UNCERTAINTY IN WHEAT

There has been a sharp decline in the value of maize on the world's market, states the week-ly market report of the Kenya Parmers' Association, owing to the falling off in demand and the falling oit in examina-pressure to sell from the Argen-tine.

WHO STARTED CLOSER UNION IDEA?

Sir Donald Cameron Traces It To Settlers' Fear.

NATIVE POLICY "THREAT."

sks Why Mandated Country is "Dragged" Into Political Controversy.

Whatever value may be placed upon Sir Donald Cameron's evidence before the Joint Committee, or whatever influence it ultimately exerts, he was at least, a refreshing witness. His "dry humour" was appreciated by the Members.

For instance, he said, the white population in Tanga-nylks was politically "very assertive" and had been "saccinated from Kenya." To him a "mass meeting" in Moohl meant six or twelve settlers in a local bar.

having been humourous at their expense. Sir Donald finally told the Committee that he judged Europeans and Indians by the quality of their re-presentation in Legislative Council. He had found them "excessively reasonable."

own view was that the Closer Union proposal was put forward because it was feared that the Tanga-nylka Government. Native Policy would shatter the dream of a "great White State" from Kenya to South Africa and "co-ordination" was merely a closk.

ted whether white settlement was beneficial to the African, he asserted that in Tanganyika there were "several instances where the European is not teaching a lesson to the native. He is sitting down," said the late Governor, " and living a very poor life in a very miserable way."
