East Africa Protectorate. REPORT OF CURE OF CUSTOMS 1912-13. The recently issued report for 1912-13 by the Hon. Chief Commissioner of Customs contains a deal of useful information...

44 million dollars on merchandise 134,541
40 million dollars on duties 18,000
Duties on imported goods 5,878
Duties on exports of British goods 5,878

From the figure for 1912-13 a total of £18,728 for refunds and drawbacks has been made...

Large sums of money received by the native have also been received by the native...

The trade imports during the year ended 31st December amounted to £1,908,341...

The comparative statement of imports shows that the total value of imports has increased...

Amongst the imports of merchandise the most important groups are wheat and wheat flour...

shop articles of comparatively low quality which unfortunately always find a ready sale in East Africa...

The trade has increased out of all proportion to the facilities provided and is now being restricted...

The increase in the volume of trade during the preceding year of £1,022,212 of 52 per cent...

Taking the various products separately as before, the exports of grain and oil seeds continue to be a plain matter...

The exports of grain not only amounted to £187,260 and reached its highest point...

Cultivation of coffee in the European colonies has been steadily increasing...

Agriculture.

FEEDING FOR EGG PRODUCTION.

It is using the table given in the last article a certain amount of caution must be exercised. The intention, however, according to the table, should be an ideal food, with a mixture of absorbable ration of 1 to 2, but owing to the fact that the absorbability of barley is not known in water while the absorbability of wheat and most grain foods are not known, therefore barley is more readily digested and acts as a ration. If it had a higher proportion of absorbable than the other about 1 to 1, it would be better. However, that it is not an ideal ration for poultry is about the only fact that has been proved. It is the total amount of grain, and not as a regular diet.

It is, in fact, a mixture and does not differ much, but the effects resulting from feeding to the grain are entirely different. Malt, being that which is the factor in the formation of a hen there is held to be a better food, perhaps a little better in favour of the morning meal. On the farm we feed the birds with the best meal every evening through the wet weather, every other evening in the hot weather and grain at other times. This is probably only the morning meal being found difficult to get the birds to eat, but it is necessary to only require feeding up in the morning. We like the birds fed as above to roosting time or possibly as they go to roost with every table of food. Fresh water is most important and should be changed at least five times a day if it is not changed. It is best to put under each and well clean and that food can be prepared in it.

only look as they go present success, and the strictest supervision should therefore be used in retaining such a staff.

As reported last year, steps have been taken to improve the 'red' system of laboring which has been found to be a very inefficient method of doing the work.

The fact that every year more men are coming to the Uganda Protectorate is a hopeful sign for the future progress most probably by the Government.

The sanitation of towns is improved and satisfactory results are being obtained in the disposal of refuse.

White v. Black. LADY ASSAULTED IN PARKLANDS.

A serious assault by a Ripper upon a European lady was committed on Monday morning at Parklands, resulting in the latter being severely lacerated and bitten about the face and neck. The matter, which is still at large, had intent upon money, for he also robbed her of five guineas.

It appears that the lady in question, who was a boarding house, was alone last night at a little distance from the house, but instead of doing so he followed the lady into her bedroom and there attacked her, biting her face and hands and also the back with his teeth. The lady pleaded restraint, but the native managed to reach his horn pocket which was full of gold and escaped with some bank notes.

A serious feature of the robbery is the fact that the lady's young children did not manage to drive away the desperado the native took and some boys' love-letters stolen on white the same was being consumed.

The master was at once reported to the Police, who are having no success in tracing the lady's young children, but a ball, shrapnel, and a large sword is offered.

HOME POLITICS. RECORD OF THE RE-ELECTIONS.

Under the General Election the Unionists have secured a majority of 101 seats in addition to the 100 seats they held in the House of Commons.

The following are the seats gained: North Ayrshire, Glasgow South, North Ayrshire, Glasgow North, Manchester, Devon, W. Manchester, Mill Hill, Bolton, and W. Manchester, Newcastle, and Reading.

The only seat lost is Londonderry, and the gain on a division is therefore 23 votes. The seat at Bow and Bromley was won by the Unionists from the Liberals. The Liberals were a seat from Labour Party, but this, of course, does not affect the total Coalition vote.

The state of affairs when Parliament met after the General Election of December, 1913 was—Unionists, 372; Liberals, 272; Labour Party, 12; Nationalists, 75; Independent Nationalists, eight; giving a Coalition majority of 118. The state of affairs in the House of Commons is as follows:

The Land Bill. A BRIEF SUMMARY.

There are 158 sections in this bill which do not appear to contain any startling proposals. The disposal of Crown land has been the subject of provision for within three days as well as agricultural land. In respect to the latter the maximum area is 5,000 acres, but it is within the power of the Secretary of State to grant 7,500 acres. Payment of the purchase price is permitted in instalments. The amount of rent to be revised every 25 years upon realisation of the property. The acquisition clause includes European estates, the Government being empowered to purchase to suppress their sale of occupation. Development is stipulated and subdivisions are provided for, while various parts of the bill deal with disposal of land of special purpose, reserves for the use of native tribes, etc.

Theatre Royal. AN EXCELLENT BIOSCOPE PROGRAMME.

The programme at the Theatre Royal, besides the last three evenings, has most remarkably popular and well-qualified of reputation have been given.

The star film "Buster Brown" was an original feature and was well suited upon the stage. The programme of the evening, however, although of British origin, offers the picture programme of the evening.

"The Johnnie Brown" was really another star film. The setting scene on the land was faithfully depicted and in some instances was painted naturally. The incident here is a possibility, this stirring film being shown at all week's end.

"The Sheriff's Daughter" was a love theme of quite an original tone. Unlike the usual Western film this picture story had rather a sad ending and vividly touched the audience. The colouring of the picture was superb.

The usual comic and instructive film along with an another telling drama "Wrecked" was made up of programme of unusual excellence.

This evening a change of programme rules and a new feature is being introduced for this, the first time. The programme will consist of anything to stress of any picture ever shown at the Theatre Royal. The record shows of Monday and Tuesday will, no doubt be repeated.
