'Taking the Waters' in Kenya.

(Special to the "K. A. Standard" by Miss W. E. Kinton.)

During the course of my recent travels in Kenya, I have been struck by the fact that the people of the country are taking the waters in a way which is not only a novelty but also a highly beneficial one. In the past, the waters of the country have been regarded as a mere curiosity, but now they are being taken as a means of curing various ailments. This is especially true of the waters of the Rift Valley, which are being taken by thousands of people. The waters are being taken in a variety of ways, and the results are being most successful. This is a highly interesting development, and it is one which is well worth watching.

MEDICAL SERVICES FOR THE AFRICANS.

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard," Sir.—In the report of the Select Committee on the Health of the Colony, which was published by the Government in 1959, the Committee is of the opinion that the medical services rendered to and for the African population are inadequate. Unfortunately this is not the only instance of neglect on the part of the Government of Kenya. The Select Committee has also pointed out that the Government has not provided a sufficient number of hospitals and clinics to cater for the needs of the African population.

Unfortunately this is not the only instance of neglect on the part of the Government of Kenya. The Select Committee has also pointed out that the Government has not provided a sufficient number of hospitals and clinics to cater for the needs of the African population.

FROM NAIROBI TO LONDON BY AIR

Diary of an Interesting Journey.

VARIED EXPERIENCES.

Some weeks ago Mr. R. F. Mayer, Chairman of Directors of the East African Standard, and Mrs. Mayer travelled to London by the Air Mail, and for the benefit of other East Africans who may contemplate using this modern method of travel Mr. Mayer has provided a personal narrative of the journey.

He declares that he is aware that since Imperial Airways started their regular service travellers have written reports of the excellent work of this Company, but he has always felt that certain details were rather omitted or under-emphasized and that the story was worth amplifying.

Details Which Make For Comfort.

When I first started to write, I felt that I should mention that I was flying to London by the Imperial Airways Air Mail, and for the benefit of other East Africans who may contemplate using this modern method of travel Mr. Mayer has provided a personal narrative of the journey.

Since after breakfast the machine climbed to a high altitude and we travelled for an hour or so in a comfortable line in a land of mad colours...

Next morning we were called to breakfast at 4.15 and started by 4.30. At 6.15 o'clock we arrived at the first of the 'City of London' stations at 7.30.

"We reached London at 7.30. I was met by my luggage and taken to my room at the Hotel Cecil, Strand, London. The service was excellent and the food was very good.

"During this part of the journey we travelled under the wing of a very big machine. Our flight was very smooth and comfortable. We arrived at London at 7.30.

"The machine arrived at Heathrow at 10.30. I was met by my luggage and taken to my room at the Hotel Cecil, Strand, London. The service was excellent and the food was very good.

"At Heathrow we were met by my luggage and taken to my room at the Hotel Cecil, Strand, London. The service was excellent and the food was very good.

"The hotel at Heathrow which has been built by the Imperial Airways is very well run. The service is excellent and the food is very good.

[By Miss Fiddling, M.A., B.A., and Mr. D. O. J. ...]

"When the requirements of the Twentieth Century are considered, it is not surprising that the moral sanction should be the first to be considered in the case of town planning law.

Growing Demand Along Pacific Coast.

BRITISH CONSUL'S STATEMENT.

Value of Co-operation in Preparation of Crop.

Advice to Kenya planters in the preparation of their crops is prepared in a memorandum on the subject prepared by the British Consul at San Francisco.

Useful Advice.

The following advice is made from a Memorandum prepared by the British Consul, San Francisco, dated this week.

"It is especially important that the details of the growing season on the Pacific Coast, which has grown considerably more rapidly than elsewhere, will continue to grow in proportion to the quantity of demand which is produced in that area.

"This may make it necessary to increase the quantity of coffee produced in that area.

Some letters left before the late Lord Deans, President of the Association and Kenya, East Africa and the Transvaal, died on the 12th inst. He was a member of the E.E.A.A., and was Chairman from the inception in 1929 until his death.

On a preceding occasion, his portrait by a well-known artist had been reproduced in the Standard. It is a portrait by a well-known artist, and was largely due to his inspiration and assistance that his program and development of his Association has been done.

I am sure you will find the details of every member which I have left. I shall be glad to receive your replies.
