The Standard Cyclopaedia
 OF Modern Agriculture.

This new work shows how every East African Farmer can now take advantage of the latest discoveries of science and adapt the most successful modern methods.

These farmers who are disappointed with last year's results, and wish to do better this season, would do well to get some copies of THE STANDARD CYCLOPAEDIA OF MODERN AGRICULTURE, Edited by Prof. FATHERS WRIGHT, F.R.S.

This great work treats some 1,500 subjects of paramount importance to farmers—Tillage and Farming—Stocking—Stock Raising—Dairying—Farming—Landscape Gardening—Insects—Pests and Diseases—Fishing and Bee-keeping—Orchards and Cane Growing—Veterinary Science and Practice—Agricultural Geology and Soil Fertility—Entomology and Zoology—Horticulture and Horticulture—Agricultural Chemistry—Agricultural Law—Economics and Bookkeeping—Agriculture of the Tropics—Dogs—Cattle—Sports—There are a few more but...

Full of reliable advice.

No more authoritative work has ever been published. The 200 illustrations are valuable in their actual presentation.

The illustrated booklets on offer will give you much more information than is possible to give in this column. Send for it at once! It is the only work of the kind in the world. THE STANDARD CYCLOPAEDIA OF AGRICULTURE is the cheapest and best investment of a farmer's leisure hours.

THE LATE LIEUT. COL. J. O. WILL.
AN APPEAL.

It is held that the friends of the late Col. Will in this and the other Protectorate will be desirous of contributing to the fund which now being raised in England in view of the distressing circumstances in which the widow and her children have been left by his sudden and unexpected death.

Col. Will's connection with East Africa began in 1904, when he was selected by the Foreign Office to succeed Dr. R. U. Moffatt, C.M.S., as Principal Medical Officer of the combined services of Uganda and East Africa Protectorate. His Army training and his wide experience in Uganda were invaluable to this country in laying the foundation of an organized Medical Service, while he himself won the respect of all who came in contact with him.

When the combined Medical Services were re-organized in 1911, Col. Will resigned to his appointment, and, rejoicing his Corps was established at Richmond in Yorkshire as Deputy Assistant Director of Medical Services for the Northern Division of the Territorial Force. Owing to the age which he was compelled to retire from the Army, and early in the year he was called to the village of Dunston Green near Seven Oaks. After only seven weeks he fell a victim to pneumonia, and died on the 11th of the month. His death, which occurred on his eighth child was born, the mother's mental and bodily suffering being increased by a long and painful illness. He left behind a wife with a family of eight to bring up, and a large number of relatives. A worthy allowance from the War Office is being made for the entire income, for, as matters stand, no great sum can be expected from the sale of the practice, which is a small one, and only returns are not sufficient to maintain the establishment, and the public are invited to contribute to the fund which is being raised to meet the expenses of the funeral, and to provide for the maintenance of the widow and her children.

It is felt that those who are desirous of contributing to the fund should do so as early as possible, as the circumstances are such that it will be difficult to raise the necessary amount of money to meet the expenses of the funeral, and to provide for the maintenance of the widow and her children. The fund is being raised to meet the expenses of the funeral, and to provide for the maintenance of the widow and her children.
