Save Money

Every penny saved today helps to win the war, and, therefore, thrift must be practiced by every Britisher throughout the Empire. In these days of high-priced foodstuffs, a small bit of the end of the month, after household expenses have been met, is the exception. We can help to make it the rule. Our foresight in buying, and the fact that we cater for large numbers, ensure economical living, and money saving.

Serious Question for Planters

TIMELY WARNING

(By J. G. Ferguson.) The recent unprosperous season... serious question for planters...

Early in 1915, when I first arrived in this country, I had opportunity... serious question for planters...

After three years residence in this country... serious question for planters...

A TRAITOR.

The question of shade, in our country... serious question for planters...

"It appears to me that the past history of coffee cultivation in this country... serious question for planters...

"It seems curious that the first have found that in order, but so far from the having profited any... serious question for planters...

A GREAT MISTAKE.

This is of course a great mistake. When the well-known product... serious question for planters...

which the plants might naturally be expected to die out most rapidly from exhaustion; and yet, provoked by the old habits and other side-speculating trees, they will often be found stocked with coffee of time...

Of late years, however, the planters of the low-lying districts have had a serious question for planters...

The "Borne" "lead disease," as some other enemy have been known to attack coffee plants...

It is very significant that whenever Jack-trees are found, as is often the case, standing here and there upon these abandoned properties...

THE DRAWBACK.

The drawback to be derived from shading coffee in low districts, may be summed up as diminished exposure to the sun and consequently reduced longevity of the plant...

I connected the subject matter of this article with a friend quoted above, to the serious attention of the coffee planter...

What, then, on the other hand, are the objections to shade? The whole drawback, as far as I am concerned, is that coffee under shade yields a smaller crop than in the open ground...

There is a serious question for planters... serious question for planters...

COST OF WEEDING.

In the first place, however the trees will be well-kept, the cost of weeding from their exhaustion pure and simple or spot on by "Borne" also...

IMPRESSIVE MEETING OF COUNTRY DELEGATES

A representative meeting, convened privately of delegates from the Protectorate, met at the Protectorate, met at the Protectorate...

The addition to the first was a section in the Protectorate, met at the Protectorate...

These for each school not to be firmly seen each other to prevent a free circulation of air, or entirely to restrict the air...

ORCHESTRAL CONCERT

The third of the series of Orchestral Concerts under the direction of Mr. G. Jansky, given on Sunday afternoon at the Royal Hotel...

The improvement in the orchestra, as compared with the opening night was most marked and it is being improving as it has done...

The musical pieces selected had a wide and varied range and were excellently chosen to suit the orchestra...

Big Fair to be Held in Uganda. It is proposed to hold a Red Cross Fair in the grounds of Government House...

It is proposed that the fair should be held in the grounds of Government House, on Monday, August 5, (Bank Holiday). The fair will be opened at 10 a.m. by the Governor...

For those who cannot attend in person, I would suggest a visit to the fair, if it should be possible to visit it. It is a very interesting and profitable one...

Save Money

Every penny saved to-day helps to win the war, and, therefore, should never be granted by every Britisher throughout the Empire. In these days of high-priced foodstuffs, a small balance at the end of the month, after household expenses have been met, is the exception. We can help to make it the rule. Our foresight in buying, and the fact that we cater for large numbers, ensure economical living, and money saved.

Some of the Points to be Remembered

REPLY TO MR. O'KELLY

(By W. S. Bromhead.)

It is a pleasing tribute to the correspondence for that I blush with pleasure to see that someone has taken the trouble to have read something from my series which appears to have stimulated the interest of other persons amongst us who are being unfortunately "murmured" sometimes. Unfortunately I am not quite sure of what allusion of mine he is referring to. But as I can see the point put forward as a consideration simply by Mr. O'Kelly, I am glad to make up my mind whether by a brief perusal of a colonial job upon an uneducated and obtuse public, or a merely making his statement from the blissful ignorance of his heart.

LOCAL OPINION.

To take his "blissful" suggestions as seriously made means that Mr. O'Kelly doesn't know what he is up against. It has been heard of them too certainly fails to have any cognizance of the powerful vested interests of the British Empire, the strong current of local public opinion, their influential roots, the fact of his own country factors, the capitalist class, the fact of his own political, who would fight his plans to the last with every subtle weapon in their arsenal.

The subject of our Post-War trade relations after peace has been the main study, and it is essential that no time should be lost in the endeavour to put together a program of reconstruction. The British a better understanding of the situation. It is now necessary to consider the future of our

Save Money

Every penny saved to-day helps to win the war, and, therefore, thrift must be practised by every Briton throughout the Empire. In these days of high-priced foodstuffs, a well balanced diet at the end of the month, after household expenses have been met, is the exception. We can help to make it the rule. Our foresight in buying and the fact that we cater for large numbers, secures economical living, and money savings.
