THE KING'S MESSAGE
Magnificence of British Spirit in Present Trial

LONDON April 1.—The King has written to Field Marshal Lord Dingley in the following terms: "During my short visit to the battle-field I had an exceptional opportunity of observing the magnificent courage and gallantry which you displayed in the face of the enemy's attack. It is a great pleasure to me to learn that you were seriously wounded and to be assured that the King and I are very anxious to see you restored to health as soon as possible. I am proud of the British name which you have so bravely defended. Please God, bring you through the present trial."

These are brave words which must give us a glimpse of the gallantry of the officers who hold steady to the end.

Save Money

Every penny need to day helps to win the war, and therefore, there must be provided by every British throughout the Empire, in these days of high priced foodstuffs, a small balance at the end of the month, after having expended a large part of it, in the purchase of the war. We aim to help to make it the rule. Our thought is buying, and the fact that we cater for large numbers, secure successful trading, and every service.

Save Money

Every penny saved to day helps to win the war, and, therefore, should not be neglected by every household throughout the Empire. In these days of high prices, householders, as well as those at the end of the month, who have to appear before a committee, should know that there are many ways to save. Our savings book, and the best that we ever for long came across, contains simple, and money saving.

Do You Smoke a Pipe?

Do you really enjoy your smoke? Much depends on the tobacco, and a very great deal depends on the pipe. The old fashioned pipe is a thing of the past, chiefly because it allowed the poisonous products of tobacco to reach the mouth. This pipe enables the smoker to enjoy the delicate flavor of his favorite tobacco while the nicotine is effectively trapped by an absorbent cartridge which can be replaced as required. It is the named after the famous physician. Read his opinion of it "I think this invention a very good one. I have tried it, and find that it answers very well."

Sir Morel Mackenzie Pipe
