NEW LABOUR BILL

Industrial Court to Settle Labour Disputes

London, Nov. 9. There has been a series of conferences between the Minister of Labour and representatives of the trade unions relative to the formation of the Wages Temporary Commission, set up on November 21.

The Ministry of Labour announced yesterday that Sir Robert Horne will in the near future introduce a Bill establishing a permanent Industrial Court to settle industrial disputes.

The Bill proposes that the Industrial Court of Arbitration, which has been set up, is generally recognized that compulsory arbitration is impracticable, and it is proposed the Industrial Court should settle disputes with the consent of both parties. The Bill proposes the Ministry of Labour to appoint courts of inquiry into trade disputes.

Changes empowering the Industrial Court to decide when actual arrears are not being paid to the whole trade, and prohibiting trade unions from financing direct appeals as a means of enforcement, have been dropped, owing to "very strong objections being taken to the latter part of the proposal."

Mr. Robert Horne today introduced in the House of Commons, the Bill establishing an Industrial Court, and Courts of Enquiry for Trade Disputes.

70,000 ACRES FOR SALE.

Lord Delamere's Njoro Estate.

AT SPECIAL PRICES IN STERLING AND ON THIRTY YEARS TERMS FOR THE NEW SETTLER.

Under instructions from Lord Delamere we shall be offering for sale in a few days time about 70,000 acres at Njoro.

Flax grown on this area took a first prize for seed and a second for straw at the recent Agricultural Show.

Njoro is one of the pleasantest and healthiest districts in the Highlands.

They vary in size from 800 to 3,000 acres, thus providing suitable holdings for the small and large buyer, and most of the agricultural farms are admirably suitable for tractors.

The nature of the soil and contour of the land are such that large areas can be broken up with the minimum expenditure of capital and labour.

There are several fax factories either erected or about to be erected in the district, the owners of which are prepared to handle outside crops.

Our recommendations of any farms will be strictly based upon Mr. Dawson's report. It is stated that the farms are well watered and well stocked.

PLATEAU SCANDAL.

Invited Outbreak of Pleuro-Pneumonia.

ELDERLY DISCLOSURES.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

The discussion on pleuro-pneumonia held lately and published by the Standard on Nov. 12, shows a sad state of affairs in a part of the country where cattle breeding is being extensively taken up.

Incidentally attention might be drawn to the statement made by Capt. Dixon to the effect that he had been in the neighbourhood of the outbreak of pleuro-pneumonia in the East African Standard on Nov. 12, shows a sad state of affairs in a part of the country where cattle breeding is being extensively taken up.

NAKURU MEMORIAL.
Temporary Hospital at High Pressure.

While Nakuru European War Hospital is in full running order in comfortable temporary buildings further contributions are required for the Building Fund of the new permanent hospital on the slopes of Mtengeti. In appealing to the public for further donations the Committee under the following details regarding the Hospital is now running:
The temporary buildings stand amongst exhilarating surroundings and have a delightful outlook on the picturesque Nakuru Lake. The hospital is under the able leadership of Miss Bagg, assisted by Miss Louisa and Miss Topp. Dr. J. J. Dowling is Medical Officer.

Business affairs are conducted by a representative Committee from amongst the residents of the town and district as well as representatives from Nairobi, Mombasa, Njoro, Lamu and Eldama Ravine. The Hon. J. J. Dowling is President.
The Hospital is fitted with the latest modern conveniences and the wards are ample and comfortably furnished, quite a number of patients have expressed their respect when they arrive for leaving after convalescence.
The maternity ward is a special feature.
The operating theatre is complete in every respect and all nature of cases are treated.
The wards have not been contemplated since the opening. To minimize the absolute urgency of this centrally situated institution it was found necessary to take in patients before the place was fully equipped and ready for use.

General cases have been or are in treatment from Kisumu, Nairobi, Eldoret, Keru, Molo, Lodiani, Ravine, etc. etc. Europeans, so much as in what circumstances they may be placed, can be sure of receiving thoroughly up-to-date attention and able treatment on very moderate terms.

The Building fund now stands at approximately Re. 20,000 all of which is voluntary subscription. The Government through His Excellency the Governor has also promised a most liberal donation. More funds are, however, required to enable us to proceed with permanent stone buildings. In asking the public for further donations the committee wish to emphasize the fact that apart from everything else, this Hospital is to perpetuate the memory of soldiers from this Province who gave their lives during the great war.

A very fine site has been allotted by the Government for the permanent hospital on the slopes of Mtengeti overlooking Nakuru and commanding a glorious view of the surrounding valley.
Donations will be gratefully accepted by any of the committee. No member may contribute Mr. J. J. Dowling of Nairobi Mr. J. J.

PREMIER ON RUSSIA.

Government Refused Soviet Peace Advances.

WHY WE INTERFERED.

At a large attendance to the House of Commons, Mr. Lloyd George, speaking in numerous instances from notes regarding the Russian policy, justified in the most criticized (Goshall) speech of November 3. He said the Allied Governments refused to act in connection with the so-called peace advances from the Soviet Republic received through the reputable agencies was "justified" by the fact that he had no knowledge of the peace negotiations. He did not agree with the argument that the Allies should drop their world-wide and enter into communication with the Bolsheviks. He was of the opinion that peace could not be secured to Russia then.

NO NEW EXHAUST.

Mr. Lloyd George dealt on the difficulties of Russia, owing to the fact that it was not justly very quickly changed. He said, however, that the Government would be prepared to check the opening of trade which it was the Allies' policy to encourage. The Government would not insist on departing from its policy towards Russia as laid down by itself in April and some months by Mr. Churchill and Mr. Chamberlain (Times).

He explained the Government could not contemplate the removal of financial burdens to assist Russia, but the Government had an overwhelming sense of the importance of bringing peace to Russia which was overriding the reconstruction of the world.

CAUSE OF HIGH PRICES.

Mr. Lloyd George said the present condition of Russia was one of the most deplorable cases of high prices, which was not substantially American terms. But he said that the Government was not prepared to strengthen their influence with all Russian parties.

From a humanitarian point of view it was no less important that the civil war, which was destroying the economic life of Russia, improving the world, and slowly decimating the best population should be brought to an end as soon as possible. (Times)

Mr. Lloyd George outlined that that was why the Government had always been ready to take any step which would assist in settling the Russian question on terms which would bring peace, order and confidence to Russia, and which would be acceptable to the Russian Government.

He concluded by saying that the Government was willing to have a share in Russia if the House deemed that to be a desirable step. He said the Government would inaugurate no new policy on Russia until the country was ready to accept it without a partition amongst its Parliament.

CIVIL SERVICE PLIMS

Questions in the House of Commons.

London, November 21. In the House of Commons, Mr. Lloyd George (D.P.) today announced that the Government had received the report of the Commission on the Civil Service, which was set up to inquire into the efficiency of the Civil Service.

COAL PROBLEM.

Price Maintained to Pay the Owners.

PROFITS TO COME DOWN.

London, November 14. In the House of Commons, speaking in Mr. Adamson (Lab., West Hildy) for the coal problem, he said that the increase in price of coal was the result of the increase in price of the output was slightly below 60,000,000 tons. The Government was prepared to reduce the amount of the increased price immediately it could be done without making the Treasury's account. If they could not do so, they would be forced to stoppage output from holidays. The Government might lower the price, but by far the most important was the amount of coal. The subject was being considered.

The Government intended shortly to introduce a Bill to limit the coal output to 34 million tons per annum. The "Times" Lobby correspondent says the actual reduction in the price of coal will be 10 per cent.

MAURITIUS MANDATE

French Denial of People's Beat Towards Britain

London, November 14. DEBATE ON RUSSIA.

New Britain and France Draw Back.

London, November 14.—The House of Commons is proceeding to Copenhagen to negotiate with Litzkevit, representing the Russian Soviet Government and to sign the embargo of military and civil supplies.

The British Admiralty is unwilling to receive Litzkevit from Great to Ogor's hands.

It is officially stated that Mr. O'Grady's mission is solely to discuss with Litzkevit the return of British civilians and military prisoners as present in the hands of the Soviet Government. There is no question of the discussion of any other subject.

Each certainly is expressed concerning Mr. O'Grady's mission in view of the statement of a Copenhagen newspaper that the embargo, besides the return of prisoners with certain "higher relations" between the Russians and British. The statement is not correct, but the Premier's health crisis in the London Press does not seem to be an ideal press conference development of the Copenhagen.

The Government will be asked in the next report as to why it declines the Russian policy.
Mr. Fisher's recent interview with members of the Cabinet in London, in regard to national debt and his refusal to accept the addition of the new taxes.

INDIAN CONGRESS.

Second East African Session
By Mr. C. BOWRING.

Many hundreds of Indians gathered in the West Building, opposite the General Post Office, on Saturday, for the opening of the annual session of the East African Indian Congress.

The building had been specially prepared for the occasion, and was well lit with gas and electric lights. The large number present was a sign of the interest in the Congress, and the arrangements were generally well carried out.

The first session of the Congress was held in the West Building on March 7, 1894, and annually this week-end's gathering was the first since the conclusion of the war.

The principal officials were: Mr. Lalor, President; Mr. M. A. Dadi, Hon. Secretary; Mr. M. A. Dadi, Hon. Secretary; Mr. M. A. Dadi, Hon. Secretary; Mr. M. A. Dadi, Hon. Secretary.

The Congress opened on Saturday, H.E. the Acting Governor, Sir Charles Johnston, presiding, and the proceedings of the Congress would be characterized by the presence of Mr. H. H. Johnston.

The Chairman of the Reception Committee, in welcoming the delegates, referred to the fact that the proceedings of the Congress would be characterized by the presence of Mr. H. H. Johnston.
