A MATTER OF URGENCY.

TO THE EDITOR, "EAST AFRICAN STANDARD."—My wife and I have just returned from a visit to the mountains and valleys of the East African Highlands.

You have not only a great deal to tell us about the mountains and valleys of the East African Highlands, but you have also a great deal to tell us about the people who live there.

TO THE EDITOR, "EAST AFRICAN STANDARD."—I have just returned from a visit to the mountains and valleys of the East African Highlands.

It is a pity that the East African Standard does not have a more complete list of the names of the people who live in the mountains and valleys of the East African Highlands.

THE WEEK'S HAPPENINGS.

The British have been heavily engaged in the East African Highlands, and the results of their operations have been most successful.

Tea

If you would escape the ills of impure water use tea. To make tea the water must be boiled. Boiled water is tasteless, but boiling water added to Brooke Bonds Tea makes the finest possible drink.

Refreshing, stimulating and beneficial in all respects. See Brooke Bonds name on every tin.

In this market Brooke Bonds tea can be had in two qualities—Red Label and Green Label. Red Label is really fine Indian tea of finest Darjeeling flavour; the Green Label is sound wholesome Indian tea. Packing and blending is done in the Company's factory in Calcutta, whence it is shipped to East Africa direct.

WESTERN FRONT. Allied Offensive Continues. CAPTURES OF MEN AND MATERIAL. Heavy German Casualties.

DEPRESSED COMPANY COMMANDERS. TO the rear of his original front at Pricourt and Mametz. The total number of prisoners taken by the British since the beginning of the battle is 10,000, including 2,000 in the last 24 hours. The latter includes the regimental commander of a German division. Large quantities of war material have also fallen into our hands.

Official German message admits that the British gained ground, passing their lines between Pricourt and Longueval, and occupying Throsses Wood. It mentions attacks by minor British battalions near the Arras-Verdun railway; also the loss of Arrancourt and Arras. Senior staff Headquarters mentions the first employment of gas by the British on the 24th of the war. Detachments of the 4th Cavalry Corps and the Division 11th Cavalry charged the enemy, killing 116 and capturing 100.

At 7:30 in the evening, British troops, continuing a most satisfactory success, were formed and captured German second line, on a front of 1,500 yards, including 233 officers, 11,700 men, 65 guns, 26 machine-guns. These include a heavy machine-gun which was immediately turned against the enemy.

General Haig reports further satisfactory success. The British captured German second line, on a front of 1,500 yards, including 233 officers, 11,700 men, 65 guns, 26 machine-guns. These include a heavy machine-gun which was immediately turned against the enemy.

General Haig reports further satisfactory success. The British captured German second line, on a front of 1,500 yards, including 233 officers, 11,700 men, 65 guns, 26 machine-guns. These include a heavy machine-gun which was immediately turned against the enemy.
