The most momentous ejection campaign in modern times in Britain drow to a close on Monday night, with a final frenty of electioneering. All the parties massed big battalions of speakers for the final appeal to the ejectorate preparatory to the polling yesterday.

The first contested result has already been announced, that of the University of Wales, where a National Liberal was returned with a substantial majority over a Welsh Nationalist.

Last year constituted a cound for the number of con-victions for offeness against the gains laws in Korya. Something of the difficulty and action ture attaching to the tracking down of over positions in fold in the Game Warden's annual report.

Some of the records of the search for and finding rhino horns read more like the fiction dear to heart of lovers of adventure than the matter fact records contained in the report of a Gove-ment Department.
