PROPOSAL

"Unthinkable Betrayal" Says Manchester Guardian.

"TIMES" WANTS NATIVE POLICY DEFINED.

"The Times" and "The Manchester Guardian" have com-mented on the Wilson Report. Both urge that the two Reports on Closer Union in East Africa should be sent to a Joint Committee of both Houses.

Both newspapers regard as essential a clear definition of and pronouncement on Native Policy and "The Times" stresses the need for finality.

"The Manchester Guardian" says the Labour Government is bound to refuse the Wilson proposal as an unthink-able betrayal. Its only recommendation is that it is satisfactory to the majority of Kenya settlers.

Lord Olivier has also entered the lists as a critic. He finds the two Reports irreconcilable.
