ITALIAN FRONT.

able Success on Isonzo Front.

TO THOUSAND PRISONERS TAKEN.

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

London, July 23. Communique reports that the Austrians, crossing the Vinococo and Bleda, which are over 10,000 feet high, effected an attack on the Italian positions, were repulsed. The Italians then occupied the two passes. The Austrians made two determined attacks on the front, but were repulsed with heavy loss. There has been little change on the front, where the Austrians made small raids at night-time, attempting, usually, in bombarding with big guns, and the Italians slow advance.

London, July 23. The Italian achieved a notable success on the Isonzo front, on July 18. A communication says a resolute, sanguinary action which had heavy gun co-operation, and the Austrians, aided by the shelling of several lines of fortified positions, were repulsed. An estimated 2,000 prisoners were taken, and the Austrians were repulsed with heavy loss.

NEW WAR VOTE.

The Staggering Cost.

London, July 23. The House of Commons, Mr. Asquith made a total of 150 million in making a credit for the war of 1914. He said it was estimated that the war would cost about 1,000 million. The House of Commons adopted the bill without a division.

U.S. NOTE TO BRITAIN.

Like Nero's Fiddle.

London, July 23. The Times' New York correspondent says a note has been sent to Great Britain demanding that the rights of American citizens under International Law shall be guaranteed by British orders in Council. The note is a demand for the validity of prize court proceedings, in disregard of International Law.

RUSSIAN FRONT.

Terrific Battle for Warsaw.

HUGE LINES SWAY INDECISIVELY.

Reserves Hastened Up.

SHOCKING REPORT: GERMANS SHOOT 5,000 PRISONERS.

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

London, July 17. A communique from Petrograd reports that after stout fighting the enemy, on Thursday, occupied the right bank of the river Wisla and captured and captured to advance towards the east. The Russians on the Narva front, between the Oriza and Pissa rivers, retired on Thursday night to a more concentrated position on the right bank of the Narva.

Vladimir German's attack west of the Oriza on Thursday was repulsed with heavy losses. The Oriza on Thursday, however, was captured by the Russians. The Oriza on Thursday, however, was captured by the Russians. The Oriza on Thursday, however, was captured by the Russians.

London, July 18. A Petrograd communique states that very fierce fighting has taken place at the Oriza. Three battalions of the enemy crossed the river, but the Russians bravely counter-attacked, annihilating them with the bayonet. Reports from other sections speak of successes and reverses on both sides.

London, July 19. Fierce fighting is now general over practically the whole of the Russian front, and stretches from the Baltic to Bessarabia, as the result of a general offensive which was begun on Thursday by the Austrians in the north, and General Mackensen, in the south, with the object of encircling Warsaw. The Germans claim great successes and the capture of many prisoners in both regions, and the Russians profess to have withdrawn to prepared positions, although they state they have dash the enemy severe blows.

London, July 20. A Petrograd communique states that the enemy feature is the mountain belt in Russian territory, and the Baltic provinces, where the Russian crossed the river Wisla, and advancing to the north and south of Miasa. The principal efforts by the enemy are being made in the region of Pranzky, where operations are being carried out on a wide front. The Russians also admit that they have been forced to concentrate their positions near the river Neffel, which is on the left bank of the river, but that they are now proceeding unobscured.

London, July 21. The principal efforts by the enemy are being carried out on a wide front. The Russians also admit that they have been forced to concentrate their positions near the river Neffel, which is on the left bank of the river, but that they are now proceeding unobscured.

full line, the low-lying lather and thicker. The enemy in the first phase of the fight gained some ground, but suffered serious losses, the Russians hurling the Germans back at various favourable points. The two vital points are the district before the great fortresses, on the line from Narva to Ostrodenka, and along the river Narva which is the key to the position near the Narva, and to the south of Lublin and east and near the railway.

A Petrograd communique says that the Germans again took the offensive and captured Pissa river, and that the Russians were repulsed with heavy losses. The Russians were repulsed with heavy losses. The Russians were repulsed with heavy losses.

ways, indirectly, and a Berlin communique says that the Russians are making important counter-attacks from the Narva fortress line. Continuing, this communique states that the Russians are being heavily reinforced. The Germans have evidently made no progress at Blom, which is the most vital point on this front. Where the German reinforcements have arrived, the Germans are one of a most despicable character. The Germans only claim to have taken 1,500 prisoners on the whole front stretching from Narva to the south. A significant passage in German communique is that which says we have been reinforced on all sides, and 'the Russians have begun to give up positions to the west of Oriza.' A German communique issued yesterday had claimed that the Germans were at Oriza. It is also claimed that General Woytowicz is making for Evangrad. Perhaps the most serious battle of all is against General Mackensen. In the other vital sector the Russians are again attacking in the fiercest fashion, and the German only claim a slight advance, but it is doubtful whether they are nearer to the railway than hitherto.

The battle continues.

SITUATION IN COLONIES.

Speech by Bonar Law.

London, July 21. In the House of Commons, during the 1,000th anniversary of the Battle of Tewkesbury, Mr. Bonar Law delivered the military situation in East Africa. He said the position in East Africa was unlike the western position in that the British were in a position to attack the Turkish position of success in the Caucasus. The position in East Africa was largely one of stalemate. He emphasized the failure of the British to capture the German position in the East. He said the reasons why we were able more to hold our own was due to the fact that, though our lines had been retrenched, they were of a class whose services had proved to be specially valuable in the situation.

London, July 22. The principal efforts by the enemy are being carried out on a wide front. The Russians also admit that they have been forced to concentrate their positions near the river Neffel, which is on the left bank of the river, but that they are now proceeding unobscured.

Nerve-Disorders Through Heat.

Exhaustion of mind, depression of spirits, irritability of nerves, are among the first indications that summer heat is causing the nervous system. Unless they are checked, more pronounced nerve depression follows, and in due time the patient has become so debilitated that, while the heat continues, he is unable to do his work. The result is usually a nervous breakdown, or the result of a stroke.

The typical symptoms of nerve irritation should be kept in mind by the physician who writes. The list on the following page is not intended to be a diagnosis, suffering from general debility, the heat and the nervous system, the preparation known as Nerve Tonic. I have used it in a large case and have every reason to be satisfied with the results obtained. Nerve Tonic was first introduced at the International Medical Congress, London, 1914, when it was awarded the only Gold Prize in the world for its preparation of the kind. The Hon. Mr. Justice Robertson, Judge of the Supreme Court, Lahore, Punjab, writes: "My experience with Nerve Tonic has been very favorable. I took it in a few weeks during the most trying season of the year, and found it a great strengthening agent. Nerve Tonic may be obtained of all Chemists and Druggists."

WHAT THE NAVY WILL DO TO GIVE US THE VICTORY.

[BY EDGAR WALLACE.]

London, July 10. — We talked last week with the admirals who may not be so well liked as the high command, but who are the brains of the navy. We found that the admirals in charge of the fleet are not so much as we do know from our reading of the newspapers. They are not so much as we do know from our reading of the newspapers. They are not so much as we do know from our reading of the newspapers.

LORD FISHER.

Lord Fisher's speech in the House of Commons on the 26th inst. was a masterpiece of statesmanship. He dealt with the situation in the East with a calmness and a wisdom that were admirable. He pointed out the dangers that were before us, and he showed us the way to meet them. His speech was a masterpiece of statesmanship.

Pure Milk for Babies

In the feeding of Infants a supply of good milk is of the utmost importance. A young mother is unable to give her own milk. The "Allensburgs" Pure Milk is made from purest fresh milk, and is supplied in such a way as to ensure the difference between pure milk and condensed milk. It is the only milk that can be given to infants in any form.
