SETTLEMENT SCHEMES IN SOUTHERN RHODESIA.

How Settlers are Attracted and Assisted.

POINTS FOR KENYA.

Government Help in Populating Crown or Private Land.

LITTLE CLARICE has apparently mistaken his fellow government for the noble Maitland procedure to show her to the Zoo. And the gentle soul in the hat is likewise a bit disturbed by the above display of poor taste in history. Small wonder the fellow brings his head out-trick-like behind a paper.

Even the wisest of us seem to lean to go astray in our choice of history. That is, unless we have learned what so many others have, that Hiderport History is always in good taste.

Hiderport records and patterns are smart and distinctive. They are history's latest and equal to the discriminating gentlemen of sophisticated taste. And Hiderport offers economy as well. It offers 3 to 16 lines more wear than any other size. In fact, wear has built for Hiderport History's world wide reputation.

A recent illustrated handbook on settlement in Southern Rhodesia has been issued by the Southern Rhodesia Publicity Office, and is of the greatest interest in connection with the settlement of Kenya. The handbook deals with the various aspects of settlement, and is given below. The first section is on the points which will naturally be of interest to the prospective settler, and the second section is on the points which will be of interest to the Government and the local authorities.

1. The handbook is divided into two parts: (a) Settlement in Southern Rhodesia during the twelve months or more than three months prior to the 31st December 1929, and (b) Settlement in Southern Rhodesia during the twelve months or more than three months prior to the 31st December 1929.

The Uva Planters Association of the Arua District in Tanganyika, addressed to us yesterday, contains some correspondence they have entered into with the Administration in regard to a particularly vexatious incident which, they allege, has taken place in the Territory. They state that a number of native were guilty of driving a herd of Kiboko over a cliff from the high with the most dreadful results to the animals. The report of the incident is the annexed by the Association, and states that they have been notified by the Administration that they are to be held responsible for the incident. They are to be held responsible for the incident, and they are to be held responsible for the incident.

Private Land.

If the settler requires private land, similar advances can be made for each acre of the security by way of a first mortgage loan on the property.

Settlers can be provisionally enabled to pay a preliminary instalment of £200 on behalf of His Majesty's Secretary of State. This instalment will be repaid by the High Commissioner or approved by the High Commissioner.

Upon acceptance the settler will be required to sign an agreement which will provide for—

- To deposit with the Government of the four-fourths of his capital of £200 and call for the balance of the same when the Government so directs.
- To assist in the purchase of land to the value of £10 for each acre.
- To reside on the land for a period of three years.
- To be provided with a passport for the purpose of passing from Home port to other parts of the Empire, or to other parts of the Empire, which will be of interest to the settler.
- To refund the amount advanced upon the settlement, or to remain for a full period of five years in the Colony.

Upon completion of a period of twelve months training, the settler will be required to sign an agreement which will provide for—

- To refund the amount advanced upon the settlement, or to remain for a full period of five years in the Colony.

The conditions of the scheme are as follows:

- The settler should have been engaged in agriculture, or in any other occupation, for at least two years prior to his departure for the Colony.
- The settler should be of robust health and constitution, and both the settler and his family must be named by a Medical practitioner nominated by the High Commissioner.
- Upon being notified of his appointment, the settler will be required to sign an agreement in writing to the following conditions:

RYANAOP.

The entries this year for the Nyakza Open were better than ever. There were 25 entries, and it was a pity Mr. P. V. Shaw who had won the cup two years ago was unable to compete. However, despite this, the competition was very interesting. The match was played between the two teams of K. B. Brown and J. P. Brown (captain) and H. H. Brown and J. P. Brown. The latter had previously won the H.R. Mifoni Cup for the first time.

KENYA'S GALLANT FIGHT IN FIRST TEST MATCH.

Splendid Display by Colony's Forwards.

["Standard" Special Correspondent.]

Perhaps the heaviest and longest fight ever witnessed on a Rugby field in Kenya was that played on Saturday at Kitale when the South African and British teams met for the first time. The Colony's representatives were beaten, but the margin between the sides was much closer than the result indicated. By no means a record had the University the walkers which would appear to be indicated. The game was hard and clean, without a dull moment to be seen. It might have been a tie if it were not for a brilliant stroke which was by no means a surprise to the spectators. Every man of the field was out to make his mark, and the result could be seen in the way the players were carrying up a display of their skill and courage. It was a game which has been seen by a large number of spectators.

One could imagine an eager setting for the making of new history in Kenya's life. In the picturesque grounds of the Kitale Sports Club, where the match took place, Nestling under the shadow of towering firs, and bounded by the slopes of Kenya and Uganda, it offered a brilliant picture for the struggle which was to take place. The sun shone forth in all its brilliance, while the crowd gathered around the touch line afforded a striking outlook.

From an early hour the crowds leading to the ground began to appear, throughout carrying their own of their own kind, and with an excited population. From Uganda, the British and the Kenyan teams came the crowd, which had its own of its own kind, and with an excited population. each must wait for their game but, like the rest of the side, there was a vast amount of them. This fact tended to heighten the urgency of the opposition in the second period. There was just a shade too much individuality throughout. One may expect to see some of the leaders of the first test appear in the next, at least at Nairobi.

Man Who Shows.
Lutwy was one of the outstanding men on the Kenya side. His tackling was hard and certain, and more than once he proved himself in big situations. Wood played a grand game for us, and all his Blackie, the captain. These three forwards were outstandingly good. Boshoff also played a grand game. Of the men behind the screen, Jones played a wonderful game, and that his drop was likely to be a decided weakness was characterized by rare observation. Morlock also showed in the half back line and did many clever things. He tackled soundly and was ready to take any opening. Handerson played a really good game all day.

There was one dominating influence in the Gloucesters team and that was Waring. The centre's brilliant running was the highlight of the game. Very few had his excellent work both in attack and defence. Olini accomplished well rather than brilliant work, and showed something of the form which gained him his reputation in the north, and his great kicking was highly successful. Kirani was steady and clever, and an injury to his back curtailed his activities. Gilha was worried by the six-a-side, and his passes looked their usual accuracy. Forward the men who show were Bierman, Driver, Githare and the Irish.

A Fair Score.
In many respects it was a fair score. The game was close, much more than the result would indicate. Had the marking been half what it was it would have been very hot.

A Word to Kenya.
One thing Kenya must learn to do and that is to tackle low. Hug, in the opposition route, the mark is tall, and the falling of it all is very clearly demonstrated by the manner in which the South Africa's got away when the tackle would have effectively ended a movement. The Kenya methods were in marked contrast to the standard to which the players who got that man low every time.

The Team.
The teams were—

A Student of the Wind.
The "East African Standard" had another journalistic visitor on Wednesday—newspaper man and other writers coming in increasing numbers to Eastern Africa. Yesterday's visitor was Mr. Nilsen Fusha, a Norwegian journalist, who has written many works on big game. One of his best books, "The Ties of the Elk" has been translated into English, and was published by George Allen and Unwin of London. Mr. Fusha has not only been to the country but has not brought any tales with him. He is a lover of the wild. On Saturday, the "East African Standard" had a visitor from the Berengali Plains which is conducting in the enjoyment of an entertaining company of Mr. Jack Luty. He would like to see some of the country and he is now hoping this visitation will permit him visiting the Thana district and the game parks located of the Northern Province. Mr. Fusha is connected with the well-known Norwegian newspaper "Folke-Tidning," Editor Dr. Rolf Thomassen, K.C.M.G.

the starting mortgage is to be so affected thereby.

Funding.

As regards funding, the Board desires to do all in its power to assist, and when applications fall within the limits of the Act, to advance will, if desired, be made for the full value of the mortgage.

It is, however, the land is mortgaged otherwise than to the Bank, and the Board's valuation is now not considered by the Board, fees under the Act must be paid, and application fee, valuation fee and interest fee, total £420, and in such case, in addition to the £420 against the title deeds, approved mortgages are not available.

In the case of land held under Approval of Purchase, the Bank may advance up to £200,000, but conditions laid down in the mortgage Act passed in 1925.

Co-operative Societies and Companies.

Approval of the principle of operation under Section 88 to 90 of the Land Bank Bill. These sections provide that the Board may advance to co-operative agricultural societies for any use or one of the objects which such bodies are legally empowered to pursue.

lands registered in a valid and proper manner and according to the requirements of good husbandry. The mortgagee further agrees to indemnify the representative of the Bank against all claims and proceedings, and should the mortgagee have failed to effect any necessary repairs, the Bank may secure the work at the expense of the mortgagee.

NEWSPAPER REPORTER TO MAGAZINE EDITOR.

American Publisher Finds Comforts in the "Bliss."

Starting late as a Newspaper Reporter and Editor, and later as a Magazine Editor, the late W. H. Parsons of Minneapolis, Minn., on a recent visit to the East African Standard, expressed his appreciation for the work done by the Standard in the East African territory. He stated that he had been in the East African territory for some years and had found it very interesting and profitable. He also mentioned that he had been in the East African territory for some years and had found it very interesting and profitable.

Modest Bill of Costs.

In addition to the above-mentioned fees, various charges are incurred in the passing of the bond, and it will probably be assistance to give here the complete bill of costs in connection with the model application, which is available to the public. The only estimated item in the following form occurs in the bill of costs, and is based on the actual payment upon the advance in the following cases:

Application fee £21.00
Attorney's expenses £12.00
Preparing and registering bond, etc. £21.15
Total £54.15

Of this total, £46.00 would have been returned by the Bank as official for service rendered. The balance of £8.15 would be paid by the applicant. These amounts are based on the fact that the fee of the Attorney or other fee for the bill of costs is £10.00, and the fee of the Registrar is £1.00. The fee of the Registrar is £1.00.

CIVIL AVIATION IN EAST AFRICA.

Airmen Entertained to Lunch.

Just as surely as we have advanced from our infancy on the wings of the wind, so the present time is the time for the East African Standard to satisfy our desire to reach the frontiers of the East African continent.

At a meeting on Friday the Hotel Avenue Nairobi, charged with the responsibility of the Civil Aviation in East Africa, the members of the East African Standard were entertained to lunch.
