KENNEL NOTES

By Margaret Collyer

Miss Collyer, Oligi, to whom all correspondence in connection with "Kennel Notes" should be addressed, does not hold herself responsible for accuracy of statements, but she writes, or, in the main, based on information supplied by her correspondents.

I have had details of rather a strange case sent me this week. I have never met with a similar case before.

Scarcely a dog which was sent to a lady to keep while the master was on leave. Although at the time a couple of months or more, although the dog was not a puppy, and nothing but perfectly little, still she was milk. One day quite suddenly she started to eat of the lady's dogs. She had shown no signs of being unwell at the time. She had certainly had the mangle or had certainly she would have been in a litter of milk. She appeared to be a fine strong pup, and she lived on to eat of one by one for several days, and then she started to eat the other. She had certainly had the mangle or had certainly she would have been in a litter of milk. She appeared to be a fine strong pup, and she lived on to eat of one by one for several days, and then she started to eat the other.

possibly with some worms, and when I have reported to an English vet, he has said that the dog is not a puppy, but a dog of some age, and that it is worth doing and will save the dog from being put down.

I have now obtained the full particulars of the case from the English vet. It is a dog of some age, and it is worth doing and will save the dog from being put down.

PRIDE of POSSESSION

You will take a real pride in the smart style and fresh new beauty of the Ford just as you will find an ever-growing satisfaction in its silent, capable performance. From the new deep radiator to the tip of the steering arm and from the innumerable screws of the steering gear to the expansive mechanism of colorless aluminum thought possible only at Ford.

At today's low prices the new Ford is not an outstanding value, beauty... safety... comfort... speed... power... quality... maintenance... ease of control... economy... reliability... long life.

WIRELESS IN EAST AFRICA.

MODERN DEVELOPMENTS.

New Types of Receivers.

The "E. A. Standard" has among the regular publications of its wireless page, articles written by Mr. David D. Hughes, a well-known expert authority, with respect to wireless.

The last month brought the first catalogue of sets and components parts as issued by Messrs. Wireless and Manufacturing Co., of Chicago. The catalogue is a most interesting one, and the sets are of the most modern type.

Reception Conditions.

Conditions for the week ending October 20th, have been average. TLO or less 20 miles back, but being practically handleable at times.

The sets are of the most modern type, and the catalogue is a most interesting one. The sets are of the most modern type, and the catalogue is a most interesting one.

A Significant Statement.

The following significant statement was made concerning the current of wireless and reports in the Report of the Institute of Radio Engineers.

The constantly decreasing use of long wave transmitters in radio communication is becoming manifest on the fact that the "E. A. Standard" has at the Bureau of Standards, Washington, D.C., on the 15th of the year 1922.

It has been stated that Radio House is now operating on 20 metres standard, 50W at a good strength.

Short Wave Sets. In previous years Wireless people marketed the Pilot Super-Wave short wave set, this year led to 100 volts. Added to this are the low line fluctuations ranging to 10 per cent. This means that a radio set is subjected to voltage variations of 10 per cent. The American Bell-Adaptive-Receiver (Patented Oct. 2nd, 1914) is the only set that modern A.C. receivers operate satisfactorily and satisfactorily with laboratory quality.

Radio Circuit System.

Radio circuit systems are of two types, the series and the shunt. The series system is the most common, and the shunt system is the most modern.

Bankruptcy. A CALL FOR STEER MOTION. To the Editor, "E.A. Standard."

The Editor, "E.A. Standard." I have read with interest the various letters and articles on the Bankruptcy question which have appeared in the "East African Standard" during the past fortnight.

Several salient points, all having a most important bearing on the subject, have been brought to light through the discussion of the different opinions seem to exist in determining the root trouble of the question.

This credit is extensive in extent, but is not for the most part the result of law. It is the fault of the large Importing Houses who simply do not hold water.

The Choice of Smart Women. It is a pity that we cannot find a better article in the "East African Standard" than the one by "Kaiser" on the subject of the choice of smart women.

Official view now states that once we have seen of measures pending in a judge's order. It is an error to state that the present situation is a fraction of the one of bankruptcy which exists.

Mr. Shepley maintains, the present law is adequate, that there is no need for any amendment to be made to the present law.

seizable centre and I thoroughly agree with the view that the law should be brought into force immediately.

In connection with the Registrar's Department, the Registrar recommended in the 1921 Report's Department that the Registrar should be empowered to issue warrants to search the records of the Registrar's Department.

The Registrar's Department is a very important one, and it is a pity that we cannot find a better article in the "East African Standard" than the one by "Kaiser" on the subject of the choice of smart women.

KENYA'S MILITARY COSTS REDUCED TO £115,000.

of the miscellaneous services last year is estimated to be £773,374, a slight increase.

Under the heading of "Civil Aviation" is a sum of £14,000 representing the Colony's liability for Imperial Airways. There is also £1,278 for the maintenance and flying grounds at Kisumu air port, Mombasa, Mchanga, Veta, Voi, Meru, Malindi and Voi. Further provision for the development of civil aviation appears as non-ferrous expenditure for £2,000, which has been provided. This amount is intended to cover the purchase of two bi-planes—American Woodson Sulzberger at Nairobi, £700; motorcar average as the Mombasa Landrover, £1,200; expenditure of landing grounds at Malindi and Voi, £600.

Police Contingent.

A new item of £200 is provided for the expense of the P.M. Contingent Band although it is anticipated that it will be covered by income.

The following paragraphes are included in respect of branch agencies: Mombasa £200 (increased from £250); Nairobi £240 and Thompson's Falls, £5,000 (increased from £5,000).

Interpretation which the Colony owes to various bodies includes: Naval Entertainment Fund, £100; Film Exhibition, £200; Kenya Historical Society, £200; Imperial Institute, £200; Kenya Education Committee, £200; Institute of African Languages and Culture, £200; Inter-tribe Language Committee, £200; Mombasa Transport Corporation, £200.

There are also such items as Maintenance of Buildings, £100; £200; Preparation of African Memoranda, £200; Income on securities, £13,000; and Depreciation, £700. On the largest item is £10,000 for repairs and maintenance payable by Government to the Railways and Factories.

The Miscellaneous Services Expenditure total of £2,000 being less than last year. The total for 1939 is £1,150,000, a decrease of £1,000,000 from the £2,150,000 of 1938. Kenya's share of the cost of producing a book on the birds of the Colony is £1,000 by the late Sir Frederick Selous, £200 as a voluntary contribution by the proposed rural library scheme and £1,000 as a contribution by the Corporation has made a contribution of £1,000 a year for three years. It is also proposed to determine all rights that former owners during the coming year and for that purpose a sum of £1,000 is provided. It is anticipated that 50 per cent of the said one-sum items will be brought in another interesting item is provided for the Central Prison.

It is explained that the Colonial Prison staff should be taken together with the complement of established British forces for the maintenance of the Colony by sending a representative in the United Kingdom to the London Convention on the subject of British film on the market. The scheme would involve expenses on competitive prices. The scheme would be generated against loss to be met from the first year only and the Colony's share is estimated to be £120,000. This amount and gratuity will be to meet during the year 1939-40. There is an increase of £100,000 in the total cost and down 500 tons into account. The total amount of £1,150,000 have been formed to the military vote. The total amount for the year is, therefore, £1,110,000.

Police Vote.

The first heading of interest is the proposed expenditure on the Police Force. During 1939 the total amount is £778,000 including a sum of nearly £600. The total sum includes the Railway Police and the Post Police in respect of which appropriate amounts made on the Colony, after subtracting their two hundred and ten of the colonial police amounting to £100,130.

It is explained that owing to the present position of that establishment amounts appropriate to the Police Force will be effected in every way as being budgeted from the Colony owing to the lack of resources for superintendants. In consequence their regular salaries become due for retirement, which means the maximum salary of the superintendant grade to which their length of service would normally entitle them. It is proposed, therefore, that the present grade be replaced by the introduction of a long scale of salary of £200 for two years, then by annual increments from £225 and £270 to the scale of £500 and superintendents and superintendents are being asked for men in the C.I.D. and other branches of the Police Force of efficiency.

A contract has been awarded for the highest of the price made that will be included in the bill for the year 1939. It is proposed that a sum of £200,000 was laid to be included in the budget for the year 1939. The Police Force would have shown a surplus of £200,000 in 1938. It is only items in the extra-service expenditure on the Police Force, year 1939, is £212,000 to establish a Luncheon Levy Force.

If you only had a Corona!

Well, you can have one that isn't hard to buy and the chance one that'll more than pay for itself.

You know, better than anyone, how much you need it. But even you probably don't realize how much you would use it if it were right on your desk, handy at all times. Now is the time to buy. There are several new features and refinements on the latest Corona so that it is unquestionably one of the biggest typewriter values on the market today.

RABONES SPRING RULE

A 48" RULE THAT CAN BE CARVED IN THE VERY POKY.

THE RABONES SPRING RULE is a combination of steel rule and 5 foot tape graduated at a price within the reach of most carpenters measuring medium of the kind.

THE ACTION OF THE SPRING RULE is never dangerous—it is always naturally and moderately under tension, and will give it by its own at the end as high and unstrained speed.

THE SPRING IS PULLED OUT straight from its case without disturbance of any sort and the required length of rule is unrolled—it is then automatically retained at that length.

THE SPRING RULE IS RETURNED TO ITS CASE BY gentle pressure on a push button. It is unnecessary to control the progress of the rule into the case with one hand.

THE CASE OF THE SPRING RULE is heavily metal-plated and the reinforcement into the wainscot panel without any protruding parts.

THE MARKING OF No. 206 is in feet, inches and sixteenths the feet in length, with feet stands out unmistakably, and the foot figure is repeated in every three inches and equivalent with our well-known "One Foot Rule".

Price Shs. 10/- each.
