Transition.

Our readers will have noticed that in referring recently to the Commisioners of our two Protectorates we ve adopted the recognized style of Their Excellencies." Whether we re officially authorised to do so or whether we are not, is not a matter of much importance for as a news paper (though a unit of the Public Press), we are as an individual and have an individual right and we are perfectly willing to take on our own oulders the onus of our thus using the correct title of "His Excellency when referring to a Lieut-Governe which referring to a Lieut-Governor or one equal in every respect to this rank. We have not to go out of our own continent to find a precedent ok upon our applying the title wedge, though possibly the thinnest wedge, though possibly the thinnest end. We are supported in our ains by the promises of His Majesty's trusted servant, Lord Elgin, the Secretary of State, for the Colonies Lord Elgin whilst acknowledging that British East Africa is not yet ready for all the advantages which natural ly and certainly accrue to a self governing country, vet informs us that he is actually considering the introduction of a form of Government partaking of the nature of self-government and it is evidently his opinion that we may now safely leave our cradle for the walking

As a most potent example the rapidity with which all colonies prosper, after self-government has been granted by the mother country we would select New Zealand, which is now prominently before the world owing to the trage death of the late Prime Minister, the Right Honourable Richard Seddon. This Island is now the wealthiest country in the world when we reckon the wealth per head of the population.

Up to the time of the granting of self-Government, New Zealand was an insignificant island, but after that time the country went ahead at an astonishing rate. The people have passed an Eight hours day Act. a Conciliation and Arbitration Act, and a Government Insurance Act. They have instituted compulsory education and have insisted upon public works and have insisted upon public worsa-being let out to parties of artisans and labourers. They have built 2,441 miles of Railway and have fostered a frozen meat industry, now, second to none in the Empire. The revenue of the country (1905) is 17,407,000 and the expenditure $6,960,000. There is only one explanation for this model state of affairs which the New Zealanders have arrived at and that is the complete understanding Government. We do not hesitate in stating that were the people of this country taken more into the con-fidence of the Government we should reach the happy state of New Zealand more rapidly than did the people of that country, for we have their example before us to guide and help us forward

EDITORIAL.

There is a vast diffe rence between an mpe and the Colonies. In the old topic and the coomes. In the old Country anction sales are generally the result of the poverty or failure of some unfortunate individual and the principal buyers are dealers who do no other business than attend auction sales in different places and auction sales in different places and auction sales in different places and a, different times. In the Colonies, however, it is very different. An Auction Sale is the legitimate place at which all and sundry from the highest to the lowest, seek to plenish their households.

In the Colonies, the articles offered for sale are most generally the Lares and Penates of those who are moving and Penates of those who are moving too ther towns or districts situated at leo great a distance to make it worth their while to pay the necessary raifway or other freights. The young man making a house for his fiances attends the sale to buy. The newly married man attends to fill up those gaps which be, in his bachelor gloveness, and forgotten to fill. # Abbeys Effer- Salt Have'nt you found out about Abbey's Salt vet? You know for a fact that there is nothing so bad for your health as a disordered stomach or a sluggish Liver.

It is also a fact that there is nothing so good for a dis-ordered Stomach or a sluggish Liver as Abbey's Salt.

Now you know-don't forget to use it.

of bananas of an extraordinary number of varieties. On every hand there would be plots of mealies, mtams, ground nuts, &c. On the Fort Hall road nothing like this pro-hasion of cultivation can be noted. Shambas, on the road or in its im-mediate proximity, there undoubted ly are, but there is nothing to compare to the almost unbroken line of inxurant cultivation which extends for miles on some of the "tracks" (we cannot call them roads) which at present exist at the coast.

It has been pointed out to me as an new roads projected or completed, up-country are not intended in the first instances to tan the first instances to tap the existing wealth of the district inrough which they run so much as through them to afford an inducement to settlers to take up land in their vicinity and thus create a supply which it is ex-pected will justify the expense incurred. We have nothing 46 say incurred. We have nothing 40 say against the principll hereby adopted, on the contrary, it is ago-ahead policy which appeals to us, but then this might be carried out at the coast on the principle of "killing two birds with one stone." First of all the present wealth of the district tapped would amply justify good roads being constructed (or at any rate the erection of a few bridges which would render the existing tracks less entirely impossible than they are at present) and secondly and most importantly the White Settler who at present flocks to Nairobi to eke out a bare living in the production of crops, many of which can only expect to find a purely local market, would be induced to pitch his tent in what is probably one of the most healthy tropical regions in the world, where an adequate return might be ex-pected for his labours. As by an adequate return might be ex-pected for his labours. As by degrees the coast belt becomes more populated by Europeans, a market will be created for the sale of those products for which the Highlands are so eminently suited.

It is necessary however to create and not to carry out a policy of pro-market to consume them. We will

ROADS.

We hear on all sides of the new We hear on all sides of the arrows roads being constructed at various places in the Protectorste; but, up to the present, we regret to say that not even through the ubiquitous rumour have we heard that any of these new roads are to be constructed at the coast. Why is the Coast so systematically neglected by the Powers that be? Not only is this the case in the matter of roads but in practically everything that might tend to its advancement. However, as on this occasion we intend to confine ourselves to roads only, we will say nothing about the many other causes which tend to make the settler at the coast look upon himself as an ill-used and neglected individual. We under-stand that an excellent road has been constructed to Fort Hall. Now, for e expected.

In the first place there can be no question but that the latter road

Apply : Office of this paper, neither verbally nor in writing for mally inform the Collector of the alleged breach of the building regu-lations by the accused but told him casually. The Collector had the alleged breach brought to his notice by a letter from the Public Works Department which letter did not state that the accused was the owner of the building and therefore as far as we can gather the only evidence as to the accused being owner or the erector of the building that the Collector had before him when taking out a criminal summons was the repetition of an alleged conversation between the said Superintendent of Revenue and the Accused, the date of which was given in court as May 25th which was before the building was erected. We can find no evi-dence whatsoever that the Collector between this date and June 18th, the date of the writ, made enquiries as to who was the owner of the land or as to who erected the building, from those very persons who must have been able to tell him. The Public Works Department could also most probably have given him information

The Land Office could have given information has to who was the owner of the the land, and the owner could have supplied the necessary information as to who paid for the erection and for the materials, wages, etc., and this is why we complain. We are of the opinion that if further reasonable enquiries had been made there never would have been any necessity to bring an innocent man before the court and put that person to the expense of engaging a counsel or for taking up the time of the court, which at present is under-staffed, to say nothing of the waste of time and temper which the action involved. We hold that while Collectors or other Administrative Officers should at all times adhere to their duty the

We candidly admit that the Col-lector of Mombasa has by his action

HOW TO MAKE CRICKET MORE ATTRACTIVE?

Below are some opin as of famous cricketers as an answer to question above.
The letters appeared in the "Daily Mail." Mr. J. H. Raphael (acting Surrey captain):-

Do not publish the averages. If more sporting, not dangerous, wickets became general, cricket would certainly be brighter. Mr. D. L. A. Jephson (ex-Surrey captain):-Abolish averages and leave the game alone. It is quite good enough as it is. A Fielder (Kent):-

Bright, warm weather. Improved fielding. Less critisisms on the game.

a correspondent to the India Rubber Journal can be taken seriously we do not know, but if any extended use of the invention is brought about it will mean rather a good thing for the rubber trade. Several years ago an attempt was made to adapt the roller skate for use for ordinary roads. An inventor, M. Constantine, has been successful in adapting to a form of roller skate a motor capable of carrying the skater at the rate of 25 miles an hour. The skates have rubber tyred wheels, and each weighs ed and Mr. Jeevanjee's offer to estabjust over 13 lbs. Those Ele-phants again.

The latest news from M'Tondea is that the Elephants and Buf-faloes are once again creating terrible havoc in the shambas of the natives. Whole shambas are being destroyed and families ruined by these useless beasts. We use the word useless advisedly for the world can very well go on without either ivory or buf-falo horns. The Elephant at this time of the year visits the forest areas around M'Tondea and destroy thousands of rich rubber vines. elephant alone will eat all the fruit hundreds of vines at one meal. Here is the chance for the big game shootist. We would recommend as a financial proposal that a number of Sportsmen visit the district named and indulge in a great slaughter. The Ivory secured will well repay them, and even the buffalo horns and feet might be sold for glue. Glue is of more use to us than herds of ferocious animals destroying the crops of the country.
