...to a great extent, I think for the world also suggest that, in future, those who purchased horses under the last sale and found them to have lymphangitis, they should be asked, by advertisement through newspapers, to return the animals, whose they should have made notice returned and the animals destroyed.

The Hill, July 12. The allegations contained in the above letter disclose a serious state of affairs, and mean for all far-seeing men. We have believed that considerable indignation would be expressed among those who have been misled by "having a job in a job," "I've, and now find their names on the list." In view of the fact that the Convention of Associations of Veterinary Surgeons is to be held in the month of August, it is suggested that the following notice be published in the press.

TACTLESS TEACHING.

The Editor of the Standard writes:—Mr. Martineau has quoted Sir John in support of his contention—namely, that the Bible is to be read, but that like all who invoke the Bible to their aid, he omits those portions which contain serious criticisms, or do not uphold it. Let me draw his attention to a few. "I come not to take peace, but the sword." Mr. Martineau, of course, knows the meaning of these words, which like all those who read the Bible, he has anything but a pro-convulsive allusion to the same. "I have been persecuted, stricken, and beaten, and have been in danger of my life." "I have been persecuted, stricken, and beaten, and have been in danger of my life." "I have been persecuted, stricken, and beaten, and have been in danger of my life."

We have endeavored to secure the besting, forward by a strong opinion to the fact that this will be destined to out-last any other motor car in the world.

Co-operate, or "Members" as we are pleased to term "Monthly Customers," may rest assured that we shall do all that is right and proper for the besting, forward by a strong opinion to the fact that this will be destined to out-last any other motor car in the world.

The People's "Combie" in conjunction, is intended to meet a long and well-worn and we have no doubt but that its objects are more than met and that its sphere of usefulness will gradually and steadily expand.

Membership, we find it necessary to explain, does not mean investment of money in the purchase of a car, as in Co-operative Societies. We will no shares yet nevertheless, Members share in a division of the profits.

Members, Clubs, Hotels, etc., are equally eligible as "Members," Monthly Customers.
We do not list to watch the "Dullies" for further arrangements of business developments.

CO-OPERATION Groups to Run the New Farms COMMON EXPENSES

BY G. E. B.

A good deal has been written lately on the subject of co-operation in this country, and many are the companies of which we hear which for a few days emerge into the bright light of day and then seem to glide back into the shadows and their place knoweth them no more. Now the subject lies near to the heart of every thinking farmer in B.E.A. or in any other country for the matter of that, and it naturally presents itself to the minds of many people afresh in connection with the ex-soldiers. To many of the older settlers A. scheme with all its magnificent possibilities seems doomed to failure unless those who have drawn farms are content to work on the co-operative principle.

If little groups of four or five men are formed of whom all the members except one are prepared to keep on in jobs and hand over to the farmer of the party every month a sufficient sum for running expenses so as to retard as much as possible the day when the comfortable little balance at the bank shall arrive at a vanishing point, there is far more hope of a brilliant success for the scheme.

We imagine that the great majority of would-be farmers do not realize the weary months that stretch in front of them when there will be money going out every day and nothing coming in. It is in order to avoid catastrophe during the period that we suggest some sort of a co-operative plan either along the lines suggested or in the way which will suit you better.

Let us imagine a little group of such boys. It is very unlikely that all of them will have capabilities developed along the same lines. One may very likely be a born engineer and have had chances of picking up practical hints here and there. Another has perhaps had some experience with animals, and a third knows something of transport. Why not so map out the work that the energies of each man can be turned to good account on such a farm? Also why not co-operate in such a way?

Every man must more or less have his own breaking-up plough, but might not the two-furrow be a joint-stock possession? The harrow too need not of necessity be in use on each farm on the same day. Now ever since I have been in the country I have wanted to see this principle in working order but it has always seemed to me that the spirit has been somewhat lacking. Won't you rise to it, you who have nerve ideals, and set an example to the world of what can be done when people make up their minds to co-operate in little things.

It was one group of new settlers which it worth while to set on those few hints and make up their own rough boiler plans along the same lines I shall not glad to have written these lines. Won't someone else suggest some other lines along which the principle might be worked out?

2 B-K 4 B-B 5
3 B-K 6 B-K 6
4 B-B 3 B moves
5 B-K 7 mate.

Solved by Nyeri and Sgt. Noon.
An attempt by B. H. Spencer Palmer
by way of B-Q sq is quickly stopped by 1... B-K 7 as of course on account of stalemate B cannot be captured and to whichever square
Black B proceeds White B promptly offers himself in sacrifice. Mr. Palmer has written on the theory and principle involved in this problem
and despite his failure to catch the exact method of solution his notes
are useful reading and are given below:-

I found this very interesting and difficult. I saw the idea was to compel Black to move while the White B attacks P "and also"
threatens to advance along diagonal leading to B 8. To force this position on the third move was not easy.
It is a wonderful study in stalemate and ought to be in all handbooks on Endgames. It shows how to "regain the opposition." Bishops can do
"waiting" moves knights cannot.
If one's manoeuvrable piece is a Knight in the end game
then one cannot "lose"
a move by playing the Knight. With a Bishop one can, and this property of the Bishop, should be taken into consideration in deciding whether to keep one's Bishops or Knights for the end game. Two Bishops are certainly very much stronger in the end game than 2 Knights, apart from this question of controlling the
"opposition."

The "opposition" is really the "offensive" it is the power to put the onus of disturbing his position on to one's opponent. The right understanding of this piece of philosophy
is essential in the end game.
A. H. SPENCER PALMER.

I am also resigning Phosphates.)

To Promote the Development of East Africa.
 It gives us pleasure to announce that we, with the rapid development of the present universal interest in East Africa we have planned a complete reconstruction of our Land & Estate Agency Department, which we can put into effect as from the 1st of January 1915.
 In furtherance of this policy we have secured the land agency business of Messrs. F. Ward & Co., and our Land Department in East Africa will in future be conducted by Major V. M. Newland (who is shortly returning from Australia) and Major E. H. C. H. Tritton (who is shortly returning from India). On his return to England C. H. Tritton will resume control of the London branch.
 SPECIAL arrangements have been made for placing East African properties in London, and for investing English money in different classes of undertakings in the country.
 Our surveying activities will also continue, and we will continue to issue valuations and reports, company prospectuses, share brokering, estate management, and all other services of a general and secretarial nature, and trust that the offices of this Branch will continue to be now situate in Nairobi House, 100, Market Street, Nairobi.
