A Help to Farmers.

A GREAT WORK

The Standard Cyclopaedia of Modern Agriculture.

Edited by Prof. H. PATRICK WRIGHT F.R.S. F.R.C.S.

With Special Contributions by more than 200 leading Authorities, including many articles on African subjects, contributed by the highest authorities on Agriculture in Africa. The most comprehensive work on Agriculture ever published. NO FARMER CAN AFFORD TO BE WITHOUT IT. It clearly sets forth up-to-date Agriculture in all its various branches and deals with every leading subject—VITICULTURE, LIVESTOCK BREEDING, DAIRYING, FURBERIES, MARKET GARDENING, HORTICULTURE, AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS AND MACHINES, PESTS AND DISEASES, VETERINARY SCIENCE, AGRICULTURAL CHEMISTRY, SOIL PHYSICS, FERTILIZERS, AND ECOLOGY, BOTANY, AGRICULTURAL CHEMISTRY, IRRIGATION, MANURES, FENCING, STUFFERS, ECONOMIC AND BOOK READING, DIPS, GAMES, SPORT, and a great deal of miscellaneous matter invaluable to the Farmer, Sportsman, and Settler.

The twelve volumes will contain about FIVE THOUSAND ILLUSTRATIONS in a large number of semi-illustrated, semi-annual full-page plates in colours, and a number of Anatomical Models, which will be a valuable guide to Agriculturists and Stock Raisers, both in the tropics and in the temperate zone.

Price, Rs. 100, payable in three instalments, Rs. 50 with order and two payments of Rs. 25, covering a period of four months.

CARRIAGE PAID TO ANY PART OF THE TWO PROTECTORATES.

PROGRAMME.

Duke of Argyll
The occasion "I have heard and do not hear." is in the Duke's opinion, all wrong. This representation of the man is to be along in the next issue, but not before the 14th.

Baroness Orozy "If I were a Man."
The author of "The Secret Flapper" believes in having a man's personality. That she thinks she would be the best, she makes no secret of.

"Mrs. Fred Matutin" (Edith Cecil Perch).
"Woman's position and ultimate place in the Protectorate." The question of woman's position in the Protectorate is a subject which is not only a subject of the day, but a subject which is a subject of the future.

Claude Graham-White "Why Airmen are Not Afraid."
The English aviator who was the Gordon Bennett Cup in 1910. He is now doing some astonishing things with a Waterbury of his own design.

Professor Flinders Petrie "Oldest History in the World."
The greatest authority on Egyptology gives us a civilization nearly 5000 years old—the oldest authentic history of the world.

Sir A. T. Quiller-Couch "If every Face were Friendly."
"Q" has so long been the sign of whimsical narrative and has been content that introduction would be an improvement. But readers will pardon a contributor of the breadth of achievement which intrudes in thirty-six volumes that primarily anthology, "The Oxford Book of Verse."

William Le Queux "A Page of Memories."
A man of Mr. Le Queux's position (and disposition) naturally meets with few new faces and great experience. Other men meet with them, but few can put them before us so vividly as this gifted novelist.

Sir Francis Burnand "About Some Humourists."
The views of a humorist editor of "Punch" on some of our leading humorists is a very funny thing.

Sir Martin Conway "Romance of Mountaineering."
One of the greatest explorers and climbers of the age describes how the mountain of mountaineering came to be.

Sir H. Seton-Karr, C.M.G. "An Exciting Day in British East Africa."
"A day's lay in his gun-buster's paradise may include anything and everything from a lion to a duiker—an antelope not much larger than a hare. Although missing a lion and a hippo, the Henry was quite satisfied with his day's work."

Queen of Roumania "If I were a Millionaire."
One of the "Cannon Sykes's" charming essays. That the author, although a Queen, is far from being a millionaire, and is in fact poor proof of the distinction, merely adds liquidity to the article.

Judge Parry "The Funniest Thing I ever Saw."
Many people consider "What the Butler Saw" to be the funniest thing ever seen, but the author of it holds other views.

Tom Gallon "The Art of Choosing a Wife."
The genial author of "Tattler" is in his best vein when dealing with a subject of this kind.

E. F. Benson "My Favourite Pastimes."
The author of "The Bachelors Club" "made no mistake." His favourite pastimes are skating and other "winter sports," and his article makes the reader who has not spent a holiday in the Alps feel that he is missing something.

Hubert Bland "On Keeping Up Appearances."
"Hubert" answers to no better name in the Oxford than he is at present. His article will be full of interesting home truths, on some effective. Other special and valuable articles will appear on "The Home Rule" question by Mr. Bland in East Africa with a lion's share of the laughing stock, which has been kept in the East.

Problem No. 110. (By J. G. CARROLL).

No. 3 in the "Perpetual" Series. Black 3 Pawns.

White 2 Pawns. White to play and made in three rows.

The British Chess Federation has been much to promote chess in schools.

The interesting and well-organized game played on the 64 squares of the chess board.

White—(Observe). Black—J. H. Hall.

Anyone may play at any time with equal advantage. It is a most instructive game.

The key move to No. 110, with the principal variations, should be selected first.

Solution of No. 108. (By Mrs. T. B. Rowland).

White. Black. Key move 1 P-B 1. 1 Q-P 2 on pas.

Solved by—G. M. Solomon, "O.C." P. D. Dillibon, P. Alexander, R. M. Gibson.

NOTES. The attention of solvers is drawn to the fact that every move in chess is made of inexact claims, the principal variations in the above problem are required as well as the key move.

Adjusted a win for Black.

Stock Sale, Nairobi.

Monday, 16th February, at 10 a.m.

IMPORTANT SALE OF GRADE STOCK.

AT THE MUNICIPAL YARDS.

Favoured with instructions from Mr. H. Heasley of Kamili Ranch, Kyamba, we shall offer for sale on above date:—

Approximately 300 GRADE COWS and HEIFERS.

These cattle have been personally inspected by us, and we have no hesitation in recommending them as some of the finest grade stock ever offered for sale at Nairobi. They are bred from good native cows and shorthorn bulls and, having been reared in an East Coast Free District, are practically immune. Mr. Heasley is, selling solely on account of his removal to the Nandi district.

Also, favoured with instructions from Mr. T. Russell of Kyamba, we shall offer for sale on above date his splendid dairy herd, comprising:—

60 Grade and Native Cows, Heifers and Calves.

Including several Cows in full milk.

1 Bred Herford Bull.

An excellent opportunity for the local dairy farmers

Royal Viola Perfume

presents the finest essence of flowers and sweet grasses in a form to charm and delight discriminating users. It is entirely free from that heavier odour which is so often exhaled by the most costly perfumes when they are first dropped from the bottle. The bouquet is most delicate when first applied, and its fragrance lingers long after application.

Special Articles.

"East African Standard."

We have made arrangements for a series of articles on

ADVENTURE, TRAVEL, HUMOUR, HISTORY, ESSAYS, Etc.

By the undermentioned well-known writers.

PROGRAMME.

The following special articles have already appeared: "Some Tight Corners" by Mr. Henry Sainsbury, C.M.G.; "The Conqueror of India," by Flora Annie Steel; "From Nairobi to Laikipia and Roundabout" (Article I), by Mrs. Fred Matuini (Edith Cecil Parson); "To the Young Men," by the Daily of April 1921.

"Mrs. Fred Matuini" (Edith Cecil Parson).
From Nairobi to Laikipia and Roundabout. Articles II, III and IV.

(Mrs. Parson is the author of several books on travel including "Adventures beyond the Zambesi." She writes in a pleasing and entertaining manner, and possesses a keen sense of observation. Her articles will have a particular interest, and we have been fortunate in securing the exclusive rights of a series of four articles under the above title.) This will appear in our Daily issue of Feb. 18, and Weekly issue of Feb. 21.

"Hibernicus"
The Case for Home Rule.
The Question of Ulster
Ireland under Home Rule: a Forecast.

(The question for Home Rule is one not only of importance to Irishmen but to every portion of the British Empire. The situation is now tending to a climax, and the articles we have recently secured from the pen of an able Irish journalist will thoroughly survey and estimate the subject. The writer is not a party politician and deals with his subject in an impartial manner.)

Baroness Orczy "If I were a Man."
(The author of "The Yellow Peril" believes in having, before of strong personality. With this title she would be the best of her race, under interesting reading.)

"Mrs. Fred Matuini" (Edith Cecil Parson).
Woman's position and ultimate place in the Protectorate.
(The question of woman's rights has occupied so much attention in the Western world that it is not surprising that it would be put in this Protectorate one that shows in an excellent for the franchise. Mrs. Parson has a definite in her article. "The Angel in the House" which will indicate that she is a disciple of Dorothy Paterson.)

Claude Graham-White "Why Airmen are Not Afraid"
(The English aviator who won the Gordon Bennett Cup in 1910. He is now doing some astonishing things with a "Waterplane of his own design")

Professor Flinders Petrie "Oldest History in the World."
(The greatest authority on Egyptology gives us a view of a civilisation nearly 8,000 years old—the oldest authentic history of the world.)

Sir A. T. Quiller-Couch "If every Face were Friendly."
("Q" has so long been the sign of whimsical narrative and keen comment that introduction would be an impertinence, but readers will pardon a reminder of his breadth of achievement which includes in thirty-six volumes that primary anthology, "The Oxford Book of Verse.")

William Le Queux "A Page of Memories"
(A man of Mr. Le Queux's position and disposition naturally meets with strange folk and queer experiences. Other men count with them, but few can put them before us so vividly as can this gifted novelist.)

Sir Francis Burnand "About Some Humorists."
(The views of a first class editor of "Punch" on some of our leading humorists is really funny.)

Sir Martin Conway "Romance of Mountaineering."
(One of the greatest explorers and climbers of the age describes how the excitement of mountaineering gets hold of its devotees.)

Sir H. Seton-Karr, C.M.G. "An Exciting Day in British East Africa."
(A day's bag to take big game hunters' parties may include anything and everything from a lion in a duker, or a hippo, or a rhinoceros, but a hare. Although missing a lion and a hippo, Sir Henry was quite satisfied with his day's work.)

Queen of Roumania "If I were a Millionaire."
(One of Queen Roumania's charming essays. That the author, although a Queen, is far from being a millionaire, and it is not either proud of the distinction, merely adds piquancy to the article.)

Judge Parry "The Funniest Thing I ever Saw."
(Many people consider "What the Butler Saw" to be the funniest thing ever seen, but the creator of it holds other views.)

Tom Gallon "The Art of Choosing a Wife."
(The genial author of "Tatterly" is in his best vein when dealing with a subject of this kind.)

E. F. Benson "My Favourite Pastimes."
(The author of "The Balcony Club" needs no introduction. His favourite pastimes are skating and other winter sports, and his article makes the reader who has not spent a holiday in the Alps feel that he is missing something.)

Hubert Bland "On Keeping Up Appearances."
(Hubert Bland is to be better known to the Continent than he is at present. His articles while full of disconcerting home truths, are never offensive.)
