BOMBARDMENT OF DARDANELLES.

Attack on the Forts Renewed.

RUSSIANS ATTACK BOSPORUS FORTS.

[BOSPHORUS FRONT'S AGENT.] American, Mar. 31. Despatches from Constantinople state that the Allies have resumed the bombardment of the Dardanelles. It is officially stated that the bombardment of the forts was resumed on the 29th inst. The Russian fleet approached the outer forts of the Bosphorus on Monday morning, but was unable to land on account of the fog. One small ship exchanged shots with a Turkish destroyer, which fled to the Bosphorus about the first hour.

THE KING AND TEMPERANCE.

[The King, in a letter to Mr. Lloyd George, says he feels that nothing but the most vigorous measures can be taken to fully with the grave situation existing in the metropolitan districts. He says he is undoubtedly largely due to drink, which he has already been obliged to prohibit in necessary requirements, and supplies to the aid of our gallant troops at the front. The continuance of the Bosphorus and the holding of the forts was, in his opinion, if he deemed advisable, prepared to act as an example by giving up the King of all alcoholic liquors throughout the Empire, holding his consumption in the royal household, and that there must be no difference between rank and peer.

REVENUE RETURNS.

HERBERT'S PROPHECY VISION.

Militarism in Germany is producing a sort of hypnotic contagion that is doing the worst instance of it. This statement is quoted by the "Chicago Daily Tribune" having been made a few months before his death by General Herbert, who was then in command of the British forces in the East. He said that the militarism which tends to the development of a nation is a disease which, if not cured, will be a harmful, robbing war.

FIGHTING IN THE CAUCASUS.

Further Defeat of the Turks Renewed.

SUCCESSFUL RUSSIAN ADVANCE.

[RUSSIAN FRONT'S AGENT.] London, Mar. 31. A foreign communication states that the Russian campaign in the Caucasus is proceeding successfully. The German Government has refused to accept the Allies' demands, and has stated that the evacuation of the Baltic coast is a matter which is entirely within the German Government's hands.

FROM THE BACK OF THE FRONT.

By DOUGLASS.

Some people like the stirring two-column account of battle by sea or land. The description of a man carrying a wounded comrade on his back is a noble and heroic picture. But give me the story little by little, as we find, under an appropriate heading, in almost any respectable paper, and we shall find that the little stories have become so firmly established in our minds that we do not want to be told of them. There is a certain amount of good sense in this. It is not the man who is the hero of the story, but the man who is the hero of the story.
