PRESIDENT'S DUMA SPEECH

The following address was made by the President of the Duma on the first anniversary of the outbreak of war.

"Members of the Imperial Duma. Today has passed a year of most anxious and painful days for our country. The bloody conflict of the nations has not yet ceased and nobody yet can tell when it will cease.

The reconstituted Government will speak your grateful word, which will be indispensable for the circulation of the funds of our industry, perhaps even for the war itself.

GERMAN TERROR IN BELGIUM.

An instance of the terror which has just succeeded in reaching France, gave a vivid picture of the life there during the first days of the occupation.

In May last, M. Dookham, who lived in Brussels, was arrested by two German officers who drove up to the station in a motor car and demanded the names of the persons who were in the house.

Speaking of the man who was appointed as his guard when he was a prisoner in St. Helens, Napoleon and the Lady Melbourne records: "He was not the character of an Englishman. He is a Prussian."

MR. HARBOURD ON CONTRIBUTION

We take from the "Manchester Guardian" the following full report of a speech made by Mr. Harbord...

There had been an unfortunate, but not surprising, tendency in the past to view the contribution of the United States to the war...

It was a long time before the United States was permitted to show that it was not a mere spectator in the war...

We have a triple duty to see America to the front, to see that she maintains a steady credit...

It is a long course of constant vigilance to keep our Government and our people in the line of duty...

THE FRENCH ADVANCE

A complete account of the great battle made by the French Army in the Champagne region...

The first position, holding the principal features, included from two to five miles of stretching barbed wire entanglements...

Between the two positions, which were separated by a distance of three to four miles, the French had a line of communication...

On the next day our batteries bombarded the German position. We used the tactics of our artillery...

The result was achieved at 9.15. As we had the advantage we were able to push our line forward...

JOFFE'S RIGHT-HAND MAN

The "Times" correspondent in Paris writes, "General Joffre, Pan, and Castelnau were the heads of the main army. The health of General Pan led to his withdrawal from the field and General Castelnau remained the right-hand man of the Commander-in-Chief."

Born in 1851, he was the General Manoury's right-hand man in the Balkans. He was promoted to the rank of Major-General in 1900, availing a personal commission in the defence of Salonica on the day of the special military school as the age of 39, to leave it as an establishment on the day of the war...

It was the custom at Salonica for the army to baptize their "promotion." The 250 new officers who met together in the courtyard of the school before their departure for the battlefield unanimously proposed their first officer as their godfather. The name contained the letters of the name of the man who was godfathered, but which General Castelnau thought his life, and name, were worth.

CHANGE OF THE AUSTRALIAN LIGHT HORSE.

The following is from an article describing the change of the Australian Light Horse Brigade on Saturday, August 2, against the quality of the Turkish position by Captain C. E. W. Brown, the official press representative with the Imperial Force in the Gallipoli Peninsula. The change was part of the operations devised to keep the Turkish position in the Gallipoli Peninsula from being a serious obstacle to the advance of the British and Commonwealth troops. The attack on the Turkish position was made on Saturday, August 2, and was successful. The Turkish position was captured and the British and Commonwealth troops advanced to the Turkish position. The Turkish position was captured and the British and Commonwealth troops advanced to the Turkish position.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

parquet for the Turks to see how much they could find out. There is no question that the Light Horse were pinned down to their positions, and the Turkish position was captured and the British and Commonwealth troops advanced to the Turkish position. The Turkish position was captured and the British and Commonwealth troops advanced to the Turkish position.

In memory of those who fell at Tanga and Longoni on November 4, 1914.

FOR THE FALLEN.

BY LAURENCE BINYON.

With proud thanksgiving, a mother for her children,
England mourns for her dead across the sea.
Flush of her dead they were, spirit of her spirit,
Flesh in the cause of the free.

Solemn the drums strike; Death august and royal
Sings sorrow up into immortal spheres.
There is music in the midst of desolation
And a glory that shines upon our tears.

They went with songs to the battle, they were young,
Straight of limb, true of eye, steady and aglow.
They were staunch to the end against odds uncounted;
They fell with their faces to the foe.

They shall grow great, so, as we that are left grow old;
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them.

They might not with their laughing comrades again;
They sit no more at familiar tables of home;
They have no lot in our labour of the day time;
They sleep beyond England's foam.

But where our desires are and our hopes profound,
Fet's as well-spring that is hidden from sight,
To the innermost heart of their own land they are known
As the stars that are known to the Night;

As the stars that are known to the Night;
As the stars that are known to the Night;

It was all right, even the "Central" was not so bad as I had heard. I found out...

THE SUPER CINEMA PROGRAMME TO-NIGHT, Friday, Nov. 5th.

1 Unmentionables Comedy. A Cleverly enacted picture, how a girl deceives her spouse.

2 Little Ned Western-Drama. An extremely exciting photo-play, of life in the Western provinces.

3 Joffre Nibbling A'om War-Film. Showing our Great Allies tactics of War.

4 Little Billy's City Cousin Comedy. A Grand "Keston" Comedy all the leading stars are taken by an extremely clever company of comedians.

5 What the English Cavalry can do Interest. Going to harness the English, we are repeating this most interesting production...

6 GEORGE BARNWELL Drama. In two parts. A splendid "Hagber" production, perfect setting and cast...

8 Sammy and the Slit Skirt Comic-Play. Full of comical situations that will command laughter and give sport...

GOD SAVE THE KING. ON Saturday Next. On Saturday Next. "GERMALIN" The Great Strike Film.

LADIES AND CHILDREN'S Outfitting, House Linen, etc., Tennis Rackets, Footballs, Fishing Tackle, and ALL SPORTING GOODS.

R. O. PRESTON, HARDINGE STREET, NAIROBI. Every campaign, even the most successful, is full of slow and anxious moments...

WAR NOTES

[By E. Younger]

London, September 30.

OUR BEAVE SOLDIERS

When the average individual speaks of our brave soldiers, he usually has in mind the men who do the great things...

These wounded British professionals have been brought out to be nursed back to health...

It is particularly agreeable to the men also, who are given to us by the French...

When we long to see some young officers who are coming into the world...

These men are being brought out to be nursed back to health...

OUT OF THE SHADOWS.

The following article by a correspondent who has travelled with the German army in the changed positions who arrived in England from Germany recently...

It is that. Perhaps Dutch, or Flemish, or English, or Scandinavian. One must be quick to take a letter of credit...

It was a long time before I was allowed to see the prisoners. The British officers were very much interested in the progress of the German army...

LATEST WARSHIP TIPS

The "Eagle" naval correspondent says that it is well to note that even an expert in naval matters has been misled by reports...

It was the first time any of them had seen the British flag since the outbreak of the war. It was a very interesting sight...

also by recent official reports from the British side. The British side has been very active in the operations in support of the German army...

In another direction the use of an automobile for the under-water attack had been reported as a new method of submarine warfare...

It is a matter of fact that the German army has been very active in the operations in support of the German army...
