OTHER NEPTUNE'S VISIT TO THE ROYAL SHIP.

Princess of Gloucester Expected to be One of His Victims.
ENJOYABLE LAST DAYS.

The Prince of Wales Spends an Hour in the "Maida" Engine Room.

By Wireless, Monday.
 Refreshing head wind and low temperature are the last days of the voyage most enjoyable.

The Dukes of Gloucester is not very fit and his eyes bother him, but the other members of the Royal are well and are taking an active part in the deck.
Another Neptune, King of the Deep, will board the ship to-morrow night and it is probable that the Duke of Gloucester will be one of his victims.

The Prince of Wales spent an hour in the engine room of the "Maida" discharging extensive knowledge of engineering engineering his position as Chief of Mercantile Marine.

AUSTRALIAN WATERSIDE WORKERS.

Urged to Offer themselves for Work.
A LEGAL FINDING.

(THE AUSTRALIAN ARGUS.)
 Melbourne, Sept. 24.
 An inter-State dispute of the Maritime and Transport Unions is being held today to determine "break to work" motion.

The chief obstacle is the difficulty of inducing the waterside workers to work with non-unionized unions who are assured of continuity of work under the new Federal Act just passed.

On the initiation of the signers Mr. Justice Dunnington in the Arbitration Court ordered the suspension with the exception of Fremantle, Adelaide and some of the other ports concerned in the dispute of waterside workers' award granting preference to trade unions.

Union Defied.
 The decision means that the award will be legally enforced in the waterside workers' industry. It is expected to replace the regular dock workers' award which has been in force since 1914.

PUBLIC HEALTH IN INDIA.

Two Institutes to be Established.

IMPROVEMENT PLAN

An important scheme for the establishment of a Public Health Institute at Calcutta and a Central Medical Research Institute at Dacca has been sanctioned by the Standing Finance Committee of the Government of India in September 1922 that the Standing Finance Committee and the Legislative Assembly approved, in principle a scheme for the establishment of a Central Medical Research Institute in India at the estimated cost of Rs. 24 lakhs (non-recurring) and Rs. 3 lakhs recurring expenditure of the Indian Government Committee, however, recommended that scheme be not proceed with.

The recommendation had to be accepted in view of the financial stringency prevailing at the time. The matter again arose before the Standing Finance Committee at its meeting held on 16th February and 13th August 1927, a resolution was passed for the appointment of a small committee of experts to examine the scheme at the light of developments that had taken place. The Standing Finance Committee agreed to the appointment of such a body. The Committee of experts which was presided over by Mr. Walter Pridmore, Secretary of the Medical Research Council of Great Britain met in India last year and submitted its report in March. The recommendation of the Committee was considered by the House with the technical assistance of Mr. Carter, a representative of the Rockefeller Foundation in New York for the establishment of a Public Health Institute in India.

The nature and scope of these two schemes, their probable cost and the present views of the Government of India on subjects related to the scheme of the Rockefeller Institute of Public Health are part of our original article and are published to confer great benefits on India by promoting medical research and providing up-to-date instruction in the methods of preventive medicine aimed to combat India's prevalent varied and numerous diseases.

Cost of Scheme.

The estimated expenditure of the Medical Research Institute at Calcutta has been estimated at Rs. 7 lakhs and the non-recurring at Rs. 7 lakhs. The total cost of the Institute at Dacca, including expenditure is estimated at Rs. 18 lakhs and the non-recurring at Rs. 10 lakhs of Rs. 600,000 the sum required for the maintenance of the Institute at Dacca. The Government of India, the Indian Research Fund Association from Rs. 7,00,000 to Rs. 1,00,000 a year and a further sum of Rs. 20,000 would be additional expenditure on the existing Central Medical Research Institute at Calcutta. The total would be retained only for the purposes of the maintenance of the Institute on the establishment of the Central Medical Research Institute.

In the case of the Public Health Institute, it is expected that the Rockefeller Foundation would like to defray the non-recurring expenditure estimate of about Rs. 10 lakhs of the site buildings, and equipment of the Government of India. It is expected that the Rockefeller Foundation would contribute a sum of Rs. 10 lakhs a year. Government would thus only bear the recurring cost.

The rough estimates mentioned are provisional and individual items which made up the total might have to be revised after further surveying. They represent, however, the main outline which would be the endeavour of Government to attain.

The scheme for the establishment of a Public Health Institute at Calcutta is expected to be sanctioned to have attached to the budget for current year. The Rockefeller Foundation is expected to contribute Rs. 10 lakhs and equipment would be distributed in the form of grants. The Government of India regarding the establishment of the Institute in New York and in October, 1928, and both schemes were placed before the Standing Committee in advance of the orders of the Secretary of State.

BRITISH FILM PRODUCTION IN INDIA.

A Scenario Read by the King.

THESE PICTURES

When the "News" of the London on the 14th Geoffrey Malins, the well-known film director, said that he had "booked" for some months. He is to be in India and the Far East to make three films to be shown in the most important of the three being that in which His Majesty is the hero.

This particular story concerns an important part of the Royal regalia. It was written by Sir Dawson Ross, C.I.E., and the completed scenario was finally approved by the King. This is the first time that His Majesty has associated himself with a phase of actual film production.

THE FIRST BABY.

Weaning.

By Helen Graham C.M.B., etc.

This can be such a difficult period, even for the best brought up baby, that it is almost invariably undertaken. Looking ahead to the period of weaning, the worst difficulties, and by showing the reasons that the time for the struggle should be chosen when baby is fit for it and not when his temper is already irritable and his gummy mouth and painful through teething. Cup feeding and spoon feeding are both so exceedingly painful to a teething infant, and personally I consider only common sense to allow an occasional return to the more comforting bottle, under such circumstances, always provided that further obstinate outbreaks do not occur in consequence when the trouble is over.

From the beginning it is wise to train the naturally "fed infant" to take his drinks of boiled water from bottles—in this way will come from him to the use of one in case of sudden or temporary weaning and his orange juice should be given from a spoon, to which he will be quite accustomed when the time comes for him to be introduced to cereal gruels and milk puddings. In this way two of the most common forms of fighting over weaning may be partially or even completely eliminated. The habit of getting out every unconsumed portion of food, or even vomiting in obedience, can only be overcome by tact and firmness, but it must be remembered that the natural non-robustness a baby derives from his earliest solid foods is diminished when the value of the lessons learned in connection with eating them is superseded, and the struggle, if widely conducted, is not as a rule laid down.

In the case of the naturally fed infant the time of transition from his accustomed germ-free food to one's milk is often fraught with difficulty and the time should be chosen when the mother's convenience thus as his mother's convenience thus one would avoid a time when the mother would be busy with her household, choosing one when he will be fed with milk at a minimum. It is a big wean for an infant to part from his mother and get used to what he will be fed, and so the weaning should be undertaken by a very inferior bottle, and so the mother should be unshowered, and never undertake weaning if it can be avoided.

THE BEST TIME.
He should, by rights, be weaned long before he can receive much from a cup, but unfortunately a large number of mothers begin to wean their infants during their nursing after four or five months. Of course this is often due to misunderstanding of the subject, and the trained baby trainer nurse could almost certainly re-establish the supply of feeding her ordinary life combined with nursing, and to wean her mother and the given up nursing. The country does not promote plentifully in European women weanants are usually weaning and it is always easy to get over-rid, but for the baby's sake the wean and fear of every day life should be performed as far as possible rather than the nursing given up for preventive weaning is really little short of a disaster both for mother and baby.

It is very well, however, for looks and experts to talk; the mother is not worth the candle, when one sees backlogs and diminished supply point to an unwise strain in nursing, and the trouble of feeding is not to be feared. To wean altogether however is a pity. For a mother feeding the strain too much a bottle fed at 2 p.m. will often give such marked relief, (by allowing a long period of rest between the 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. feeds) that nursing can probably be continued along these lines for another month or two at least. Another bottle at 10 p.m. or 8 p.m. may have to be introduced then, but wherever possible at least two nursing should be given (the 6 simplest) until baby has reached eleven months. For a baby who is naturally fed a nice month, weaning should be gradually introduced, one of the mother—rather a well known fact—should be given up first, and replaced by a milk mixture and a teaspoon or two of sugar or oat jelly, given from spoon. (not a bottle) with a spoon. To substitute baby. This is also recommended by some authorities at 6 p.m. but in my own experience this and should be interfered with as little as possible where there is any possibility of disturbed night, and not here babies often need to sleep in the evenings; it is difficult therefore to introduce the teat.

SPoon FEEDING.

By ten months both naturally and artificially fed infants should be getting used to spoon feeding and have been introduced up to taking 2 tablespoonfuls of cereal jelly at 10 a.m. (and 2 at 6 p.m.) with a little milk. (This should begin with only three teaspoonful at first, working up to six or seven tablespoonful at a year, the pushing being made with both milk and water and preferably sweet) they should be able to drink from a nursery mug and be gradually introducing bottles altogether. (Crisis, tough and unweaned, should be given just before made to teach drinking and stimulate digestion, but baby should never be left alone with them, and he should be taught to chew and not suck.)

By a year old baby should be taking about three tablespoonfuls of those things which at 9 and 10 months he began to taste, (provided they have suited him and not upset his digestion).

He will, from the 18th to 18th month have been provided to 2 1/2 p.m. meal in place of a milk feed, drinking with instead of milk and having other good foods, gravy, lightly boiled yolk of egg and crumbs, steamed mutton, milk pudding, or (and this is very good for him if he can easily digest it) a little well cooked light soft pudding with gravy, or syrup on it. Best pudding really well made (with fresh good stout finely chopped) is not nearly so indigestible as some of the old-fashioned "roy" puddings and is suitable in building up resistance to rotifers. (Only a little should be tried at first, but baby should not certainly lose it.) The natural baby will also appreciate the taste given in either of these books. I have seen so many lovely babies gradually having their health spoilt during their second six months that I cannot urge so strongly that the substitute should be given a little time and thought—what is a horrible enemy to the second child, and no mother can be too careful in preventing it.

water should be given as usual between meals, and there is generally very little time in the water and here, it is wise to ask your doctor whether some may not be added to baby's diet in the form of sodium lactate tablets (lime water being considered nowadays as very little use except as a digestive).

MILK TABLET.

As a general rule no baby should be put on to whole milk until nearly one and a half years old, and the transition from modified to undiluted milk should be carefully made. Excellent tablets, giving the quantities of milk, water, sugar and fat required by the baby on mixed feeding can be found both in "The Mothercraft Manual" by Mabel Lillford and "Feeding and Care of Baby" by Sir F. Truby King. It would be really impossible to deal at all adequately with such a very detailed and intricate subject here, but I can very confidently recommend the tables given in either of these books. I have seen so many lovely babies gradually having their health spoilt during their second six months that I cannot urge so strongly that the substitute should be given a little time and thought—what is a horrible enemy to the second child, and no mother can be too careful in preventing it.

The Prince of Wales. A Regular Fellow. Life on his Canadian Ranch.

In the following abridged article recently contributed to "Nash & Naggon's Fraser Hunt," novelist and rancher describes his first meeting with his Royal highness, the latter after his Canadian ranch

I don't suppose there has been any uncertainty in the world since the first ten years has been spent in speculation about the Prince of Wales.

But he and his partners have the genius of the front page headlines of the newspapers. His own articles about him, thousands of which fill the front page of the newspapers.

I've now never been myself in about every corner of the globe—word you fantastic look about the personal life of the royal family, his homeliness, his obvious and his commonness, his job, his shabbiness and his democracy, his virtues and his failures—every big and little, true and untrue detail of his existence.

Some of them I believed and some of them I didn't. But outside of meeting him, two or three times at formal receptions in London, I had absolutely no basis for saying this or judging him when most of what this young man really was.

Then a year ago I became the neighborly rancher up in the foothills of western Alberta.

Now the one way really to get to know a man is to be his neighbor, so I'm going to tell exactly how I came to know the young man who got into this fairly tough world, struck me.

From his ranch to mine is seven miles the way a crow might fly, and the way a horse galloped and twenty-five to the roundabout for road. Between the two houses is a small range of hills, and thousands of acres of grazing land.

When the Prince was coming out to stay on his ranch last summer, W. L. Carlyle, the manager of the Prince's ranch and a valued friend of mine, asked me if I would drive my car over and help him bring out the royal party from Calgary.

My car is a 1927 Buick, and I was the only one in the neighborhood who had a car of that make. I had absolutely no basis for saying this or judging him when most of what this young man really was.

THE ROYAL RANCHER.

But it didn't fall off after all, and about six o'clock we drove through the great, century-old cottonwoods and planted ourselves and drove up in front of his low, ramshackle, half-timbered ranch-house. I had planned to hurry back to my own ranch that night.

"Not a bit of it," the Prince looked back at me and said the night. Leave your car right where it is and come on in.

An hour later when we were seated at dinner he turned to me with a twinkle in his blue eyes and asked, "Have you a ranch or a ranch?"

"How do you mean?" I questioned.

"Well, a ranch is something that you support, while a ranch is something that supports you," he answered with a shrug.

"Well, I certainly still have a ranch," I replied.

"I'm not talking which I have," he laughed. "Then he said softly, "The people mean a 'ranch'—but just what I'm trying to do here

"Well, thank you," I answered, "but I don't believe I will be home riding that way all morning."

"All right if you're sure about it—then I'll keep an eye on it just the same." The monarch later told me Mr. Carlyle and I had not been back on the first seat all night.

Time and again I could not help right—made the very best thought—was entered over it than anyone else could, including myself. It was watching and watching the mountains creeping up, out of the west to meet me and none of us was worrying about that "ranch"—what is no one except the Prince.

Suddenly he turned to Mr. Carlyle. "Have you, have a ranch, Mr. Carlyle?" he asked with a smile.

"How do you mean?" I questioned.

"Well, a ranch is something that you support, while a ranch is something that supports you," he answered with a shrug.

"Well, I certainly still have a ranch," I replied.

The Royal Program.
The "Standard" learns that at 11 a.m. yesterday the Rev. Canon "Mads" was 575 miles from Nairobi.

The War Memorials.
Yesterday work was commenced on the erection of the War Memorials in Nairobi. The work is estimated to be completed by the end of the month.

To Be.
A meeting to discuss the possibility of forming a local branch of the I.C.M. was held at the Hotel Cecil last evening. The Rev. Canon "Mads" was the guest of honor.

A Thoughtful Act.
People using the vehicle used in the War Memorials will appreciate the arrangements made by the Postmaster General for making the telephone wires in order that they shall not obstruct the view of the monument.

Form Council.
The usual fortnightly meeting of the Council of the Kenya Colony was held yesterday afternoon. Mr. J. A. Wood presided. There were present: Messrs. Legg, Hilderson, Brown, Shapley, Wilby, Haines, Singh, Malik, Pate and the District Officer of Health (Dr. Hunter).

Unmistakable.
It is a case in the Resident Magistrate's Court yesterday in which the guilt of an accused native depended on the Crown successfully proving its identity. Mr. Greble in finding the accused guilty said that he was not particularly short and particularly ugly.

Women's and Children's Section at the Show.
Exhibitors for the Women's and Children's section of the Show are ready to see the Hon. Secretary, Mr. Mackenzie, at the Memorial Hall, Nairobi, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. on September 26th and 27th. After those dates exhibits should be delivered to the stewards in charge of the Section at the Show Ground.

"Black Monday."
When it became necessary to fix a date for the holding of a case in the Resident Magistrate's Court yesterday, Mr. Mackenzie thought it would be a very full week as that would probably be a "Black Monday" following the festivities which will be held on the date finally selected.

Essential Witness Missing.
An Indian, Changanji P. Patel, who was charged with being a possessor of Treasury notes, had been missed from all legal proceedings. Mr. Mackenzie yesterday was discharged by Mr. Greble in the Resident Magistrate's Court yesterday. The Magistrate said that he was satisfied that the witness was not essential. No satisfactory reason for the fact that the witness had not been produced had been advanced by the Crown, and the accused was kept in his cell until he had been yesterday.

Tractor V. Car.
At about 10.15 yesterday morning a tractor belonging to the Eastern Province Company and a motor car were involved in a collision at the junction of Government Road and the road leading to the Hastings Street which passes the Central Hotel. It is understood that the car and tractor were travelling in the direction of the Railway Station and the tractor was moving from the main road into a side street. The tractor was badly damaged, but the best wheel was not broken. No injuries were sustained by the occupants of the car.

SAYS A MEN'S CLOTHES EXPERT:

"Half the secret of well-fitting evening dress is a well-fitting dress shirt underneath it. Any man who isn't careless about his clothes knows this is true."

It is because Consulate Dress Shirts are tailored to fit every man's shoulders that they give a growing number of well-dressed men greater than regularity—and retaining all others.

Such close-fitting comfort they say! Such immaculacy of style! Such extraordinary resistance to laundry shrinkage! And such remarkably modest prices!

Consulate Dress Shirts are a wide variety of the finest materials, plain, striped, or French stripes, guaranteed of the best quality.

Styled by all good tailors throughout East Africa.

Energy gone—the evening's pleasure ruined

IGNORANCE of parents of the importance of a diet during a boy's daughter's adolescence may mean grave consequences.

In this period vital organs reach a climax. It is a delicate age when nature's demands for energy, and for fulfilment of the physical and nerve organs must be heeded.

Quaker Oats, abundant in vitamins, carbohydrates, mineral salts, is ideal for the diet of such a time. This makes it possible to combine the essential elements for perfect body structure.

Delicious in taste, easy to prepare, economical—the Quaker Oats form a part of the daily diet of the whole family.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.

There was some little gossip in about the fact that the Prince had fields with him. Finally it was said that the Prince had been seen in the party were described as being very noisy and going on as if they were in a school.

"Are you quite a soldier?" he turned to me and questioned.

"One of the very best," I answered.

"The am I?" he asked. "I am simply doing my duty. I am not a soldier, but I am a soldier's son."

"You are a soldier's son?" he asked.

"Yes, I am," I answered.

"You are a soldier's son?" he asked.

"Yes, I am," I answered.

BRITISH ARTIFICIAL SILK

Plans for the Fourth Exhibition.
EXTENDED SCOPE.
The fourth Exhibition of British Artificial Silk Goods organized by The Dreyfus Organisation will be held from January 15 to February 15, 1925, in the New Hall, Olympia, London. Mr. Herbert the Exhibition has been held at the Park Hall, whose limitations of space made it impossible to provide room for all these manufactures of artificial silk goods worthy to exhibit.

The opportunity of holding the Exhibition as Olympia requires less landings. The New Hall is the latest and most extensively constructed of all exhibition halls in London. It is quickly reached by the Underground and is centrally situated between the Victoria Station and the New Olympia is rapidly and makes throughout the world as the home of many of the most important commercial and industrial exhibitions.

Like in previous years the British Artificial Silk Exhibition will cover the whole of the wholesale and retail branches of the Textile and Allied Trades with an opportunity of examining the latest and most varied assortment of goods made wholly or in part of artificial silk which has ever been assembled under one roof.

The exhibitors will be given an opportunity for an even more extensive display of goods than in any previous year as all available space has been reserved for the exhibition of the British Artificial Silk Exhibition in 1925 will be covered by the exhibitors.

The exhibitors will also exhibit their own designs and patterns in the latest styles of artificial silk fabrics, there will also be exhibited the latest and most varied assortment of artificial silk goods.

Harmony of Design.
The general scheme of the Exhibition has been reconsidered and an entirely new and original design has been created. The three previous exhibitions organized by The Dreyfus Organisation have marked a new era in the architecture and arrangement of trade exhibitions. The 1925 Exhibition will show further advances in distinction, luxury and convenience of arrangement.

The design of the Exhibition has been placed in the hands of Mr. Joseph Emberton, A.R.C.A., who was responsible for the layout of the three previous Exhibitions.

Handling by the exhibition of the goods of textile display from the three previous Exhibitions. Mr. Emberton has been able to give the exhibitors a more beautiful and impressive.

The principal of the construction harmony of the stands, so much improved in the past has been retained, the aim being to provide the exhibitors with the maximum opportunity for the effective display of their wares. The stands will be simply of form, the fabrics themselves being left to create their own effect.

HONOURS STORES BY

GEORGE BERRY
 THE WORLD FAMOUS COMEDIAN

Illustrated by
 R. P. KIRKLAND

"Here is a volume packed with the tremendous fun of the Bobby kind, and as a souvenir really for anybody who may be recommended. All the world has laughed at and with Mr. Berry on the stage, but it may be doubted whether he is not even funnier in print, and those who have enjoyed the merriment from his Author's previous works will find the present book at least equally diverting. The volume is full of the cleverest and funniest, and the stories are not published for the first time."

"THE GATEWAY"

Two Unique Gifts to be Presented to His Royal Highness.

In the past week or two Mombasa has been undergoing a big and wonderful change. Always colorful, its natural beauty has been enhanced by a comprehensive decoration scheme to which all communities have contributed.

When Their Royal Highnesses enter the "Gateway of Kenya" they will experience a warmth of welcome which will leave no doubt in their minds as to the pride and gratification which their visit is occasioning—sentiments which are common to the whole of Kenya.

NEW SHIP OF THE DESERT.

A Strange Four-decked Craft.

IN THE SAHARA.

"The ship of the desert," the camel, which has carried man and merchandise over vast stretches of desert for many centuries, is being replaced by the motor-car and the aeroplane. But an odd place can transport only a few people and very small quantities of goods. If these were all that engineering science could offer to conquer desert ways for travel and trade, the camel caravan would still be a desirable mode of transport. It is a real "ship of the desert" in that it carries a vast load of goods. It is to be 1500, in length, nearly 300, broad, and 42½ high. The great 2000 wheels are "traced," so as to grip perfectly, and the "wings" will be driven by two 400 h.p. motors. It will have a "driving speed" of 15 miles an hour, and strong headlights will enable it to travel at night. While the fittest motor will naturally be chosen, it is believed it will be possible for it to negotiate inclines up to 30 degrees.

The Desert Lander.

Engineers, however, have, since the "Daily Chronicle" of late has been feasting the public's imagination with the world's unsuitable regions, where railways would be expensive failures, and now the first "desert liner" is about to be "laid down."

It is really a sort of sea steamer on wheels, designed to go where there are no rails or roads, and to carry a vast "passenger" load, as well as many tons of goods. It is to be 1500, in length, nearly 300, broad, and 42½ high. The great 2000 wheels are "traced," so as to grip perfectly, and the "wings" will be driven by two 400 h.p. motors. It will have a "driving speed" of 15 miles an hour, and strong headlights will enable it to travel at night. While the fittest motor will naturally be chosen, it is believed it will be possible for it to negotiate inclines up to 30 degrees.

A Four-decker.

It is to have four decks. On the topmost will be the "bridge" and the accommodation for the commander and his staff, to gether with a long "promenade deck." The top decks below will be occupied by the cabins for the passengers, the dining room, the reading and smoking rooms, the kitchen and the "hold" for the travellers' luggage.

OLD RACECOURSE AS SPORTS GROUNDS.

A Request from the Railway.

COUNCIL DECISION.

A letter was submitted to the last meeting of the Town Planning and Public Health Committees of the Nairobi Town Council from the Acting Commissioner for Local Government, Leno, and a statement requesting Council's concurrence in an application from the Kenya and Uganda Railway for Sports ground sites at the East Hill Road area which had been considered by the Town Planning Authority.

These sites were asked for in place of the grounds now occupied near the Railway Station, but which must be removed on account of the railway's extension. The Authority recommended that plots of sufficient size be provided in that portion of the old Racecourse suggested as an open space.

A further application had been received from the same Institute for allotment of a Sports ground to be close to the Kimbiri Road area which will be divided into building sites under the new Town Planning Authority's scheme. The issue of the ground grant application on July 1, 1929. The Authority recommended a reservation on similar lines to the case of the Railway.

After discussion it was resolved to recommend the principle of reserving the old Racecourse site as a Sports ground area to be agreed to by the Council. The above resolution will be presented to the Council on Monday.

On the lowest deck will be goods, motors, oil tanks, etc. The "ship" will be electrically heated and will carry a wireless installation. It is designed to carry 120 passengers and 200 tons of merchandise, while its radius of action means travel will be between three and four thousand miles. It will most likely be launched on the "shores" of the Sahara Desert for its maiden voyage to Timbuktu.

NEW SHIP OF THE DESERT. OLD RACECOURSE AS SPORTS GROUNDS.

A Strange Four-decked Craft. A Request from the Railway.

IN THE BARABA. COUNCIL DECISION.

"The ship of the desert," the name, which has carried men and merchandise over such a desolate track and sandy wastes had its reputation slightly shaken, but it was not to be dissolved as had been proposed by the Government. But use and place can transport only a few people, and very small quantities of goods. If there was any that engineering science could offer to conquer desert ways for travel and trade, that the railway should be built, such a construction would not be likely to disappear for a considerable time yet.

The Desert Liner.

Engineers, however, have stated the "Desert Liner" of late has been having the problem of transport over the world's inhospitable regions, where railways would be expensive luxury, and now the "Desert Liner" is about to be laid down.

It is really a sort of Nile steamer on wheels, designed to go where there are no roads or rivers, and to carry a substantial "passenger list" as well as many tons of goods.

It is to be 120ft. in length, nearly 30ft. broad, and 42ft. high. The great 200 h.p. motor will be 200 h.p. as to grip perfectly, and the "Desert Liner" will be driven by two 400 h.p. motors.

It will have a "revolving spar" of 25 miles an hour, and strong searchlights will enable it to travel at night. While the "Desert Liner" will naturally be shown to be believed it will be possible for it to negotiate inclines up to 30 degrees.

A Four-decker.

It is to have four decks. On the topmost will be the "living" and the accommodation for the passengers and the staff, to gather with a long "promenade deck."

The two decks below will be occupied by the railway passengers, the dining room, the lounge, the smoking and sunning room, the kitchen and the "hold" for the travellers' luggage.

A letter was submitted to the last meeting of the Town Planning and Public Health Committee of the Nairobi Town Council from the Acting Commissioner for Lands, Government, Lands and Settlements regarding a Council's committee on an application from the Kenya and Uganda Railway for specific ground sites in the Fort Hill Road area which had been considered by the Town Planning Authority.

These sites were asked for in plan of the grounds now occupied near the Railway Station, but which must be removed on account of the Railway extension.

Mr. Justice recommended that plans of sufficient size be provided in that portion of the old Racecourse suggested as an open space.

A further application had been received from the Town Planning Authority for the alteration of a Sports ground in exchange for the five acres now held by them in the Kinross Road area which will be divided into building plots under the new Town Planning Authority's scheme.

The limit of the present ground as plan on July 1, 1929. The Authority recommended a re-arrangement on similar lines to the case of the Railway.

After discussion it was resolved to recommend that the principle of reserving the old Racecourse site as a Sports ground area be agreed to and that grounds for the above applicants be reserved there in accordance with a layout to be prepared by the Municipal Engineer.

The Town Council accepted the Committee's recommendation on Tuesday.

On the lowest deck will be goods, motor, oil tanks, etc. The "rigger" will be electrically lighted and will carry a wireless installation. It is designed to carry 150 passengers and 200 tons of merchandise, while its radius of continuous travel will be between three and four thousand miles.

It will most likely be launched as the "Sheila" of the Sahara Desert for its main voyage to Timbuktu.

BOXING IN BRITAIN.

World's Title Fight at Clifton.
A GREAT CONTEST.

STANDARD CORRESPONDENT.
London, 24. One of the great days of British boxing had just passed at Clifton Stadium, in the afternoon of 20,000 spectators, there was a stage performance which was the means of bringing back to British minds the principal bout between Harry Hill, holder of the London lightweight belt, and Norman Brown, the American champion of the world. The fight was advertised as a winter on points. After a few minutes the fight was small, and both men fought well, and the result was a draw. The fight was a great success in every way, and the weight limit was not exceeded.

The foot was the better fighter, and on the score was for the American against the Englishman. The American was fast in his hands and a large proportion of them were barbed and felt to reach the mark. Hill relied on his steady straight to score points, and often would follow with light to the leg. For more than a third of the performance Hill had the advantage but Hill was the loser in the deciding stage.

Baldock's Victory.

The contest between Teddy Baldock and the world's champion champion, and John Brown, was a very interesting one, and before this fight was fought the latter had lost only two rounds in each of his two previous fights. He lost only two rounds in each of his two previous fights. He lost only two rounds in each of his two previous fights.

French Boxes Defeated.

After an exceedingly strenuous performance, the first round of the fight was a very interesting one, and before this fight was fought the latter had lost only two rounds in each of his two previous fights. He lost only two rounds in each of his two previous fights.

After eight rounds had been fought the Frenchman held a slight advantage in an even contest, but ultimately the Englishman won the fight.

The Englishman was a very interesting one, and before this fight was fought the latter had lost only two rounds in each of his two previous fights. He lost only two rounds in each of his two previous fights.

ROCKET DISPLAY.

Duke of Gloucester Acts as Judge at Juvenile Fancy Dress Parade.

"Standard" Special Correspondent on Board S.S. "Maida."

At Sea, Tuesday. His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has been making the acquaintance of the children with whom he is now a firm friend.

Last night having failed to make fireworks from matches he arranged a rocket display on their behalf.

This afternoon the Duke of Gloucester, judged the children's fancy dress parade and the Prince was also present to admire young Eira Africa.

NEW SHIP OF THE DESERT.

A Strange Four-decked Craft.

IN THE SAHARA.

"The ship of the desert," the motor vehicle has carried men and merchandise over "earth's dreary wastes and sandy wastes for long ages, but of recent years, had its supremacy slightly shaken, and has had to share by the deserting motor-car and by the aeroplane.

But one class has been left out—a few people, and very small quantities of goods.

If there were all that engineering science could offer to conquer desert ways for travel and trade, then the patient, plodding, man-eating wheel would not be likely to disappear for a considerable time yet.

The Desert Lion.

Engineers, however, have, states the Paris correspondent of the "Daily Chronicle," of late been facing the problem of how best to face the world's inhospitable regions, where railways would be expensive failures, and now the first "desert liner" is about to be "laid down."

It is really a sort of Nile steamer on wheels, designed to go where there are no rails or roads, and to carry a substantial "passenger list" as well as many loads of goods.

It is to be built on a length nearly 300, broad, and 42½ high. The great 300, wheels are "cogged," so as to grip perfectly, and the "liner" will be driven by two 450 h.p. motors.

It will have a "crushing speed" of 15 miles an hour, and strong searchlights will enable it to travel by night. "While the desert routes will naturally be chosen, it is intended to be possible for it to negotiate inclines up to 30 degrees.

A Four-decker.

It is to have four decks. On the topmost will be the "cabin," and the accommodation for the commander and his staff, together with a long "promenade deck."

The two decks below will be occupied by the saloons for the passengers, the dining room, the lounge, the smoking and smoking rooms, the kitchen and the "hold" for the travellers' luggage.

OLD RACECOURSE AS SPORTS GROUNDS.

A Request from the Railway.

COUNCIL DECISION.

A letter was submitted to the last meeting of the Town Planning and Public Health Committee of the Nairobi Town Council from the Acting Commissioner for Local Government, Lands and Settlements requesting Council's assistance on an application from the Hon. General Manager of the East Africa and Uganda Railway for sports ground sites in the Park Hill Road area which had been considered by the Town Planning Authority.

These areas were asked for in place of the grounds now occupied near the Railway Station, but which must be removed on so many plots of sufficient size be provided in that portion of the old Racecourse suggested as an open space.

A further application had been received from the Game Institute for allotment of a Sports ground in exchange for the first seven acres held by them in the Kinohia Road area which will be divided into building plots under the new Town Planning Authority's scheme. The date of the present grant, as announced on July 1, 1920, the Authority recommended a reservation on similar lines to the case of the Railway.

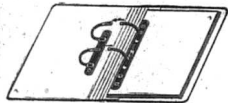

After discussion it was resolved to recommend that the principle of reserving the old Racecourse site as a Sports ground not be agreed to until that ground for the above applicants is reserved there in accordance with a layout to be submitted by the Municipal Engineer.

The Town Council accepted the Committee's recommendation on Tuesday.

On the lowest deck will be seats, tables, etc.

The "liner" will be electrically lighted and will carry a wireless installation. It is designed to carry 150 passengers and 500 tons of merchandise, while its radius of continuous travel will be between three and four thousand miles.

It will most likely be launched on the "shores" of the Sahara desert for its regular voyage to Timbuctoo.

A Letter from India. Communism Receives A Setback.

Putting A Period to Terrorism.

Bombay, Sept. 6. Communism—the terror of the masses in the eyes of the masses—has been dealt a severe blow by the recent activities of the Indian Communist Party. The party was founded by the publication of India's first Communist Manifesto in 1922, addressed from Moscow to the Workers and Peasants Party (India) by this writer as the Indian Communist, Mr. M. M. Roy, which urged those of Mark in the conditions of India to create a "condition of Bolshevism, and the establishment of Communism, was done upon by the public press as a necessary step towards the attainment of the Anglo-India Press with its various and conflicting commitments in the face that created India of Moscow were reading the limit in this country.

Medusa to say Mr. Roy is India was the usual Communist manifesto, full of the usual headlines, and talked of class-opportunities, the necessary struggle, who means to sweep away, underground operations that only fit the preparation of the time, and where one class is found in India of the Soviet version of the first of the revolutionary struggle that finally leads to a state of the Well-Being of the Indian.

The publication of the letter was well-timed. It coincided with the publication by Government of the Official Trade Disputes Bill, which known as the Public Bill, or the Bombay Bill. This measure creates several duties and repressive measures aimed at the prevention of strikes that endanger the public safety or are a menace to the national welfare and interest. It regulates the formation of trade unions and empowers the Government of India to nominate several duties and repressive measures aimed at the prevention of strikes that endanger the public safety or are a menace to the national welfare and interest. It regulates the formation of trade unions and empowers the Government of India to nominate several duties and repressive measures aimed at the prevention of strikes that endanger the public safety or are a menace to the national welfare and interest.

(STANDARD) CORRESPONDENT.

as the Workers and Peasants Party on publication of the Roy letter. They were strongly advised that no Communist Party should be formed in India, that no Communist Party should be formed in India, that no Communist Party should be formed in India. This was backed up by Roy himself, who at the moment advised a strategy of the overthrow of the British Government, and the establishment of the Socialist State. The Roy letter was a direct challenge to the Indian Communist Party, and it was a direct challenge to the Indian Communist Party, and it was a direct challenge to the Indian Communist Party.

The Roy letter has become another landmark in the history of the Indian Communist Party, and it has become another landmark in the history of the Indian Communist Party, and it has become another landmark in the history of the Indian Communist Party.

BILL DENOUNCED

The Indian National Herald, whose Editor, Mr. Benjamin Grey, has already been reported once in the denunciation of this really Madras Bill, has recently not suffered from the Bill, and it has been reported once in the denunciation of this really Madras Bill, and it has been reported once in the denunciation of this really Madras Bill.

as their chief motive is to bring it to a head, and to bring it to a head, and to bring it to a head. They are not only bringing it to a head, and to bring it to a head, and to bring it to a head. They are not only bringing it to a head, and to bring it to a head, and to bring it to a head.

But apart from the fact that the Indian Communist Party is a direct challenge to the Indian Communist Party, and it is a direct challenge to the Indian Communist Party, and it is a direct challenge to the Indian Communist Party.

This act of rebellion, which is a direct challenge to the Indian Communist Party, and it is a direct challenge to the Indian Communist Party, and it is a direct challenge to the Indian Communist Party.

MARKED UNREST

There has been a marked increase in the number of strikes in India, and there has been a marked increase in the number of strikes in India, and there has been a marked increase in the number of strikes in India.

UGANDA ADVERT

THURSDAY, SEPT. 27, 1928.

A Poster Competition.

The Kenya Arts and Crafts Society which during its organization in the Colony, has done so much to stimulate an interest in the arts in Uganda, is desirous of holding a poster competition on behalf of the Uganda Plasters Union of Kenya and East Africa. To-day we publish an announcement giving the main outlines of the competition which will close on October 15 by which date all entries must reach the Memorial Hall, Nairobi. That does not mean a great deal of time either for working out ideas or for the actual putting on paper of the design, but we trust that the scheme itself will make such an appeal that the results will be every way satisfactory. Briefly what is required is a picture representing East African coffee and sugar-cane that will convey to people in Britain the fact that this part of our Empire does produce something which bears the very closest comparison with a similar article from our own countries outside the Empire. To imaginative people also some realization of the importance of the subject from a commercial point of view the competition should not present a great deal of difficulty, especially as it is suggested that the idea underlying the design will count for more than the actual skill in drawing it. This certainly gives a bigger scope and will permit those who may experience a reticence when asked who are unable to produce an elaborate drawing to compete with some whose output is of the two prizes offered. Much more than any money prize, however, will be the honour gained by the successful competitor whose design will be submitted to the Empire Marketing Board with a view to its being posted throughout the length and breadth of Britain. Recently the Board completed the second year of what on the whole has proved a very useful experiment. Publicity is one of the Board's departments and the department which actually made the selection of an idea rather than a name decided that its main public appeal should be directed to advertising particular commodities that are interesting to the British public in the Empire and the development of such commodities. Moreover, through lack of proper information, occasionally the poster competition to suggest in the minds of those seeing them the connection between a particular product and the country in which it is produced, have been distastefully misleading, as for instance where a very commendable picture of a sheep's head had superimposed upon it a very large letter 'M' and a sign that 'poster meant with such authority in addition to being artistic and eye-arresting should also be instructive. We are, for the present competition and, as we have said, since the poster advertising one of the country's chief crops, will be displayed in the most prominent places, it is greatly to be hoped that it will be of a kind which will leave no doubt in the mind of the beholder as to the excellence of the product and its country of origin.

More Plans. (Continued from previous page) The report of Township plans at Njoro will be sold by the Government at the Police Station, Njoro, on October 17, commencing at 10 a.m. The plan will be seen at the Public Office at Njoro, and at the Survey and Mapping Office at the Office of the Commissioner of the Province.

ONE of the greatest and most progressive manufacturers of fine cars will shortly announce to the world a new product, the development of which has been watched with nervous apprehension by the entire Automobile Industry.

New and daring in body design. New in brilliant peaks of performance. Horse-powers ranging from 75 to 100 combined with exceptional petrol economy of 18—22 and more miles per gallon. Speed, power, flexibility and control which exceed by wide margins the extreme efforts of any other make of car on the road.

Amid all the fanfare of the new model announcements this radically new and different car will stand supreme in glorious isolation—destined at once to have the most profound effect upon future motor car design and conceptions of performance.

East Africa in London

Personal Notes and News.

London, Sept. 20. The meeting of the East African Chamber of Commerce made an especial point of attention to be paid to the Tanganyika Exhibition. It was pointed out that very little was known about it, and yet it is quite an interesting and important exhibition. The Institute will continue to enquire everybody with the information which is being furnished to supply. Certainly the publicity of the exhibition is a very poor one in this country.

leaving for East Africa to place before Sir Edward Brigg the views of the Central and Anti-Slavery and Aborigines Protection Societies on the subject of the Lead Trust. Now Sir Edward has been asked to visit with this extreme mission to look on going to the East African situation, how they will treat the situation. He will call at the Kenya Club on his way back to London.

of course the visit of the Prince of Wales has secured an attraction for the East African Standard.

The Rev. Gilbert Elliott, who has only just returned from a mission, will arrive in Nairobi, India, in the morning. Mr. Elliott is now in London, and will be back in East Africa in the morning. He will be accompanied by the pastoral staff of St. Andrew's Church, Nairobi, who will be staying in Nairobi for several days.

Today at the usual meeting of the London Chamber of Commerce a resolution was passed expressing the view that the work of the Department of Overseas Trade should not be in any way disassociated from that of the East African Bureau in Trafalgar Square. Apparently a similar resolution was passed by the Association of African and the fact that a Humphrey Langford of the London office is being sent to the East African Bureau in Nairobi to do the work.

Mr. H. B. Scott, who has been Director of Education in the Transvaal, has left for Kenya to take charge of education there. Before his departure Mr. Scott received a letter from the members of the teaching profession of both races and from the Provincial Education Officer, Nairobi. Mr. Scott, who is now in London, is expected to return to Kenya in the near future.

The following criticism from the "East African Standard" in connection with Miss Phipps' visit to Kenya is worth noting. Miss Phipps' visit to Kenya is a most interesting one, and it is to be hoped that she will be able to do much good for the people of Kenya. Her visit is a most interesting one, and it is to be hoped that she will be able to do much good for the people of Kenya.

Bits and Pieces

Hempus Stories by GEORGE BOILEY
THE WORLD FAMOUS COMEDIAN
Illustrated by R. P. KINSELLA

"Here is a volume packed with the tremendous fun of the Booby kind, and as a surprise remedy for melancholy it may be strongly recommended." All the world has laughed at and with Mr. Booby on the stage, and it will be delighted when he is not only on the stage but in the hands of the public. The laughing fun in the author's previous works will find the Booby kind most enjoyable. The volume is a new publication for the first time."
