MANY FEARS REMOVED.

Manchester Guardian" Explains Why Closer Union Failed.

If the Committee's Report does not meet all wishes, it exorcises many fears "says." The Times "in the course of editorial comment on Joint Committee's Report.

"Manchester Guardian" expresses the view that the hope of closer union broke on the resistance to the proposal by Tanganyika and Uganda neither of whom, says the journal, had anything to gain by becoming involved in Kenya's problems.

"Morning Post" deplores the fact that "the union of East Africa, an enterprise of great pith and moment has been turned sways and will be indefinitely postponed."

election Made on a National Basis,

The Prime Minister has formed his Cabinet and the selection is regarded as constituting a strong and well-balanced team, National in its character and well-equipped to attack successfully the problems it will have to face.

list consists of 11 Conservatives, 5 Liberals and 4 Labour Ministers. The last-mentioned include Mr. Snowden which strengthens the belief that the last Ghancellor of the Exchaquer will go to the Mouse of Lords.

The fact that a number of Britain's older statesmen stood aside has enabled the Prime Minister to have a Gabinet of younger men. The oldest Minister is 67 and the youngest 41.

nesting of the East African Branch of the Overseas League was held in London on October 14, when Lady Covyndon presided over a large gathering of East Africans. The chief object of the meeting was the consideration of a campaign to induce suitable settlers with adequate capital to go to East Africa.

Lady Eleanor Cole during the course of an address outlined the work already done by the Executive of the Branch, and indicated proposed future activities.

most important feature of the work was the compi-lation of a list of books dealing with East Africa. This was an treent need, and the National Book Council had undertaken this work.
