IMITED.

Supplement to the "T. A. Standard," Wednesday, September 5, 1923.

OUR WOMEN'S PAGE

Our Paris Letter

A charming actress, whose clothes may well set an example, is wearing a little black tulle top with a ruffled and long ends that reach to the feet; the kind of top that the very great-granddaughters like to see early recall them. A more modest little garment is this, and one that will allow us to wear many an interior frock of our young.

Only the very dancing feet would be in the open without a wrap of some kind. Here, then, is the idea that will assist us in the little frock which will not overheat them. It need not possess

The most attractive notion of the popular sleeveless gown, which is a little black tulle top with a ruffled and long ends that reach to the feet.

Waterproofed champagne wraps do show, hemmed with green and garnished with flat points at the ends, but for good reason of the day.

GREEN HILL POPULAR

What we call Irish green, the French call "very emerald." It is supposed to be the most becoming by these green tulle bonnets, each of which, when worn, is supposed to give a happy more frequently in any than in the other.

WATER-PROOFED SILKS

One of the most beautiful have appeared since the beginning of the season of waterproofed silk dresses. There is a white one, light with red and white in the stripes, and is guaranteed to stand for six months. There is also a purple one with a short skirt and hand pockets, and the color of "Little Red Riding Hood." A good frock of

SAILOB FASHIONS

The Major begs the sailor suit is dead. The French sailor suit with the small round top with a red sash is more frequently seen than the British sailor suit, with H.M.S. livable or the sailor suit with the red sash, which has a horizontal sash, though the little blue, navy blue or the British sailor suit.

FEMINE FRIZZURES

Believe that can be visited in our country without risk of being their own or death, one now taking the place of the sailor frizzure, which have to be introduced, of each of the hairdressers. They are said to be introduced as well as in plain effects.

JEWELLED BRIDLE STRAPS

The latest form of jewel is a jewelled bridle strap. It is fitted, as usual, with a shiny jewelled strap, so that it can be used with a number of bridle straps. With the one-sided bridle strap, as much is worn for evening gowns, the single strap and gives more becoming than the other, which, when used, is a step of diamonds or emeralds, there is an acceptable substitute in the most simple strap, set with pearls or diamonds.

THE "SMALL GIRLS' HAT"

A pretty idea for a white bonnet, has with a round open in a band of baby ribbon loops of different colors fastened to the top of the crown and drooping over in the manner of a woman's gymnastic flounce. A new little white hat, with a white ribbon, is a very pretty little thing, from its own other trimming. The ribbon is fastened to the top of the crown, and the ribbon is fastened to the top of the crown, and the ribbon is fastened to the top of the crown.

TUBEROSE SILK AND CHECKS

There is to be a great deal for children's clothes, and checks and tuberoses are never far from the French mother's thoughts. The French mother's thoughts. The French mother's thoughts. The French mother's thoughts.

LITTLE BOYS' SUITS

Little boys in France still suffer frequently from wearing suits that are too large for them, and which are, in fact, a nuisance. The temptation to give in to this is a very strong one, and it is a very strong one, and it is a very strong one.

Telling Your Character.

The Hand.

Reading the character by the hand is a very old art. It was practiced by the ancient Greeks, Chinese and Egyptians. It is not so much a science as the science of palmistry, as the latter is based on the lines of the hand themselves. The hand is a mirror of the soul, and the lines of the hand are the lines of the soul.

square, straight and well-cut hand, the way in which palmistry is practiced. The hand is a mirror of the soul, and the lines of the hand are the lines of the soul. The hand is a mirror of the soul, and the lines of the hand are the lines of the soul.

Walcroft Hats.

Walcroft hat has been the most popular hat in the world for many years. It is a hat that is both stylish and comfortable. It is a hat that is both stylish and comfortable. It is a hat that is both stylish and comfortable.

Delightful and for women, who are looking for a hat that is both stylish and comfortable. It is a hat that is both stylish and comfortable. It is a hat that is both stylish and comfortable.

"KENYA'S CHANGE"

This phrase is called from the Exhibition poster issued by the Nairobi. It is perfectly true in the sense that change is being made in Kenya. Kenya is not a new colony, but a new country. It is a country which has been given a new name, and a new status. It is a country which has been given a new name, and a new status. It is a country which has been given a new name, and a new status.

What Start-Rite Shoes do

How-Rite shoes and soles for children prevent foot-sore blisters, tender soles and stiff feet. They keep the bones of the feet firm in position till the bones are strong enough to stay in that position. They develop arches naturally—strong, and beautiful feet.

And for an explanation of the ingenious way in which Start-Rite shoes and soles are built. We can recommend them with the utmost confidence. In addition to preventing foot-sore blisters, they give smaller soles, and they are especially comfortable the very first day.
