The Week's News.

(Through Reuters' Agency.)

HOME.

Politics. Mr. Lloyd George shortened his tour in Algeria, where there has been a heavy fall of snow, and he is returning to England. The French papers say it is stated that he has been recalled by telegram, but this rumour is officially denied in London. The "Daily Chronicle" states that Mr. Asquith will visit Paris next week. Mr. Winston Churchill arrived in London on Thursday evening. He has been a guest of the Duke of Westminster in France. Reuter learns that Mr. Asquith will pass through Paris on his way to the Riviera to join his wife. The suggestion that the visit is of a political character is without foundation.

TRIBUNAL OF EMPIRE.

Lord Halsbury, speaking in Edinburgh, mentioned that Baron Cripps would become a "Law Lord." There are now twelve law lords thus the rank of the Tribunal of Empire is, he added, now in proper order and completed.

WATCHFUL UNIONISTS.

Mr. F. E. Smith, speaking at Liverpool, promised Mr. Churchill support from the Unionist Party in his fight to maintain the strength of the navy against the "bungling amateur," Mr. Lloyd George.

THE NAVY QUESTION.

Mr. Stanley Buckmaster, addressing his constituents at Kingley, Yorkshire, declared that there was no division among the Government Ministers on the subject of the navy; their policy remained to preserve the integrity of ourselves and the Dominions by maintaining an unassailable superiority of the fleet. At the same time they meant to make plain that neither our agreement nor aggression would Great Britain add a single unit to her naval strength.

FOREIGN.

Germany.

ZABERN ARRAID. The prosecutor at the Zabern trial, Strasbourg, contended that as the civil authority at Zabern had failed to maintain order Colonel Reuter had not been obliged to himself exercise authority in defending the honor of the officers, the defendant did not justify imprisonment. He asked for a penalty on Lieutenant Reuter because he assaulted one of the prisoners and knocked out a tooth. It is stated in well-informed quarters in Germany that the Crown Prince's transfer from Danzig was due to his unsatisfactory relations with his superior officers, including his adviser, Herr A. Coester, who is a friend of the Kaiser. The convictions of the Crown Prince by his own judges is evidenced by his parting words to the Hussars—"It is difficult for me but I must say that I cannot any longer ride at the head of the Regiment; so-day I bury my youth."

VILLAGES INVADED.

Reuter's correspondent at Koenigs, North Germany (Pomerania), states that a dam separating Bulow Lake from the Baltic Sea has burst and one of the villages in the vicinity has been inundated. Hundreds of villagers are missing. Troops are hastening to rescue the survivors. The disaster was due to a terrific gale which caused the wall to break in three places. The villages inundated were Danzig, Nest, and others. These were completely overwhelmed. The roofs of the former are just discernible above the water by the aid of a telescope, and the water is washing on all sides of the submerged houses. The gale caused enormous damage in the vicinity of the Gulf of Danzig, to the east of the coast. The sea was so high that it inundated the Hela peninsula. Several villages are also flooded, notably Kurwenen and Zoppot. Thousands of soldiers and blue-jackets from the fleet have been sent to the rescue of the villagers in the affected districts.

United States.

ANTI-TRUST LEGISLATION.

Reuter's Washington correspondent states that tentative anti-trust legislation has been prepared by the majority of the members of the U.S.A. Senate Judiciary Committee. This covers the problem of issue-locking directors, the regulation, and the regulation of price, interest proceedings, and suits for damage by individuals. The bill inhibiting the interlocking of directors applies to banks, trusts, companies and all industrial corporations engaged in inter-State commerce, and will permit their control to pass to an army of men, instead of remaining in the hands of a few.

JAPAN.

DIAMONTS FROM BARTOQUEARS.

In the south of Japan severe earthquakes have occurred. First at Sakura Shima and then at Kago Shima. Numerous blocks of stone were thrown from the former. A distance of twenty miles and the whole island was covered in flames. At the latter island, seventy thousand persons fled to terror from the subterranean upheaval, the telegraph office and stone remaining at his post in order to learn the outside world of what was transpiring. His sent numbers of messages showing that terrible scenes resulted from the shocks and the fall of buildings and the death of persons, describing them as "more than horrible," and adding that the city was covered with an incalculable material thrown up, while thick smokes completely shrouded the city. The actual casualties are unknown up to the present. A tidal wave added to the horrors of the situation and this also caused extensive damage and a large death-roll.

Since Saturday no less than sixty earthquakes shocks were experienced daily, notwithstanding the eruption of Sakura Shima. One village was totally destroyed, and it is feared that others have been wiped out of existence. The flames and ashes reached Kago Shima city.

The situation is described as a serious one and the damage is enormous. Two Japanese squadrons are proceeding to the locality from the capital, steaming at full speed.

The ship, was left in South America, a telegram from Lima, Peru, stating that the lower quarters of Callao have been inundated by a gale, tidal wave, simultaneously with earthquake shocks lasting fifty-five seconds. No fatalities are reported.

A report from Nagasaki reports that warships have sent wireless messages that the recent earthquake in Japan has been certified in its severity. The casualties will probably be the heaviest ever known.

Dovetail had, burning rocks the rescuers worked most heroically. These villages have been completely overwhelmed and none of the villages saved. The earthquake has now subsided although a strong easterly typhoon is blowing. Fifteen feet of ashes lie upon Kagoshima. Many people have been drowned trying to escape the sea. Others have been suffocated by the poisonous gases.

Miscellaneous.

A wireless telegram was received in Halifax, Nova Scotia, from the royal mail steamer "Deborah" from London, stating that she was seeking for help and stating that she had sunk, a rock off the island Grand Manan, in the Gulf of Fundy. The Government authorities at once commissioned a steamer to proceed to her rescue, and they went to the spot indicated. Despite a long search, however, no trace of the steamer has been found. It is believed that the vessel has been lost. She carried eleven passengers, besides a crew of ninety.

Articles have been signed at Paris for a match between Jack Johnson and Frank King on the heavy-weight championship of the world. The match is probably to be fought on the evening of the Grand Prix. Johnson will receive six thousand pounds and King will receive four thousand pounds. Training expenses, while Moran will receive one thousand pounds. The money is being provided by three American financiers.

COLONIAL.

South Africa.

SPREAD OF THE BUBBLE. It has been ascertained that there are sufficient food supplies in Johannesburg and Durban to support the population for the event of months as the result of the epidemic.

body has notified the public that steps have been taken to ensure the regular provision of the necessities of life to all classes of prices which will be regulated. The strike, in the meantime, is spreading rather than diminishing and the central strike is registered in Pretoria as a foregone conclusion. In manner of preparations have been made by the authorities to cope with the situation. It is announced that the Imperial Government has authorized the use by the Union of Imperial troops if this is regarded as necessary.

MARTIAL LAW.

An arranged. Martial Law has been proclaimed the railway spaces of the Transvaal and the Orange Free State, as well as Natal, the proclamation being issued on Monday evening after a meeting of the Federation of Trades. This meeting decided to declare a general strike and the mines were expected to come out on strike on Tuesday afternoon.

A Minister for Native Affairs, General Botha, has sent circulars to the managers of the mine compounds throughout the country asking them to urge upon the natives employed upon the mines the necessity of their going to work on the day of the present unrest. They are urged to explain the position to the natives. No trouble is anticipated from this quarter, but all preparations have been taken in the event of a possible outbreak, and special guards have been appointed over the compounds in the neighbourhood of Johannesburg.

Dynamite is still being discovered hidden alongside the railway line in the Transvaal, and the proclamation being issued by the Government on serious explosion has up to the present occurred. At Rooyens, on the East line, a pair of men, belonging to the Imperial Light Horse, discovered a quantity of dynamite on Wednesday morning.

A body of police, headed by a lieutenant with strikers in Johannesburg on Wednesday, when an attempt was made to raid the Trades Hall, a pair of men, the secretary of the Trades Federation, and a member of the police, included them owing to the intervention of the strikers. When the police arrived at the hall building in question, they found it had been barricaded against them, but this obstacle was broken down. The police having entered the hall, a search was made, and it was found that a shot was fired. It is not certain where the shot came from. The police then cleared the whole area in the vicinity of the Trades Hall, and a search was made for a meeting place and formed a close circle around it. In the Trades Hall were seen a number of men, all of whom had sworn to resist all attempts made to storm their citadel. The authorities out of both water and light, but no attempt was made further to effect a raid, it being considered that the inmates are as good as under arrest, and this in a prison of their own making. The police expect to arrest them all to-morrow.

POLICE CHARGE STRIKERS.

During the previous morning, in Johannesburg, a search was made at the police and the latter, armed with rifles, shot at the strikers and charged the strikers. Two men in the crowd were wounded by contact with the bayonets of police. Strikers arrested were effected.

The situation at night on Wednesday, when the strikers were arrested, had been despatched his message, was quiet, and the Government was said to have an obviously strong grip on the whole situation.

Another serious incident had occurred in Natal, a signalman stopping a train engine, the train being being sent off. It is believed that the signalman had been warned this action, and a court-martial was held in Durban, resulting in the signalman being sentenced to be executed for twelve months with hard labour.

Martial Law also prevails at the Cape and in the Transvaal, being especially strict in the case of Johannesburg. The Government forbids among other things to spread false news, and this is being strictly enforced upon newspapers and club news. Reuter's Agency.

See African Column and Reuter's column on page 10.

Canada. A fire has broken out in a wholesale store in Toronto, and the fire has spread to the Boston Catholic Cathedral of St. James, besides a number of the town's surrounding streets in the value of $100,000. Many houses were destroyed.

IN LIGHTER VEILS.
For the week before Christmas we have nothing to complain of on the point of view of news—in fact, we have too much. Some little attention has been attracted by the report of the Royal Commission on the courts of law, which is a most interesting study of the law in its various aspects. The Long Vacation is shortened by a fortnight, there are to be fewer sessions and Grand Jurors are to disappear, there are to be eighteen judges and a minimum of 75 is to be made compulsory. Courts are to sit on Saturdays to 1.30, cases under £100 are to go to the County Courts, and judges are to have "sit on" fashionable courts which waste their time on the Court for no business purpose. We could name the advertisement and perhaps in view of the law of libel we had better say nothing more than that we are only recommending, but that certainly they will all be in the wrong if they stand before the public as utterly discarded.

Our London Letter.

From Our Own Correspondent.

LONDON, December 16th.
A MILD CHRISTMAS.
It promises to be a mild Christmas, although there were seven degrees of frost that night. It is suggested in one paper that this is the mildest Christmas weather for a hundred years. Certainly the gardeners' side full of flowers, roses in particular, being in bloom everywhere, while all the summer. Consequently, artificially cultivated flowers have been exceedingly cheap, but now prices are hardening and Christmas time chrysantheums will have this up to the present has not been the best. The risk of frost is that the leaves will soon be coming out again and that there will be a bad set-back with the early spring autumn "went bad" but, on the other hand, there will be a record hard winter and they have to hurry up just when they stand before the public as utterly discarded.

LABOUR IN LEEDS.

The whole of England has been watching the strike of Corporation employees at Leeds. Because it is felt that this men may "hold up" work in other parts of the country. Leeds is one of the many towns of importance in the United Kingdom, and the Corporation employees are paid £26 a week minimum. The Corporation employees are paid £26 a week minimum. The Corporation employees are paid £26 a week minimum.

FESTIVE LONDON.

After this week there will be no serious business, save in shops and offices. All the shops are full of Christmas toys, and the streets are full of Christmas lights. The majority of people feel that there is less difficulty in making the gifts than in paying for them, but the shops are full of Christmas toys, and the streets are full of Christmas lights.

LABOUR UNREST.

A new body of militant street marchers has appeared here—the "I.W.W." (Industrial Workers of the World). They are a body of militant street marchers. They are a body of militant street marchers.

COVENT GARDEN MARKET SOLD.

London has just been started by the biggest land deal yet recorded in the annals of the Metropolis. Mr. Harry Malby, Deputy Secretary to the Admiralty, has announced as having acquired the whole estate, some 109 acres of streets and holdings, some 109 acres of streets and holdings, some 109 acres of streets and holdings.

Mr. Davy has left for Paris on route to Liverpool, where he will resign his office.

After strenuous negotiations he secured the employees at the gas-works and their sympathy in the strike has been formally expressed.

MOTOR NOTES.

One of the most remarkable expansions of road, one must suppose, ever recorded in any country of the world, is that of Italy, in the vast increase in the importance of the motor-vehicle.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

THE INDIAN TRADES UNION ORGANISATION. In the past, "Indian Trades" has too frequently been engineered by the hands of the political community to further the political and social ambitions of the plutocrat and the Fabian; and as such communication is semi-official, or rather semi-official, the clever agitators find it difficult in appealing through these paternal organisations to the narrower prejudice of the coolie and other ignorant classes.

During the past twelve months the Mombasa Chamber of Commerce has done sterling work for the general good and the public interest. It has been the only body of this month which has been confidently assigned to defend the homogeneity of the community.

THE WASAI CASE.

Mr. A. Morrison, counsel for Agellisti, has lodged the expected appeal against the recent judgment of the High Court of Appeals under the provisions of the Act and called upon to pay costs.

ZANZIBAR.

A farewell reception to Captain and Mrs. Barton, which was attended by His Highness the Sultan and all the senior officials of the Government, was held by the Acting British Agent at the Zanzibar Hotel.

Captain Barton, in receiving thank, expressing the spirit of cordial co-operation which had always characterised his relations with the Acting British Agent and himself in the matter. His Highness the Sultan spoke in high praise of the services of Captain Barton for the future, and it was confirmed that he had invariably required such loyal assistance, would give a fitting part of the wider field for their activity which the Government will have to take into consideration.

On Monday, December 29, Captain Barton was the recipient of a testimonial from the members of the Sultan's Staff of the Government.

The testimonial took the form of a miniature of one of the carved doors, typical of Zanzibar, and an ivory presentation tray. The presentation was made in the First Minister's Office by Mr. Dinkler Bhai, in the presence of a large number of the members of the Sultan's Staff of the Government.

Captain Barton in thanking the deputation said that he felt that he had done little to merit the appreciation of his work, but that whatever his services were, they were those of a citizen, and that his interests would be equally advanced by the Government as those of a British subject.

Thereafter, a large gathering on board the ship, the "H.M.S. " was held, at which Captain and Mrs. Barton, with their two children, are proceeding to Zanzibar.

PROGRAMME.

Sir H. Seton-Karr, O.M.G. "Some Tight Corners." (One of the world's most successful big game hunters recalls some exciting incidents experienced while hunting the great antelope - the eland, the rhinoceros, the hippopotamus and the leopard.)

Flora Annie Steel "The Cockpit of India." (Why the plays of Pundit should have been chosen from the beginning of time as the plays which every truly conscious bhakta of Hindustan should read and re-read.)

Duke of Argyll "A Talk to Young Men." (The motto, "Little boys should be men and old boys, it is the Duke's personality. What else should you be told?)"

Clude Graham-White "If I were a Man." (The author of "The Desert Pimpriani" believes in having lovers of strong personality. What else should you be told?)"

Professor Flinders Petrie "Why Airmen are Not Afraid." (The English aviator who won the Gordon Bennett Cup in 1910. He is now doing some astonishing things with a Waterbury of his own design.)

Sir A. T. Quiller-Couch "The Oldest History in the World." (The greatest authority on Egyptian history as a view of a civilization nearly 4,000 years old - the most authentic history of the world.)

William Le Queux "A Page of Memories." (A man of Mr. Le Queux's position and disposition naturally needs with large full and queer experiences. Other than meet with them, he has no fun as put them before us so vivaciously as this gifted novelist.)

Sir Martin Conway "Romance of Mountaineering." (One of the greatest explorers and climbers of the age describes how the foundation of mountaineering grew out of his own experiences.)

Sir H. Seton-Karr, O.M.G. "An Exciting Day in British East Africa." (A day's life in this big game hunter's paradise may include anything and everything from a lion to a butterfly - an antelope and a snake large as a hare. Although missing a lion and a hippo, the Heavy gun quite satisfied with his day's work.)

Queen of Rumania "If I were a Millionaire." (One of "Queen Rumania's" charming amusements. That his mother, although a Queen, is rarely able to get away from her father's prod of the affection, surely adds dignity to the article.)

Judge Parry "The Funniest Thing I ever Saw." (Many people consider "What the Butler Saw" to be the funniest thing they have ever seen, but the creator of it holds other views.)

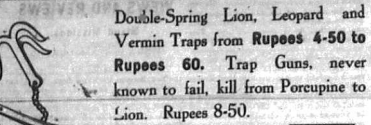

Tom Gallon "The Art of Choosing a Wife." (The good author of "Tattler" is in his best vein when dealing with a subject which is so near to the heart of every man.)

E. F. Benson "My Favourite Pastimes." (The author of "The Ruminator" writes on an interesting, but so interesting, a subject. His pastimes are reading and other quiet pleasures, and his writing power makes his little book a happy one for the eye and the mind.)

Hubert Bland "On Keeping Up Appearances." (This little story which will be better known to the readers of "The Standard" than to the general public, is a very good one.)

SOMALILAND.

A Journey of Faith.

Writing to the "Daily Express" on December 14th from Dire Dawa, Mr. Alan Ouler says: "I arrived here yesterday, having crossed the border from the Abyssinian frontier. The following is a summary by details of my journey. It will be followed by the interior. After leaving Harar on my way to Somali-Land, I crossed the border on October 18th in Abyssinia and took leave of Harar, where I was informed by the Governor that he could not allow me to travel in Abyssinia unless my journey was sanctioned by the British authorities. I therefore I returned to Dire Dawa under the name of a tourist, and then, on October 20th, I crossed the border into the territory of the East Somali, who bear an extremely bad reputation. The Abyssinians have no visitors among them except in the form of a caravan, and they are also said to be hostile to all Europeans. The Abyssinians have no visitors among them except in the form of a caravan, and they are also said to be hostile to all Europeans.
