LONDON LETTER.

(From Our Correspondent)

FLIGHT OF TURKEY

Every reader who is not a devotee of the Turkish cause will be surprised to find that there is no longer any question of their being a party to the war. It is now a fact that the Turkish Government has decided to remain neutral. The Turkish Government has decided to remain neutral. The Turkish Government has decided to remain neutral.

In an edition which has passed a year since Mr. Churchill's remarkable speech in the House of Commons on the 18th of January, 1915, the House of Commons has decided to remain neutral. The Turkish Government has decided to remain neutral. The Turkish Government has decided to remain neutral.

as men that he felt. Yet even the R.F.C. has no policy and as an ailing body the operations of a Ministry of War which we shall assuredly get soon, will be a very different matter. The Government will get such a shaking up that they will never forget it. All that we have to do is to get the Government to get such a shaking up that they will never forget it.

CORRESPONDENCE. While expressions of view are invited from all sections of the community, the Editor will not hold himself responsible for the opinions or statements of any contributors, unless done so expressly.

LAND SETTLEMENT. Mr. H. H. Brougham has been invited to attend the annual meeting of the Kenya Land Settlement Association.

Mr. H. H. Brougham is evidently the kind of man for whom the Government is looking. He has been invited to attend the annual meeting of the Kenya Land Settlement Association.

While on this subject I take the opportunity of mentioning a suggestion made by Mr. H. H. Brougham in his address to the Kenya Land Settlement Association.

My correspondent writes that he can see in these islands a great opening, not only for the settlement of the war but also for the settlement of the peace.

If any reader should find objections to the above, he may write to me and I will put him in touch with the authorities who claim to be an authority on the subject.

END ASSURED. An American Official. In a striking article in one of the American papers, the author has drawn the conclusion that Germany must come to terms with the Allies.

Mr. Churchill was on one hand, but he made a great mistake in recommending that the British Government should not be bound to the Turkish Government. The Turkish Government has decided to remain neutral.

IRISH MEETING.

An Expression of Loyalty.

ENTHUSIASTIC GATHERING.

An enthusiastic gathering of Irishmen met at the Theatre Royal on Tuesday May 2, at 8.30, in order to express their appreciation at the military services rendered by the various divisions of certain distinguished members of the Sinn Fein Society and to receive a message from Mr. Deane, the Irish Minister for Education.

The patriotic meeting was attended by about 150 people, and was presided over by Mr. Deane, the Irish Minister for Education. The proceedings opened with the reading of letters and a telegram from Mr. Deane to the meeting, which included the following: "I am glad to hear that you are all so well and so happy."

Mr. Deane then addressed the meeting, and expressed his appreciation of the loyalty and patriotism of the Irish people. He said: "I am glad to hear that you are all so well and so happy. I am glad to hear that you are all so well and so happy. I am glad to hear that you are all so well and so happy."

we have been taught "as the Government" in the past. We say so and so to a certain extent, but we have our own ideas of enjoyment. But I do not say that our own ideas of enjoyment are better than the popular ideas about Ireland. I do not say that our own ideas of enjoyment are better than the popular ideas about Ireland. I do not say that our own ideas of enjoyment are better than the popular ideas about Ireland.

But let us never forget, ladies and gentlemen, that in the building up of what we now call the British Empire, the Irishman is also a part of it. In the great work which the great British nation, or we may say the British Empire, is doing, the Irishman is also a part of it. In the great work which the great British nation, or we may say the British Empire, is doing, the Irishman is also a part of it.

In moving the resolution, Mr. Hogan said that he had been asked to do so, but that he did not know how he was to be called upon to do so. He said that he had had suggestions that the meeting should be held in the evening, but that he was not sure if that was a good idea. He said that he was not sure if that was a good idea. He said that he was not sure if that was a good idea.

Mr. Hogan then moved the following resolution: "That the Irish people should be loyal to the British Empire, and should be proud of their part in it." He said that he was not sure if that was a good idea. He said that he was not sure if that was a good idea. He said that he was not sure if that was a good idea.

RUSSIA AND THE END OF THE WAR.

BY OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT (EDGAR WALLACE).

What is the German afraid of? Why is she attacking? What effect will the conquest of Russia have upon the end of the war?

The German is attacking at Verden in the most desperate weather, when the roads are so muddy that transport is impossible...

There was secondary and tertiary gain to the spring, to see depositions made in saying that Germany was completely unable to prevent or postpone the Russian offensive...

Let us now turn to the German point of view. In the first place, the German situation is a very delicate one...

The Hungarian, too, on the other hand, has definite territorial aims. He is not in the same position as the Russian, who is a very valuable step...

Whether we succeed in removing the German from the south by encircling it by battle, or should content ourselves with the removal of the German from the south by encircling it by battle...
