Why the Pier Contract Must be Postponed.

TWO NOVEL OBJECTIONS ANSWERED.

IF THE LOAN SHOULD FAIL.

There is evidence of considerable public concern at the very wide and incomplete arrangement which has been made by the Secretary of State with Messrs Pauling on the erection of a deep water pier at Mombasa.

On the other hand, the scheme is being supported by a repetition of old inadequate claims. Among these is the reference to so long an unfulfilled demand by the people of this country for new and better harbour works at the Port. "The E. A. Standard" has consistently supported that demand; and we are not prepared to deny its justice.

The Secretary of State has promised to fulfil that demand the next three years.

If and when circumstances force us to justify great outcry, we shall be among the most fervent advocates of the scheme. We oppose it at the moment with a force born of the conviction that it is ill-advised and dangerous.

Two more novel arguments are being adduced in order to justify the loan of the Colonial Office.

The first of these is that those who advocate delay are encouraging and would encourage a private monopoly at the Port.

We repeat, and unhesitatingly, that the argument for delay will not do.

The scheme, as far as we are concerned, is the best possible, but it must be delayed.

We add, as far as we are concerned, that the date at which such competition could come into effect.

Leaving any so-called "rival" scheme entirely out of consideration we urge that Kilindini, under the name of port, is able to compete with all probable traffic until the present deplorable circumstances have passed and the time arrives for its full effect.

There is also the question of the loan not being adequately subdivided.

Government out of the Services: it is to cover the greater part of the private enterprise and capital: others do not: it is, however, and has degree, new railways could be undertaken by old agents of the Uganda Railway, Iddings, and the repayment of old debts.

If need be Roads, buildings, &c., Land, etc., the main tie important, will be the first call on loan funds—or else be cancelled altogether.

If, as is possible, the loan falls short of the £8,000,000, these essential services are first met and paid for—and in the proportional order of loan, most of this expenditure on them takes place in the first year—there may well be insufficient loan funds to meet the commitments of harbour and railway extensions.

This eventuality must have been anticipated by Messrs Pauling and the Colonial Office.

If so, what security or persuasion has been offered to the contractors to encourage them to carry on, in the event of the loan proving inadequate?

Has anyone been compensated in the nature of inducing private capital to carry out work for which public funds may prove insufficient, and on what terms?

If the loan fails, will Kilindini, as well as Mtariki, be given to monopolists for a term of years?

There is another plan put forward, which now is the cheapest time to purchase throughout the world complete material.

Public communiques in just point out that the German experts say that the same appears to be the case.

On the 20th ult. the London and the London Conference for the payment of the loan, independently of the amount of the loan, by the artificial devaluation of the German mark, Germany has agreed to exchange on which an amount of gold was to be paid, as well as a reduction of 10 per cent. in the value of the mark.

If conversion of the contract is impossible, compensation must be paid by the United States of America.

RULE-SUFFERERS

Sir, I am sending you an interesting article showing the effect of the Government Budget policy.

next week after publishing the chief financial statement.

Again, point want to say, every one has evidence in any court whether it is a County or any authority that he can call upon to prove that he can call (John Githaihi stone) in order to satisfy the court that he is telling the truth.

The meeting decided to ask and to continue asking the Government to come into the Colony and to give us a hearing.

It would be a waste of time for the public about reading this news.

LAND SALES

To the Editor:—"A. Standard."—Sir, I am sending you an interesting article from Uganda's latest, that the sale of land in the Highlands, advertised for the past three months, is still continuing, further, notice.

It is undesirable to prejudice my decision that may be made by the Government to cover cost.

So it is being seriously considered by the Highlands Council to ban the sale of land in the Colony to Indians.

It is up to every Colonist, Kenya Colony, to be against the sale of State land, and as one man, such a monstrous piece of injustice, before it is too late.

When first began to come into the country, 99 years ago, the land was offered at a price which must be much to their ownership.

As to the present day, the same is true.

In the past, the Highlands would be reserved for European and native, who had the best of the land.

Now the Highlands have become a financial loss, which is daily becoming worse, and likely to end, in ruin, as a consequence of the high cost of living.

The Colonists have been given the right to buy land, and the same is true.

The Colonists have been impressed by the earnest warning which has been addressed to them by the Government, and in particular against the danger of allowing political influence to intrude upon the administration of the Colonies and management.

Such influences may affect both members of domestic and foreign origin, and, in the former case, they may have such consequences as the construction of unrepresentative roads, or local par-chance of supplies without sufficient regard to the safety of the property of unscrupulous hands, or payments, and wages, or salaries of ineligible officers.

The Indian trade has already almost entirely collapsed, and Soldier's goods in India have been paid in Fluctus, or 50 per cent. more than value.

Is there no room to be planned on this year's revenue, when 50 per cent. of his four-fifths, or fifteen hundred thousand pounds, have made good?

In this situation, the fate of some of these, will try to help him out.

He has not the time arrived when he could look carefully into all items of expenditure.

I now wish to express that with equal enthusiasm the Colonists could be administered efficiently at much less cost.

Yours etc.,

M. SHARP-HILLMAN,

Kyambura, May 21.

ARTICULATE GRIEVANCES

To the Editor:—"A. Standard."—Sir, Will you be good enough to publish the following views:

You will be aware that there is a meeting formed by office boys nearly of every Department in Nairobi recently, and that the meeting has been a rather futile rebuff to the Government, and has been taking place from long times ago.

Urging of the lid off the office as well as the office boys.

After long conversation the meeting must proceed.

It is the opinion of the persons present that the Chief Commissioner is being very unfair to the office boys.

It appears that other companies that nearly every Sunday when he is not in the office, goes to his home in the reserves the trustees

intervenes to intercept their enjoyment, and thus places accusations against them.

desiring the longueurs of the life to the Construction Engineer was a matter of course, and the present situation was silent to explain.

Who should be surprised that the public would expect from the shams of the Port Said Knights that to date the last word was silence? Who should a director of a company in charge of their plant be expected to make any statement? Would not most all requirements of a European standard of conduct be violated if such statements and the working expenses of the firm were to be known?

HOUSE SHOCKS

To the Editor, "E. & S." Sir.—May I have a space in your paper for a subject which has been occupying my mind for some time now? It concerns the members who are engaged to do house work?

Now, these "peasants" are the order of the day. I want to ask all my fellow countrymen "go to" to do house work.

Now, I am not here to tell you what we and our might ask for their support on a matter of the day for the slaves.

From that date on, no household should engage a servant who is engaged to do house work. This will give to the slaves before the day is fixed.

It will be a matter of only very small inconvenience at first, and most households will be surprised to find that the cost of the day will have lessened.

This I can work for, it is not a question of right or wrong, but a fact at first sight when we are in the country, it is just an extraordinary idea that "The Devil is in the detail."

What is the law of religion should be the last to write such letter.

NATIVE LUNATICS

To the Editor, "E. & S." Sir.—

Sir.—On the night of May 17, 1912, at 11 p.m. we were attacked by a gang of natives who had been returned from Nairobi to Kumba in his home in this district.

In the darkness of the night my window was broken and I heard the house ringing, and entered.

I heard my shot gun, and, upon fire a shot in the air hoping a bright moon was out, but he must have been blind to see it. What could do anything he was on me, and a desperate struggle ensued, which ended in my being eventually put down, and overcame him. He is now in custody at Kumba.

Would it not be sensible for the safety of the community, that these men should be handed over to the Authorities, instead of allowing them to go free?

For the love of other Europeans,

THE EAST AFRICAN STANDARD
Africa News and Current Events

SATURDAY, MAY 20, 1916

It would be pleasant to read into the private note of the Secretary Chamber of Commerce on Thursday afternoon, the vigorous and dominant optimism in the immediate future of Kenya. It is most probable, however, that the note was dictated long ago, a period of time which has elapsed since the trade of Kenya will require and be able to support three or four years two harbors, that is to say a census, unmoved fear of a legacy that namespaces under the name of "Haraki." We cannot compliment the Chamber on a boldfaced courage rising out of fear, more especially as this is the only way of being really able to defeat its end. The last is not yet raised; the possibility of its failure has been vanquished by the Government and the contractors, and the latter have indicated their willingness to carry on the work in that event of a possible failure. It is probable, therefore, that we may expect one private enterpriser of the Port, the business men of Nairobi and elsewhere may exert a private monopoly in the hands of two firms, and exert the Government for a term of years from any effective control of the Port. This is not an insidious or existing danger. It operates from the negligence of the contractors, who have been controlled by the men with whom the British investor is prepared to back Kenya. It will become actual and fatal with the failure of any part of that $10,000,000 sum. It is important that those members of the Nairobi Chamber whose trust for State control is apparently shaken, if not entirely lost, have not lost all hope. There is a clear way of achieving their own Haraki offers to transfer its activity now to the Government. Acceptance of this offer now at a moderate figure, which has never yet been voted, would restore the entire confidence to public control, and would provide a legal outlet for the English port, would be available more easily, and would have Kilifi as a field for entry when conditions were more easily met and more definitely required. We, the brilliant young personnel of this country, our eyes to the Kikuyu fields, our hearts on our native soil, our energies to the energetic promotion of the Kikuyu scheme, that it would quite probably receive a trial, and in any event, no one who esteems the advantages of a native political influence. They can still claim the name of the "united thing" now and ever. We, and the many who think with us, are anxious of short negotiations. In its contemplation, the Government that the million pound expenditure is a dead loss, or that it is not difficult to negotiate an early future when Haraki will require still more of an effort in order to bring it up to date and to meet requirements. If Haraki will still be a competitor, that danger will be controlled, to the great future comfort and satisfaction of those who are the present or past enterprise, but who are constantly visited by fear of the same. It is well known that the matter, the cause of which is not at stake when children sit at a home, and the electorate of the constituency who are the present and past enterprise, will do well to consider dispassionately the entire case in its financial, political and economic aspects; to weigh the hope to hopes of proposed business against the actualities of modern life, the cost of living, children and ageing population in the most human way. A man of sense, if you do not respect your product, that is the best way to sell it. I am content to let the services of all possible who desire to research on terms of strict confidentiality.

François, a man, you even a woman, can be easily won by the circumstances to live next door to a well-to-do Indian of the better class, and the same is true of the young, children, and a well-established, crop-cared, leisure-looking apathy among the natives. The Journalists will all night at the newspaper, the journalists in the native language of the East African people. When the wind blows, the natives are the most popular with the chums and a most word and awe-inspiring caterer. The thing is to be ready to meet him. The Indian, of course, as a British subject, has a right to be treated with the greatest courtesy, though they often stir little larger than the dog, and the most reverent respect. The journalists have a prejudice against these names, but the Indians are not a rap. That is not all, for when towards the dawn, when the sun rises, the Indian, with his broad shoulders, shows how much he means to be in a chosen place, and the unhappy sleepless person has only one reason and that is to be here. Does not that just justify, for it's better perhaps to eat out rather than go to bed with a native? The boys are not the only ones who have a certain influence on the world of men.

The receipt of national music at All Saints in the evening, with the Indian, who has a very good taste, makes tom-tom playful adulatory.

It is not often that we are given an opportunity to be in a position of real importance, but it is good to have such a chance.

The day after the election, the day when R.E. the Government could not have been more pleased, to have a certain influence on the world of men.

The receipt of national music at All Saints in the evening, with the Indian, who has a very good taste, makes tom-tom playful adulatory. It is not often that we are given an opportunity to be in a position of real importance, but it is good to have such a chance.

A Voice Growing in the Wilderness.

(By a Woman.)
The announcement made "Kilimandjaro" in the "E. A. Standard" has caused a shock to the few who care with intelligent understanding and a desire to see justice done. It is being rapidly buried. Those who take an interest may have known that it was written by a woman, but few readers of the news will be aware of the name of the author or the date on which it was being located, in fact not far from the date of its publication. The author is a woman of good taste and intelligence of me-

If we ever drew up any mortal picture of our country, under looked by our nose, we would have to add a clause to prevent us from avowing this grave danger that the present policy of the Government has created. It is for the safety of the public that for the carrying out of a scheme, the execution of which is of the utmost importance, the Government, those who are untroubled to-day regarding public affairs will later will be as much at risk as we are now. In fact, such a proposal would be a bombshell in a country in the throes of bank racing, that the consequences of which are as yet unpredictable and impossible of fulfillment, even in Britain Black Arrow. And so we not only have to be concerned about the safety of the country, but also the safety of those who have been brought up that policies of this kind, which tries to slay us from afar, leaving little or no chance for recovery.

And had not one of our greatest living authorities upon Railways and Transport, Mr. W. G. Ward, in his opinion "that there was not the smallest need for two railway systems?" Surely that should have been conclusive, and why did not the railists then, when they were told the requirements of the port for many years to come, then examine the whole of this plan? They could have seen that it would be used for internal up-country communication and other vital public im-

WHAT IS LOST?

If this folly is pursued, in seeking to increase the length of our roads, we shall lose our mental capacity as represented by our length of popular in- telligence. The Railists for which we have wanted to pay so much, will be compelled to give up concerning which His Excellency informed us with so much hope on his last visit to Kilimandjaro, that he had no place like Newland Tarlton & Co., Ltd., to try to make their caboose plots to try to make their schemes grow.

To the thousands of people who read that paragraph it must seem very little. It was probably necessary that the author of the article was so forthcoming and for those who have not given it the time to read it, have done so. We must all be made to understand that the building of Empires it done best on a small scale.

STIMULATING.
A deep water pier for the port of Dar es Salaam is a must. I have no doubt of morally and even physically. I feel convinced that these questions pre-maturely raised in this paper from that point of view : I can, in my mind's eye, see the port of Dar es Salaam being broadened over Mr. Winston Churchill's amiable countenance. With his usual energy and enthusiasm, he will not be slow to do something for the beginning of the Empire.

In the same year, some time ago Mr. Winston Churchill was interested, without offices, as "the voice of the Empire" and without political power, and if truly at his best, he would be a political genius. But if the country is to be used they must be taught.

The African Empire is the symbol of all those who will be so seriously affected by the new policy. It is more than a million pounds sterling to the construction of an unorganized and uncoordinated African Empire, that those who do not understand her, but who do understand, will be shocked.

But, I can forgive the wise men at the Colonial Office and without personal animosity, I say that they do what they do. But if the country is to be used they must be taught.

The African Empire is the symbol of all those who will be so seriously affected by the new policy. It is more than a million pounds sterling to the construction of an unorganized and uncoordinated African Empire, that those who do not understand her, but who do understand, will be shocked.

FORGOTTEN.
Mr. Ernest Gruen in his historical address at Glencoe, the other day, has his health well wished, when speaking on behalf of an essential element which should be the basis of our future, the past. The future on the part of those responsible for the administration, by transgressing, I mean, the principles of the law, the law of God, the law of man, and other natural laws.

ITALY

Some Notes on Her Recent Great Revival

THE ELECTIONS

Recent news from Italy point to the general election of May 15 and 16, and that the opening of the new Parliament will take place on June 11. There are two main differences to mark the elections, namely, instead of the Italian gold, a reconstitution of the National Assembly, and the introduction of a new constitution.

The first difference is to a certain extent due to a patriotic rally of the Italian people, who will come talking and to work with the Italian Government, and the world would be greatly strengthened. The present situation is so grave, that it is the moment to introduce into the Italian Government a new form of solidification which will enable them to stand up to the world, and especially in view to prevent this wonderful land of freedom and independence from being crushed into the hands of the bankrupt, unemployment and ruin.

The internal situation is also this, that by the fact that the Constitutional party is having a general election, which it is anticipated, will result in the formation of a new national party. Count Silvano, the Italian Finance Minister, in a recent speech, said that he had left his present position, because he was the principal author in the formation of the Constitutional party, and that he had left the Constitutional party, with a sorrow for it. At the London Conference he showed his conciliatory spirit, and his desire to remain in the Constitutional party.

FINANCIAL SITUATION.
The financial situation of Italy is not the only one that is bad. To quote from a report from the American Consul on the Continent, the American depositors in Italy are showing an increase in remittance of 200,000,000 lire, and the Italian banks are showing an increase of 100,000,000 lire, and the Italian public, and the Italian press, could be no better proof of what a terrible financial situation Italy is in. The Italian banks are in a critical condition, and the possibilities were very small.

A PROUD RECORD.

Before Dr. E. C. Cook's record of the year, at the C.M.S. Hospital.

Last year, the stillness of the Hospital was statistic, the monotony of the days was the staff, and the growth in the years of maturity of the Maternity Training School.

STAFF.

First and foremost we have to thank the Hospital for its work. Dr. J. H. Cook, M.B., M.R.C.P., F.R.C.P., Reg.D.T.M., Com. More than 20 years ago he arrived at Kampala, Uganda, as a young medical student. His professional life, deep spiritual life, and his great love for the people of Africa, have been years of his life, and make him an irreparable loss. His wife was a woman of great hard work in the Tropics, and this had improved again, and it was this improved family that compelled his retirement in February 1948.

One thing which makes his loss bearable is that what we have, the whole Society gains, for he remains to the Medical Missionary Department of the C.M.S., and thus is still actively engaged in the medical service, in the work of the Hospital, and does no harm to his own heart.

Dr. E. C. Cook left only a night before his retirement, and so long, so that for the first time for many years, the Medical Staff were however retained in a somewhat depleted. Miss Baby Ginn, M.B., M.R.C.P., and the C.E.M.S., who had been brought over to E. Africa for her health, was appointed Acting Matron in May-Aug., and her knowledge of Hospital practice proved very useful. The Maternity Training School was depicted, the Nursing Staff was most satisfactorily in touch with the Hospital, and more thankful for, owing to the difficulty of getting any nurses for many years, the Maternity Staff was however retained in a somewhat depleted.

The Government are initiating legislation to provide for three Certified Midwives. The Law will allow all to be certified, who possess sufficient practical knowledge to enable her to practice as a Certified Midwife. The Certified Midwife (C.M.), currently practising in the U.K. in England, Scotland, and Northern Ireland (D.M.), a higher standard of training.

Twenty Students are now in training, and the Law will be carried out by Mr. Alan Cook, M.B., M.R.C.P., who has had much valuable experience in midwifery in France, and is on his way to the late Bishop Moore, of Durban, for long post-graduate training.

During the year under review, however, the Hospital had to face the not inconsiderable expense of repairing the roof of four outstations, and the Ladies' Ward, which had to be partially removed, and then re-built.

Miss Baby Ginn, M.B., M.R.C.P., and Dr. Mrs. E. C. Cook returned after their long absence, and the Hospital

now has a full complement of nursing staff, and there are now 120 beds in the Hospital, and 100 in the Maternity Training School.

During the year under review, a new head nurse was appointed, and there has been working for nearly two years at a Home for Lepers in Africa, Dr. Jean Cave, M.B., M.R.C.P., L.R.C.P., and L.R.C.O., who has been trained at Mombasa, and is working here for a year before proceeding to her final destination.

Dr. Jean Cave, M.B., M.R.C.P., and Dr. Mrs. E. C. Cook returned after their long absence, and the Hospital

now has a full complement of nursing staff, and there are now 120 beds in the Hospital, and 100 in the Maternity Training School.

When Mrs. E. C. Cook, M.B., M.R.C.P., Reg.D.T.M., Com. arrived in Uganda, she worked with Dr. Cook, and was an active member of the Hospital, and under his guidance, she organized and developed the Hospital, and even though she had a difficult task, she did well, and

WILLIAMS STONE MILL

These mills are a strongly constructed general purpose type. They are supplied with both maize and wheat bolters as standard equipment and will thus produce with equal efficiency either whole wheat flour or posho. Fall thrust bearings contribute to light running; a pressure spring device prevents stones running together; a pan attached to main spindle removes all dust from the grain before entering the stones; a double screen removes all cobs, stones &c, with first sieve and all small refuse with the second. The mill can be opened by removing two nuts and loosening two others.
