VALUE OF STATISTICS.

Events of outstanding importance in the commer-cial life of Nairobi, and of the Colony generally, during the past year were reviewed by the President-of Nai-robi Chamber of Commerce at the annual meeting on Thursday of last week.

Lamenting the absence of compiled economic sta-tistical figures with particular reference to the cost of living and the evils of excessive credit. the President said an endeavour should be made to place before the financial experts on the Hilton Young Commission the commercial aspects of Kenya Colony.

"In my opinion,, the signs are very apparent that we must prepare for a period of commercial depression in Kenya. I hope I am wrong, but I know I am not alone in this sense of an impending dull period" was his concluding observation

PORT TARIFFS.

Request for Long Notice of Proposed Changes.

A small but influential conference of commercial A small but influential conterence of commercial men of East Africa was opened at Nakuru on Tuesday when the Associated Chambers of Commerce met under the Presidency of Mr. Tannahill, Nairobi, Matters of considerable moment to business houses throughout the area were discussed and resolutions forwarded to various authorities.

An outstanding item at Tuesday's session was the discussions on the proposed increases on the Port Authority's rates on both imports and exports. It was the series of the series the series the series that the series the series that the series the series the series that the series the series that the s Authority's rates on both imports and exports. It was stated that a promise had been made that savings thus effected would be earmarked for reductions on railway rates. The fear was expressed that the country generally would suffer if timely warning of the application of the new rates was not given.

Sir Alan Cobham's African flight is likely to prove memorable to Kenya from the fact that arrangements are being made to hold a flying meeting at Naivasha.

This will serve the double purpose of affording Kenya residents an opportunity of welcoming one of the world's greatest airmen and of testing the suit-ability of Lake Naivasha as a resting place for giant scaplanes.

There are holes at least 2-3 ft. deep, and it is not a question of going round them, one has just got to go through them. I believe the holes were originally caused by moles and the soil which is very friable falls in. It is practically impossible to fill them up as any soil that is put in almost immediately turns to a fine sand. The Executive Engineer. Naivasha, informs me that until the rains come it is impossible to do anything to this road. Cer-tainly the holes can be filled in,

Bright Sun After

Paris, Dec. 29.

Reclish visitors seemed to prefer to spend Christmas on the Riviera rather than in Paris itself. They stayed for 1a day or two on heir way to Cannes and Mentons in order to buy some of the charm-ing novelties which the windows of the shopping thoroughfares display-ed so siluringly at such exorbitant prices, and went on to find the sun shining brilliantly in spite of the heavy snowfalls.

At Cannes, where Lord and Lady Derby are staying very quietly after their recent bereavement, there are any number of English folk, and the hotels at Mentone are comfort-

There was great excitement just before the festival at the news that one of the Delly Sisters was seriously ill at Cannes and might have to have a major operation. The thestrical people dashed to and fro between their villas and her hotel, and her sister was called hurriedly from Paris. Fortunately she is now on the way to recovery.

An Aberdonian was taken to hospital with dyspepsia. He had eaten ten helpings of Christmas pudding—and then didn't get the threepenny bit.
