No Justification for Isolated Action in Respect of Kenya.

During the last session of Legislative Council, a series of questions arising out of the present financial depression in Kenya were put to Government by the Hon. T. J. O'Shea. Written replies to some of them were published a week or two ago, and below will be found replies to the remainder.

reply to a question as to whether in view of the steady appreciation in the purchasing power of money as disclosed by statistics, any revision of salaries and allowances was proposed. Govern-ment stated that no useful purpose would be served by drawing conclusions from individual investigations as to Kenya alone. The Govern-ment of Kenya would not be justified in taking soluted action.

regard to railway finances, it was stated by Govern-ment that the actual revenue for 1931 would prob-ably fail short of the estimates approved by Legis-lative Council. Certain reductions in expenditure to counter-balance the shortfall were being put into effort.

Replying to a further question regarding passages and local transport, Government stated that efforts were being made to cut down expenditure. Extension of tours had been authorised, and rates of mileage had been considerably reduced.

Thoroughbred ...

"Thoroughbred" is perhaps the highest word of praise that the British can bestow, for no nation appreciates its meaning more vividly.

To merit such recognition CASTROL has never refused a challenge or trial. Castrol has proved its worth—that it may be deemed thoroughbred.

E. A. NATIVES ASKING FOR THE VOTE.

Assertion by Aborigines Society Secretary.

JOINT COMMITTEE EVIDENCE.

Lord Lugard Defends Magisterial Functions of District Officers.

neral statements with regard to conditions in Ksuya made by the Aborigines Protection Society in the memorandum submitted to the Joint Com-mittee were probed by questioners including Lord Lugard and Sir J. Sandeman Allen tions members suggested that the illustration of the Cape Native Franchise did not offer much support for the Society's proposal that the African should be admitted to a Common Roll and Mr. Harris asked leave to submit new figures admitting that those he had given appeared to be misleading.

Sir John Sandeman Allen suggested that the idea that the native's "most priceless possession" was the vote was an exaggeration.

reply to Mr. Ormsby-Gore, Mr. Harris said the Society had evidence that the East African Hative was pressing for the vote—" so far as Natives do express anything."

Lord Lugard disagreed entirely with Mr. Harris' criti-cism of the weakness of a system whereby an Administrative Officer was also the Magistrate and quoted the failure of the Congo experiment of separating the functions.
