Nurse Cavell's Betrayal? The Problem Child.

REPORTED ON REFUGEE GRANCE AMERICAN AND CANADIAN METHODS OF GUIDANCE

The woman who is said to have betrayed the home British nurse, Miss Edith Cavell, to the German authorities, has been mentioned as having been in a room of two and had three "impregnations on a charge of having committed an offence on behalf of France."

The woman's name is not mentioned in the article.

The woman, who was born in French parents, is declared to have served as a nurse in a German hospital in Brussels during the early days of the war.

It is alleged that she later became attached to the German intelligence service, under a Lieutenant Bergan, and it is suggested that she came in contact with Max Cavell about this time.

After the war, she was settled in Cologne, where she is stated to have been approached by a French officer with the offer of a large sum if she would return to France into occupied territory.

It was declared during the court proceedings that the woman had acted for both the French and the Germans.

She had later favoured the French, it is alleged, and had been employed by them as an "escort spy." It was charged that, when arrested, she had certain important data in her possession regarding the Westphalian and Belgian railways.

It has been generally recognized that George Gustav Gurnea gave a consent on Cavell's Pleading. She was the person who betrayed her.

It had never been stated that the movement and has been made great efforts in the past months to get the case cleared.

One of his connections in the Home Cavalry had several French acquaintances, who had German sounding names, and one of these might easily have got to know of her activities and informed the German-British United Press.

Four Prices Reduced

A wholesale price of all our different grades of four and oats have been materially reduced as from October 1st, and no doubt bakers and caterers will have corresponding reductions to the public when their existing stocks have been cleared.

Since the early part of 1928 the wholesale price of our super-white flour has been reduced by nearly 20%.

The latest reductions have been made possible by co-operation between the wheat growers, who have agreed to a reduction in the price of wheat, and the flouring millers (Unge Limited of Njombe, and the Kenya Grain Mills Ltd. of Nairobi). These millers have reduced their price to figures which will be absolutely unprofitable, even with the reduced price of wheat, unless their combined sales are increased by 5,000 bags of flour per month. They have made the reductions in the belief that such an increase is possible.

SPEED UP PRODUCTION!

No. 3. Four Years' Struggle for Efficiency by Plant Breeding Department.

ASTONDISINGLY INADEQUATE WHEAT RESULTS

In pursuance of the campaign in favor of a safer expenditure of public money on our principal crops, a study must be made of wheat, because it is the most important crop in this country and the most numerous of our staple crops. The wheat industry is the most important of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries. It is the most numerous of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries.

Now we show the practical results in the production per acre during four years' production per acre. The wheat industry is the most important of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries. It is the most numerous of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries.

Present among the half dozen prominent agricultural products of Kenya. The wheat industry is the most important of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries. It is the most numerous of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries.

On the other hand, the Plant Breeding, Ministry, Department of Agriculture, has had to obtain reliable information on comparative yields of experimental wheat grown in Kenya. The wheat industry is the most important of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries. It is the most numerous of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries.

Another handicap was the lack of land in the possession of the Department of Agriculture in 1924. The wheat industry is the most important of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries. It is the most numerous of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries.

It should be borne in mind that land is likely to be required year after year for the multiplication and renewal of varieties of wheat. Although farmers have in the past been very conservative in their choice of land for the use of the Plant Breeding Branch, it is obvious that it would be better if the work were done in more satisfactory detail. The wheat industry is the most important of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries. It is the most numerous of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries.

The Deputy Director of Agriculture took over the responsibility in 1925. The wheat industry is the most important of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries. It is the most numerous of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries.

The Plant Breeder was unfortunately "invited" home on the same day as was carried on with the services of a Junior Clerk and by the Department of Agriculture. The wheat industry is the most important of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries. It is the most numerous of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries.

"I would advise the establishment of a farm in the Kenya, in which plant material is to be raised and stored of wheat could be carried out. The wheat industry is the most important of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries. It is the most numerous of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries.

It is generally speaking, well cultivated or sufficiently well manured to yield the best possible crop of wheat. The wheat industry is the most important of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries. It is the most numerous of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries.

It is feared that 1928 has not been a particularly good year for wheat in many parts of the country on account of the wholesale death of crabs by rot and Merganser. The wheat industry is the most important of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries. It is the most numerous of our staple industries, and it is the most numerous of our staple industries.

This year the increase in the number of six-cylinder cars available bids fair to exceed the record figures set up in recent years. It is difficult to define the average of a "six" which presents qualities in a "six" which present a great appeal to the average driver. There is, of course, the slow-speed running on "top end" characteristics such as those complete absence of vibration, a smooth torque and general refinement. Further the most important feature is the maintenance of a high speed over a long period of time. This is an extremely important feature in a car, especially when the engine is required to run at a high speed for a long period of time. This is an extremely important feature in a car, especially when the engine is required to run at a high speed for a long period of time.

Another important point is the engine's freedom of the engine (space for expansion) is not less than that of a four-cylinder engine. In fact, it is usually greater. This is due to the fact that the six-cylinder engine is usually smaller than the four-cylinder engine. This is due to the fact that the six-cylinder engine is usually smaller than the four-cylinder engine.

maintain the distribution of the mixture. Turning to technical considerations, the following notes are being used in the construction of the motor. The cylinder bore of the motor is 100 mm. The stroke is 100 mm. The compression ratio is 16 to 1. The engine is a four-cylinder engine.

It is of great importance as a fairly long engine. It has been general practice to cast the cylinder block and crankcase as one piece. This is done to save weight and to simplify the construction.

HOSPITAL WORK IN THE COLONY.

Accommodation Still Inadequate.

NATIVE NEEDS.

The question as to whether the European hospitals in Nairobi are in the present position as a starting point for administering sanitary and hospital conditions under direct Governmental supervision was referred to a Committee towards the end of the year.

The positions with regard to the installation of a combined hospital at Nairobi was unfolded during the greater part of the year, and the report. A large committee composed of all sections of the community was employed in a consideration of the various proposals with regard to possible sites. A recommendation was made that the scheme could not be proceeded with.

No separate hospital for Africans has been brought into being. The construction work of any magnitude has taken place with regard to the existing European hospital, and no new hospitals have been built during the year.

An Intention.

As a result of representations made to Government by non-official medical practitioners and hospital authorities were received that the private practitioners were to be allowed to attend to their own cases when admitted to hospital in Nairobi. The new arrangement has resulted in less difficulty than might have been expected.

A considerable drop occurred in the total of admissions at the various Government hospitals throughout the country. It must be remembered, however, that the total number of cases of malaria returned for 1920 was 19,000 less than in 1920.

The report on the native hospitals and Dispensaries reveals that in the East Africa Division the total number of admissions at the various hospitals in Nairobi is given as follows:—

Local agencies give care for a time by accepting into a hospital of some kind facilities for the treatment of the afflicted.

The overcrowding of native hospitals which was so marked a feature of 1920 has been little less so in 1921. The overcrowding which has been made worse it is to be expected that the Government has been made with the provision of a number of beds in the most of the hospitals. The overcrowding of the year's small hospitals has been reported in the report on the hospitals in the East Africa Division. It is in the East Africa Division that the overcrowding of the year's small hospitals has been reported in the report on the hospitals in the East Africa Division. It is in the East Africa Division that the overcrowding of the year's small hospitals has been reported in the report on the hospitals in the East Africa Division.

Native Hospitals.

The native hospitals in East Africa are largely composed of native laborers who are sent by their employers for treatment and for whose maintenance a small charge is made. The system tends to increase the cost of maintenance, as labor at the hospital from a daily wage of 1/6 without training, and it is impossible to refuse admission. It is to be remembered that a number of native hospitals in the East Africa Division are in the East Africa Division.
