ORGANISED LABOUR BUREAUX AS AN ALTERNATIVE TO UNCONTROLLED WASTE.

In September last, the "East African Standard" published a special article on the squatter system, giving figures from official sources revealing the extent of the menace, and the various methods of settling areas to support the squatter system.

The article aroused widespread attention and has since been a subject of frequent discussion throughout the Colony.

A letter, in the following continuation, expresses the view that the system is a menace to the white settlement, and to the African himself, is wasteful, impracticable and pregnant with dangerous political and social problems.

It asks Elected Members to examine the questions thoroughly and advocates abolition, substituting for it a properly organized system of Labour Bureau in the Reserve.

He was, however, inviting the British, American and French Ambassadors to consider modified proposals.

Trying Time for Air Mail to and from the Cape.

BOTH MACHINES HAVE TO MAKE FORCED LANDINGS.

Terrible Weather.

PASSENGERS AND CREW MAROONED IN A SWAMP.

Flight conditions conspired to make the inaugural flight of the London-Cape and Cape-London air service difficult and hazardous.

It was known in Kenya that both machines had to be held up, no details were available until the air crew carrying mails from South Africa reached Nairobi on Wednesday evening, several days behind the scheduled time.

It is revealed that owing to atmospheric it was impossible for the aerodrome at Mbeya to get into wireless communication with the machine to warn the pilot that the aerodrome was unsafe. A landing was made but the machine could not rise again until the passengers had disembarked. They refueled the aeroplane at another aerodrome ten miles away.

The aerodrome at Mbeya was under ground mist and a forced landing had to be made 40 miles away.

It was the "City of Karachi" flying through the most terrible weather and had to be forced landing in a swamp where passengers and crew were marooned for some considerable time during the night of a relief party.

Doleful Experiences.

The mystery of the "Wednesday" which was delayed several days on the Victoria Nile, was solved by Captain T. D. Brown, who was in the machine just before she left.

All regular readers of the 'East African Standard' will recall the important discovery relating to the past history of East Africa which has been made in the last few years by the East African Expedition... Dr. Leakey's work...

Dr. L. S. Leakey the leader of the Expedition has spent the whole of the last few months sorting and arranging part of the East African prehistoric material which has been excavated by the Museum and has now completed the arrangement of a very interesting and instructive treatise dealing with the most recent age groups from the very dawn of the Stone Age to the beginning of the metal age.

Old ivory exhibits.

In order to make the exhibit more complete a series of the very important new material from the Old ivory found at Fort Mervine has been added to the exhibit... This material is available for view to the Colonial Office and to the Home authorities...

Despite the vast stores representing the various sections of East Africa which have been arranged in the show at the main Hall of the Museum, the East African Expedition has been able to bring to the attention of the public a series of objects which are of great interest and value...

In addition to the exhibit of stone tools Dr. Leakey has also arranged an instructive display of some of the most important objects of prehistoric culture... These objects are of great interest and value...

Chinese Positions Still Under Fire.

JAPANESE BOMBARDMENT CONTINUES.

Mile-Long Wall of Flame.

LITTLE ADVANCE DESPITE ENORMOUS EXPENDITURE OF ADMUNITION.

The official reply by Japan to the joint peace proposals put forward by Britain and America has been received by the respective Ambassadors. It rejects entirely the suggestion that both sides should withdraw from points of contact...

There is a persistent rumour that Admiral Shirota, the commander of the Japanese naval forces, who was never succeeded in his post, has committed "harakiri" in accordance with Japanese custom.

The Japanese bombardment of Chinese positions near Shanghai continues. Naval guns, heavy and light aircraft and aeroplanes are still engaged in their work of destruction.

Chapel presents a scene of utter desolation after its terrific hammering by Japanese guns. Chinese troops who were engaged in holding the railway station, with many civilians are still clinging to their battered huts.

During the bombardment of the Wooming forts, which are still being held, cable stations belonging to Britain and the United States were destroyed and the Japanese apologized for the damage and promised to repair them.

Japanese Admiral's Suicide.

Admiral Shirota's death is reported to have occurred in the Japanese navy.

The reply actually repeats the point of view which the Chinese side finally put forward. It says that the Chinese side is "missing the point" and agrees to the third and fourth points.

Simultaneously the Japanese Government has decided to send an army division to Shanghai to return the marine. The reply actually repeats the point of view which the Chinese side finally put forward.

SCENES AT CHAPAI.

Civilian Still Clinging to Homes.

A mile long wall of fire lit up the sky this morning for four hours Japanese aerial bombardment of Chaipei in which there were serious destruction.

ADMIRAL'S SUICIDE.

In accordance with Japanese custom, Admiral Shirota is reported to have committed suicide.

Government's Appeal to People of Kenya.

"ENLIST FOR THE DURATION" AND HELP THE OLD COUNTRY.

Kenya Not a Sinking Ship.

THE "WATCHDOGS" WILL BE CALLED UPON TO DO WHAT THE "WITCHDOGS" DID IN THE IMPERIAL ERA. The old country is facing big economic difficulties...

Let us show our confidence by devoting our full powers of heart, brain and hands in a united effort for the welfare of Kenya, East Africa and the Empire.

The foregoing are two sentences from a speech delivered by H.E. Sir Joseph Byrne, Governor of Kenya at a luncheon on Thursday.

Announcements made by him included the appointment of a "Watchdog Committee" for the forthcoming year to inquire into the Agricultural Board, an enquiry into the Kenya Credit Corporation, and a review of the Government's policy in relation to the white industry and a report on the effects of the 1950-51 drought on the economy during examination of the 1950-51 budget.

His Excellency mentioned that a rough computation of the effect of the recently introduced taxation showed an average additional payment of £7 10s a year by a settler and his family.

In a reference to recent agitation the Governor declared that some utterances, he was informed, had done harm at home and in those parts of the Empire where he was trying to get capital and settlers. He denied that Kenya was a sinking ship, drifting about without guidance and contended that the country was well under control, although badly battered.

Reply to Critics.

His Excellency said that the Government of Kenya is not a sinking ship, but a ship that has been battered. He said that the Government is doing its best to deal with the situation.
