PROTECTION OF WAGE-EARNERS.

Reply to Demand by Constituents at Seaham.

The improved tendency on the Stock Exchange is signified upon by the evening newspapers as a sign of confidence in the obvious determination of the Government to deal with the financial situation.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald in a letter to the Seaham Labour Party, states that he will not consider resigning his seat before he has completed the imperative duty which he has undertaken of restoring confidence in national credit and the protection of the mass of wage-earners from serious disaster.

He adds that the sacrifices which the nation will be called upon to make will be shared as equitably as human ingenuity can do it.

It is announced that a special session of Parliament has been summoned for Wednesday next, and that the Premier will sit for a vote of confidence in the new Government before the financial plans are announced. A statement will be made by the Chancellor on the following day.

Another Labour M.P. has informed his constituents that he has reserved his decision on his attitude to the new Government, and repudiated direction by Party caucus.

THE LOSTEN MESSAGE.

To the Editor, "E. A. Standard"—As a visitor to your wonderful land, I have been struck with sympathy for the thousands of suffering from the present economic depression. I have seen the suffering in the streets of Nairobi. I have seen the suffering in the streets of Nairobi. I have seen the suffering in the streets of Nairobi.

The question which is now, doubtless, exercising many minds is "Will the Dip of the Payer Fund be effective?" I would suggest a few considerations for your readers' consideration.

We have an old tradition that the head of the call of the British Empire, which has been the cause of the suffering in the streets of Nairobi. I have seen the suffering in the streets of Nairobi. I have seen the suffering in the streets of Nairobi.

Who will Kenya wake up to her fact that God really has a claim upon her? It is not only the fact that she claims cannot be ignored by any of us who are awake.

Yours etc,
 MONTAGUE GOODMAN.

CIVIL SERVICE CONDITIONS.

To the Editor, "E. A. Standard"—I am writing to you to express my opinion on the conditions of the Civil Service. I have seen the suffering in the streets of Nairobi. I have seen the suffering in the streets of Nairobi. I have seen the suffering in the streets of Nairobi.

If an income Tax were introduced it would only mean that the civil servant would be paying very much more than he is at present. I have seen the suffering in the streets of Nairobi. I have seen the suffering in the streets of Nairobi. I have seen the suffering in the streets of Nairobi.

Yours etc,
 MONTAGUE GOODMAN.

There is some discussion as to whether it seems to me that there are any grounds for the suggestion that the Government should be asked to consider the possibility of a new system of taxation. I have seen the suffering in the streets of Nairobi. I have seen the suffering in the streets of Nairobi. I have seen the suffering in the streets of Nairobi.

It is a really stupid to think that the Government should be asked to consider the possibility of a new system of taxation. I have seen the suffering in the streets of Nairobi. I have seen the suffering in the streets of Nairobi. I have seen the suffering in the streets of Nairobi.

The week is likely to prove one of the most interesting as well as one of the most critical in the life of the present Parliament.

To-morrow the Prime Minister, Sir Ramsey MacDonald, will make an important statement to Parliament on the National Government's plans for dealing with the financial position. Thereafter there will be a division on a vote of confidence which is expected to give the Government a majority of sixty.

In a speech during the week-end Mr. J. H. Thomas said the economies proposed by the Government would be drastic and the measure of sacrifice called for would be heavy. The present crisis, he said, could only be met by convincing the world that Britain was able and intended to meet its obligations to the full.

NAIROBI'S INTEREST IN THE CIRCUS.

 for even the ships that had been known to sink on their heads. And the circus which had the human bodies— all the spectators were watching the exhibition for some time.
 This was evident when the circus came and the big tent on which the animals were to be exhibited was set up. It was not until the circus was fairly well established that the animals were exhibited. It was most interesting to watch the dance which was performed every evening. Tomorrow there will be a military, and the present only one made head to head in the circus.
 The first elephant that the circus of the Nile river did, and nothing escaped them, gradually increasing in size. The elephant and the animals and the people, and the animals had the last of the night. Many hours of the program was nothing to them.

Performing Lions.

Good shows that a Pope opens the evening with a performing lion. To him they are just a couple of big cats, full of life, and he has even the fact that it is most thrilling to meet one in the game reserve unexpectedly. The lion and his mate, and a small white in his hand, Pape, had been through some other, and they obey him without a murmur. One day, after a performance, the other, did open the performer's apron a little with a few jagged lines— or was it that Pape's eyes? Many people in the audience also to hand Pape for a boy scout and— many have seen the lion at the waste looking for Jim in the preserve. Others have seen the lion with a spear on his shoulders as he walks north on his early ride. Nairoi's Ark is staged.

As to the rest of the program, the high spots were those of the circus. The high spots were those of the circus. The high spots were those of the circus. The high spots were those of the circus.

The masses were particularly good, and when Martin George did give one of his pieces of sugar and milk, and when Martin George did give one of his pieces of sugar and milk, and when Martin George did give one of his pieces of sugar and milk, and when Martin George did give one of his pieces of sugar and milk.

Dramatic Reading.

The evening comes to a close with the human ball. This takes place so rapidly that not a few people were caught on the spot. It was a very interesting event, and the audience was very much interested.

STORM AND BATHING TRAGEDIES.

More Details of a Terrible Summer.
 A TRAGIC CHAPTER.
 (STANDARD CORRESPONDENT.)
 London, (By Air Mail).
 This week has been a most interesting one, both in the bathing and storm fatalities on the seas have not been counted.

Fourteen deaths and widespread damage were caused by the great gale which swept across the English coast on Monday. Surveys on the side bathing areas, and lightning struck all took their toll. There were drowning when a boat in which they were crossing to Portsmouth from the Isle of Wight capsized; two others were rescued after swimming many a mile for help in the Channel. In the Channel, 400 labourers working on a dam in Devonshire, were caught in the swollen river. In spite of the fact that a narrow boat was the gallant rescue vessel, two of the labourers were drowned. The rescue was effected at Margate in an attempt to save a child whose mother was in a boat with a boy and his nurse, who were in a boat with a boy and his nurse, who were in a boat with a boy and his nurse.

 THE new way for all records.
 It supersedes the old "card-in-box" or ledger methods. Makes crystal clear facts which, unless arranged on Roneo-card, are obscure and difficult to arrive at.
 Amongst other advantages, Roneo-card gives you CONTROL over every stage of your work, and enables you to see AT A GLANCE—

- Can you see at once those who have not paid (from you for six months)?
- Ledger.
 Can you see at a glance those of your accounts which have not been settled for any particular period you wish to know?
- Stock Records.
 Can you see at a glance—
 (a) Those goods which are not moving.
 (b) Those stocks which are dangerously low.
 (c) Those which are heavily overstocked.
- Works Record.
 (a) Exact progress of any piece of work at every stage.
 (b) All jobs in hand or uncompleted.
- Customers Record.

Call and see the Roneo-card in actual use at the Head and Stationary Store, Nairobi.
