THE LONDON SOLUTION OF THE RAILWAYS PROBLEM.

Hand Them Over to a "Statutory Board."

STABILITY IN KENYA.

Lord Stanley's View of "Greatest Thing Colony Could Have."

Kenya witnesses before the Joint Committees of the opening of the third day were questioned at length by the Chairman, Lord Stanley, so far the minutes open in Kenya to encourage the development of assuming greater responsibilities by control over finance.

Witnesses, while agreeing with the general principles suggested to the Committee that in the interests of the future the development of health, medical, educational and even road policy, should remain the responsibility of the Kenya Government.

Proposal was made by the Chairman that the Railways should be handed over to a Statutory Board.

Francis Scott, who would not commit himself to this new suggestion, said that if a scheme was put up it could be fully discussed.

Chairman showed some concern regarding the "disturbance" African in the form, although the witnesses asserted that very few natives had definitely severed their connection with the railways.

Francis Scott welcomed the Chairman's suggestion that "some sort of stability for a period" would be the greatest thing Kenya could have.

Native Control Over Finance.

In view of the constitution of the Finance group in London by the Joint Committee on Finance, it was pointed out that the Finance Committee should have a definite and clear purpose to be achieved.

Chairman, Lord Stanley, is believed to have been asked to look into the matter of the Finance Committee and to report to the Joint Committee on Finance.

With Collyer, I think, to whom all correspondents in connection with 'Kennel Notes' should be addressed, does not add hereby to the main, based on information supplied by his correspondents.

I might have pointed out that chronic cough of the ear comes from the ear canal. The cause of its commencement is inflammation of the ear canal and the inflammation is caused by the ear canal being blocked with wax.

My latest lady correspondent writes me of her first Danes of whom she is very fond and says she has a fine litter of 10 puppies by her last year. She says that she had hopes of bringing out a pair of her own breeding, but she was disappointed.

dog pup and his, 6/5, for a bitch. All such low prices do not pay for the work which is done. It is necessary good food to rear them. I have written to some letter-writers that they should not be misled by the low prices which are offered for such puppies.

I have received a very long letter from a lady in which she says that she has a dog which she has named 'The Duke' and that she is very fond of it. She says that she has a dog which she has named 'The Duke' and that she is very fond of it.

Without standing down my ear about every particular note of the dog and of dogs that are often with him. I can honestly assure those who are interested themselves about the native owners of dogs that they are not so much as they are often made out to be.

My latest lady correspondent writes me of her first Danes of whom she is very fond and says she has a fine litter of 10 puppies by her last year. She says that she had hopes of bringing out a pair of her own breeding, but she was disappointed.

I have written this weekly article I have found quite amusing and I have found it very interesting. I have found it very interesting. I have found it very interesting. I have found it very interesting.

African Standard. VOLUME XXXIII. WEDNESDAY, JULY 12, 1934. The Land Bank. On June 10, when the financial provisions for the Kenya Land Bank was approved by the Legislative Council, Government indicated its intention of issuing a statement of the aims and functions of the Bank as soon as possible. Although this has not yet been done, Government has already invited applications for assistance from the Bank. The delay in issuing the statement is explained by the fact that certain important details of the Bank's operations are at the present time under discussion with the Legal Department. These details relate to the character and definition of security acceptable to the Bank, and the nature of the "long-term" loans which are required by agriculture as permanent improvements but the position of seasonal crops, such as cereals, is not so readily stated and inter-pretations are necessary before the Bank can consider to what extent loans of this kind are to be made. It is given to producers of seasonal crops and who are in the class in the Ordinance. It is given to producers of seasonal crops and who are in the class in the Ordinance. Kenya's main industry. We realize that it should not be assumed that the Bank will be able to do much for the general public in the industry as at present the Government is not providing a comprehensive scheme of long-term credit. We suggest, however, that the Bank would find its main sphere of usefulness in association with the establishment of new enterprises and probably in some section of the credit problem in the Native reserves. We believe our view, then, stated, that the Land Bank would not be regarded as a financial institution but as a financial institution which is generally accepted and that the aim of the Colony must be to invest its funds in the most profitable and profitable manner. Why I Want A GENERAL ELECTRIC Refrigerator. I have questioned everyone I know who owns an electric refrigerator. Some, with refrigerators other than G.E., wished they had a G.E. Several spoke of the irritation of incessant servicing. Every G.E. owner felt hers was perfect! Salesmanship, like a prospective husband, is full of rose tints and optimism. And both will promote you plenty. But after the ceremony, and after the first payment, illusion flows to facts. Ask a wife about husbands, and an owner about refrigerators. That's what I've done, and that is why I want a General Electric Refrigerator!!!

A Biscuit is a light and delicate and flavory as Jacob's Butter Puffs cannot travel all over the world without the best of packing. And it gets it in a sealed airtight tin, which for all its stoniness and richness, is opened without any trouble. These puffery biscuits do very well with cheese. Perhaps even better with jam or stewed fruit.

"That this Chamber notices the resolution passed by the Nairobi Chamber, and being as it is in the centre of a large maize growing area, it is in a better position than Nairobi to appreciate the effect of any increase in the existing railway export rate. It is satisfied that any increase can only result in disaster to our maize producer, and already struggling, industries of the Colony."

UGANDA BRANCH,
FRIDAY, JULY 10, 1931.

Helping the African.

So much has been said and written during recent months about the "patronage" of Native interests and the possibility that, under the influence of somewhat sentimental Scottish Government the way may seem to be opening up to a deplorable neglect in public policy, that nevertheless must be secured for a time until East Africa has had an opportunity of taking advantage of the period of stability to which the Chairman of the Select Committee recently returned. That period may or may not be the last, but for the moment it is the last. The East African Standard, in its issue of the 10th inst., has published an article which has found it difficult enough to find its way to the minds of the people here, but which is of the greatest importance to the people here, and which is of the greatest importance to the people here. The article is of the greatest importance to the people here, and which is of the greatest importance to the people here.

employment of African labour and articles on the other side of the coin of employment of labour of any race is an important matter to which at least 150 members were prepared to accept the first condition. The Indian Congress Committee while protesting its interest in African labour, has suggested that the Indian Government will result in the elimination of the "patronage" of Native interests in the Indian Government.
