kneel to enable him to inspect and address the men.

Some of the men believed they had been ordered to kneel to the general. His orders, and the fact that the men were about to kneel to the general, were missed and the order was given to kneel to the general. The men in barracks with fixed bayonets on their rifles were startled.

Further details of the incident are given in the following day, and the officers were attacked, some of whom were being attacked.

Nine men were court-martialed and seven of them were convicted and sentenced to varying terms of detention. The remaining two were considered to be insane.

On December 5, 1906, a sailor who was convicted by court-martial of having given false evidence, partly to a single man on November 4, 1906, was sentenced to be hanged on a charge laid on November 4, 1906.

The Illinois Elections.

The amazing success which has characterized the primary elections in Chicago for the selection of candidates for the State and for presidential candidates, are inconceivable to the law-abiding Briton whose interest in a political campaign rarely extends beyond a casual attendance at a public meeting and the automatic recording of his vote on polling day. As a background to that apparent indifference he pursues an intelligent but undisturbed and generally unemotional interest in the major questions of the day. The development of Labour politics has added a certain dash of bitterness to British public life but it rarely seeks expression in mob action unless the issue is complicated by factors which affect the masses in their daily life and conditions of employment. Even then that outbreak is engineered and not spontaneous. For a parallel to the Chicago situation we must turn to the turbulence of Irish politics and it is perhaps not unjust to regard the "Big Bill" Thompson attitude in American politics as an outcome of the bitterness of Irish-American opinion so consistently and unreasonably opposed to everything British.

Mr. Thompson, the present Mayor of Chicago, held the same office during the fatal years 1915 to 1923 when the feverishness of the war period and the post-war reconstruction and settlement of outstanding problems between all big and extensive allowed full play to sentiment and female hoodlum emotion. The forces of darkness held sway not only in Chicago during many of those years and when the militancy spontaneity swept the polls in April last year, believes in clean elections and was again in danger. Mr. Thompson understands the mob mind and his appeal was all against a conspiratorial crowd who in the variety of their interests have little of the continuity and stability of the average voter. It is easier to his credit that he gave the noisier people a square deal. He consistently carried out a campaign of outspoken opposition to everything British. He went off against terms against the British Crown and he had the length of learning British history in the schools of the town. One "Big Bill" Thompson is indeed fixated in himself. He provides for the people a public life but the apparent success which has characterized the Illinois elections in the hundreds of less important movements which he initiates a movement which spreads tremendously in the possibilities of harm. The Illinois elections are of interest to British people and to America because of their obvious reaction against the absurdity and danger of the Thompsonian policy. There is a return to common sense, as there are everywhere, when the mob psychology after the forces of darkness have spent themselves. The recent improvement in Anglo-American relations and the general feeling of goodwill in the rejection by American opinion of the "Big Bill" Thompson and the alignment of American and British efforts to show an example to the world in restoring peace and order in the world has demonstrated the new complete understanding between the two English speaking nations in the interests of international stability. Mr. Thompson's agitation have been merely a flash in the pan and the results of the Illinois elections show that we are always satisfied, moderate and powerful in America. In no respect are we inferior to any other civilized country.

ABNORMAL EGGS

Under the heading of abnormal eggs may be classed all those that are not naturally laid, or small, misshapen, eggs, double-yolked eggs, streaked, shell-less, and those in which one egg is contained within another. Any one of abnormal eggs occurring in the poultry yard should be investigated promptly, as abnormal eggs are not only unprofitable but may be caused by the presence of the egg organs. It may be caused by wrong feeding, but should be immediately ascertained if the trouble can be put right with a little care.

A sudden bright scum being observed by boys or does is an occasional cause of an accident, but that hardly comes under this heading.
