How expensive to detain eyes in the examination of the ordinary camera lenses by the usual optical Zeiss lenses which reproduce on the retina images of perfect clarity from all points to which the light is directed. The wide field of the Zeiss lenses and the sharp clarity they provide to the focus of the eye represent the highest of the modern scientific of the Zeiss camera lenses.

FOR YOUR CAMERA:
The eye of your camera is the lens. Just as the full power of the eye relies on the action of the eye muscles so also the action of the camera lens is dependent on the action of the camera bellows. one reading that believe will readily understand that the content of the plots can be varied. Thus while all plots must always remain central, plots B, C and D represent the 100 per cent of the area which is probably the best for a wheat crop. It is not intended that the land should be subdivided into small plots, but that the land should be subdivided into small plots, but that the land should be subdivided into small plots.

For less would be heard in the country of almost complete loss of maize and wheat crops due to drought were these crops grown on good soils well supplied with organic matter on which the land use of a drought-ridden crop failed with two unproductive factors and the crop is wiped out.

For full and even stands. In order to obtain full and even stands there is no matter of doubt that the way to plant is as follows—The rows should be 44 inches apart and the seeds sown at every seven inches in the row. When the crop is no longer liable to insect damage, the plants should be thinned out during the process of hand weeding so as to leave a plant to every eight inches in the row. This gives a stand of approximately 100 plants per acre. The land which is probably the best for a wheat crop is that which is the best for a wheat crop.

Demanded Everywhere for Superior Value

CHRYSLER

CHRYSLER—with the new style that re-styles all motor cars—is to-day more than ever the leader of the industry.

The new Chryslers are not only individual and unique—they are original, owing nothing to design offered by other designers and manufacturers here or abroad.

They are graceful and pleasing—the natural development of the principle of dynamic symmetry instituted in the first Chrysler—providing ample room and comfort without oversize and bulk.

In power, acceleration, safety and ease of control, to-day's Chryslers excel even the earlier Chryslers. The years have proved the dependability and long life which Chrysler Standardised Quality gives.

Not even for more money, can you equal elsewhere the things the new Chryslers give. Chrysler's largest production is taxed to supply the universal demand for Chrysler's superior quality and value.

A TALK WITH NAIROBI ELECTORS.

He had no sympathy with the Dublin Government and the House of Lords. He believed that it would be a good thing for the youth of the country to be brought up with a little military training. It was quite certain that the others had had all the training which would be necessary.

A lady asked Major Griggs how he would be able to do the summing through of Government. He said that it was not a matter of summing up, but of summing down. He said that any man could do it if he was willing to do it.

Major Griggs said he had a record for honesty. He was a member of the House of Commons where the House was being run. He was not a member of the House of Commons, but he was a member of the House of Commons. He was not a member of the House of Commons, but he was a member of the House of Commons.

ZEISS

FOR YOUR EYES:

FOR YOUR CAMERA:

The eye of your camera is its lens. Just as the full power of the eye relies all on activities, so the camera is what the lens makes it. A better lens yields inevitably better pictures, more independence of the time of day, season or weather and to increase our enjoyment of our photographic work. This is why the big camera works of all countries fit their higher grade cameras with Zeiss Tessars, the finest and most reliable camera eyes in the world.

IN THE BANKRUPTCY COURT.

A Railway Contractor's Failure.

OWING NEARLY £3,000.

The public examination in bankruptcy of Mr. C. T. K. Kemp, the stock holder before His Honour Mr. Justice Stephens in the Supreme Court on Friday.

The debtor told the Court that he had come to Kenya in September, 1927, and had brought with him capital of about £1,000. He had previously been employed by the East India Railways for 22 years and during that time had risen from permanent way inspector to assistant engineer. When he first arrived in Kenya he was employed as permanent way inspector on the Ukini Gable extension of the Railway, on Colonial Robertson's staff. His pay at the beginning was £400 per year but by August 1925 he had risen to seasonal engineer at the salary of £750. He then started contracting with a Mr. Boyce. He did not put any money into the partnership. The contract finished in May 1927 and the share of the profits was approximately £2,000. At that time he had about £3,000 capital. From then until March 1927, he was employed on Eldoret Hill where he had some 40,000 and Kibiki doing small contracting jobs. In March, 1927, he took a contract for building up the Kibiki extension of the Railway and by December, 1927, he had made a profit of about £4,000. During the time that he had been at Eldoret he had gone into partnership with five other men in the "Tobacco Blend". He had nothing whatever to do with the management of the Blend. Essentially the other five men were unable to pay their share of a small company, which was now in liquidation, and he was asked to take over. It had been agreed that if the other five men were unable to pay their share he should take over. He demands their shares would be forfeited, the debtor was told by solicitors in Eldoret that the agreement was now in liquidation, it was written on. He had about £3,000 in the hotel transaction. In January 1928 the debtor got another contract, this being in connection with the Thomson's Falls branch line for an amount of £125,000. He best the contract April 1928 when he had to leave the country on doctor's orders as he had twice had kidney stones. He still considered that the firm were due to him from the Thomson's Falls line and the Turco line.

Hope from Railway

The Official Receiver said that if the Railway were approached in the right way he thought that they might deal very handsomely with the man.

The debtor said that when he had to leave the country the contracts were cancelled, and since no return had been employed as a permanent way inspector by the Railway at Mombasa.

In reply to a question by Mr. Justice Stephens, the debtor said that he had been employed as a permanent way inspector on the Public Works of the Kenya Trading Company. He had lost £2,500 at Eldoret when he had given a sub-contract to Capt. Blackburne, the Assistant Engineer but said he did not want Capt. Blackburne to do any of the work, and as an agreement had been drawn up between them £2,500 as compensation.

The Official Receiver said that the debts of unsecured creditors amounted to £2,175, and the assets were simply what could be obtained from the Railway. He did not understand why the Trustee was not present, he said, but he knew that the case was to be heard.

His Honour ordered that the public examination should stand over until April 19, but that the debtor need not appear there unless he was warned to do so.

An Indian Bankrupt
An Indian named M. A. Rana was declared a bankrupt. His Honour Mr. Justice Stephens yesterday.

The Official Receiver explained that the debtor had arrived in Kenya in 1922 and had been employed by the Railway Press. He had put into debt and was now doing no work. In reply to a question the debtor said that his brother was feeding him at present. He had a wife and five children.

In reply to His Honour the debtor said that he debt were

A Murder Charge.

NOT A CASE FOR DEATH PENALTY.

Judgment was delivered in the Supreme Court on Friday in the case in which two young natives, both of Mombasa age, were charged with the murder of another native, who had been 'hanging' cattle. During the hearing of the case Mr. J. Hamilton Huxley appeared for the accused on the instructions of the Crown.

In passing Judgment His Honour Mr. Justice Graham said that the first accused had drunkenly admitted the murder, and did not consider the case to be one of those in which the death penalty should be imposed as a matter of course. He said that the accused of the second accused was a native of the same age did not yet appreciate the gravity of the offence. His Honour sentenced the first accused to imprisonment for 18 months and a fine of Shgs. 20,000. The second accused was sentenced to undergo two years rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Shgs. 1,000, or in default a further three months rigorous imprisonment.

His Honour ordered that if the first accused paid the fine of Shgs. 20,000, he should be set at liberty and the second accused and his wife should be set at liberty on the same terms as the first accused.

The first accused was a native from Mombasa and the second accused a Mombasa. An interesting feature during the hearing of the case was that four interpreters were called on at the various times being English, Swahili, Kikuyu, and Lamelara.

not the outcome of harkness was but were due to the harkness of his wife. He had paid his doctor's bills but had failed to pay some of the others.

In reply to His Honour the Official Receiver said that there were 100,000, all Indian, and the amount involved were small. The only ground creditor was the Nairobi Corporation and the debt in that case was for £2.

The debtor said that he had to pay the balance of a fine that had been ordered to put him into prison. He had been promised work.

The debtor was adjudged a bankrupt.

CHRYSLER

CHRYSLER -- with the new style that re-styles all motor cars--is to-day more than ever the leader of the industry.

The new Chryslers are not only individual and unique--they are original, owing nothing to design offered by other designers and manufacturers here or abroad.

They are graceful and pleasing--the natural development of the principle of dynamic symmetry instituted in the first Chrysler--providing ample room and comfort without oversize and bulk.

In power, acceleration, safety and ease of control, to-day's Chryslers excel even the earlier Chryslers. The years have proved the dependability and long life which Chrysler Standardised Quality gives.

Not for more money, can you equal elsewhere the things the new Chryslers give. Chrysler's largest production is taxed to supply the universal demand for Chrysler's superior quality and value.

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard."—I have been reading in your issue of the 12th inst. an account of a spiritist who claims to have discovered a new method of communicating with the spirits of the dead. I am sure that you will find this account of interest to your readers.

It is a pity that the spiritist who claims to have discovered a new method of communicating with the spirits of the dead, should not have been able to give us a more detailed account of the nature of the spirits with whom he communicates. It is also a pity that he should not have been able to give us a more detailed account of the results of his experiments. It is also a pity that he should not have been able to give us a more detailed account of the nature of the spirits with whom he communicates.

STANDARD SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

London, February 7. Last week's distinguished fact that Mr. Butler, the head-wearer whose name is a household word to those of us who have been seeing plays for the last twenty years, discovered his love, and wrote round the subject with the old technique, but with the least originality, also that Mr. Arnold Bennett told his hand of a film story. This letter is a British penman, called "Fossilifer," and the famous author was specially engaged to write the play, taking a sentence of the criticism, the critic's seems to have covered anything extraordinary, although the film, as a film, gets full marks. One day the film festival will be up and realise that since times out of ten it is the unknown author who delivers the goods.

less pretentious or more easily obtainable that some side kicks also that we might as well admit to except the Day of Judgement" or the "littles of the gentleman who writes us in such unbecomingly high-sounding and grandiose style. And yet, somehow we have the envelope lying there unopened, prying shamelessly, I assure you that the world will have to do so, and before the necessity for solving the problem arises. Apart from this, however, I recommend you to "Tilly Christie," which will make you forget the envelope in an hour or so, even while reading it. If it is of no use to you, I mean!

Roads and the Motor.

The problem of the maintenance of our highways under the existing stress of motor traffic has of course been a steadily increasing one, and now I hear that freshening proposals are to be made by the Government by the Automobile Association. It is suggested that the Government should raise road taxes in the other period of phenomenal expenditure it raised war taxes, and these would not be levied with tremendous taxes for a time of industrial depression.

In short, the idea seems to be that instead of paying such taxes for the gigantic road scheme, partly built would be extended over a number of years, and possibly would benefit by the better existing condition of the roads.

It is an answer, would it not, to the motor tax rate into greater trouble, result in the abolition of the special tax on motor cars, and reduce unemployment. There is certainly some something in the idea; but any important scheme which is being considered for the consideration of the Government will depend. I might have said Government it goes before—with the General Election an imminent.

Big Dogs.

Yesterday the annual Dog Show held by Crufts opened, and presently we have had pictures of all the little "poms" and "papas" having their hair combed, and a body blames the fashion for brooding these dogs so long as money can be found with time and money to devote to their maintenance, but it is refreshing to know that the latest type of dog offered for our inspection is of the more substantial and useful Irish Wolfhound. It is called an Iriscan and is bred in the Balkan Islands. He is of the town dog, while the fact that several Iriscans have had to be represented in Court on the charge of attempted murder, does not, strangely enough, seem to have affected their popularity. I was distinctly heartened the other day to enter a leading lady's dressing-room and find myself being greeted by a spotty little

South African, for in these circumstances I always anticipate the sort of attack by a hand of party days. The little fellow in question regards in the same "Portugal" from which that day in such unbecomingly high-sounding and grandiose style. And yet, somehow we have the envelope lying there unopened, prying shamelessly, I assure you that the world will have to do so, and before the necessity for solving the problem arises.

The New Bloomsbury.

I wonder if any district in London has undergone a more extraordinary change—a period of transition so complete? We know, of course, that Bloomsbury was in London since the first appearance of the type of progressive movement which has made the date Kensington way. When these things were first noted it did not seem very unusual, but then the large houses were not far off other equally wealthy tenants, and the small old-fashioned houses and apartments known in fact Bloomsbury. It is now, I believe, a term synonymous with the small cottages and tenements, with financial strength and quietness known in fact Bloomsbury.
