A Safeguard against Infection

You know that feeling—as if you don't feel well—you have little energy—no
appetite—very irritable and no desire to do anything. These symptoms are indications of latent infection. This is the time when you are off your guard against infection. Don't be taken unawares—take a bottle of "Bryon" Amian harshly.
After a dose of this wonderful tonic your appetite will return, your tone and vigor be entirely restored.

Pigs Need Careful Feeding! Give Them Pollard.

The advantage of fresh pollard over maize, barley meal, etc., are:

- (1) It is sweeter and more palatable.
- (2) It is equally good as a fattening food, i.e., has the same starch equivalent and low fibre content, but has twice as much digestible protein as barley.
- (3) It is free from husks, but is nevertheless an excellent roughage.
- (4) It is the safest of all Pig food.
