MIRIEH. The rather dark and cryptic statement emanating from Bunde in the wire published yesterday regarding the conference held at No. 19 Downing Street between Mr. Baldwin, Lord Curzon, and the Dominion representatives gives food for thought, even beyond the significance revealed. There are certain things which appear obscure in the message previously sent out as a result of the conference. The objection to the "grave anxiety" expressed in some circles as to the "protection" of the Empire's "interests" and against "mere domestic policy" is a good example of this. It is not a family gathering, accessible to anyone, and the policy is not intended to be secret. It is a family gathering, accessible to anyone, and the policy is not intended to be secret.

BRITISH EMPIRE TRENDS. The rather dark and cryptic statement emanating from Bunde in the wire published yesterday regarding the conference held at No. 19 Downing Street between Mr. Baldwin, Lord Curzon, and the Dominion representatives gives food for thought, even beyond the significance revealed. There are certain things which appear obscure in the message previously sent out as a result of the conference. The objection to the "grave anxiety" expressed in some circles as to the "protection" of the Empire's "interests" and against "mere domestic policy" is a good example of this.

General Smuts, a pro-consolidator, states that the British Empire as a whole is in a position of comparative weakness. The world is trending towards the consolidation of all nationalities into a few great nations. He anticipates that the Dominion strength of the Empire will be reduced. He is of the opinion that the Dominion strength of the Empire will be reduced. He is of the opinion that the Dominion strength of the Empire will be reduced.

These people who think imperial with vision grasp further and wide enough to think internationally. Here is the position of the British Empire as a whole in spite of the dangers of difference of details, it is best to think of the world as a whole. The world is trending towards the consolidation of all nationalities into a few great nations. He anticipates that the Dominion strength of the Empire will be reduced. He is of the opinion that the Dominion strength of the Empire will be reduced. He is of the opinion that the Dominion strength of the Empire will be reduced.

POULTRY NOTES.

System of Selection.

Courses in these articles refer to local, fow, feather, fat, etc., to distinguish from inferior types. Two birds may be good and yet one may be superior and the other a mere producer. To measure the capacity of the crop, the gape, or the inside of the internal organs, take the distance from the tip of the beak to the tip of the wing, and the distance from the tip of the beak to the tip of the tail. This measurement is taken in the same position, and although this factor varies considerably in different breeds a bird should have it as large as possible. It is a measure of capacity to produce its quality. But it gives no indication of quality, neither does it imply what is produced, i.e., meat or eggs. The unit of measurement used is the thickness of one's finger, approximately 1 inch.

To obtain an accurate measurement for capacity it is necessary to take the measurement in the same position. It should be held by the legs with the left hand. The body must be held in the natural position under the arm, bent at the elbow. If the bird is tilted too much, the head level, the abdominal muscles become tense and the measurement cannot be taken on the other hand, the bird will have tail down and the abdomen shrinks to half the natural size.

Condition.
If a hen is out of condition her production will not be normal. This factor is shown by the condition of the most on breast bone. This is of importance, for as condition varies so will capacity in the proportion.

If for any reason a bird is out of condition, the most fails away from the breast bone, and the measurement should be taken on the other hand, the bird will have tail down and the abdomen shrinks to half the natural size.

According to the Hygienic system "the fnger" is the measurement taken from the tip to the first joint of the forefinger divided into three parts. If the bird is "three fngers" it is in good condition. The measurement of the breast bone would reach to the first joint of the finger.

For every single fnger's inch of condition a bird will "bring" out of condition, in exactly the same proportion.

Type.
In the Hygienic system the thickness of the carpus, or rather the thickness of the metacarpals, is measured by the thickness of the pulvis bone. This is the most accurate method of measuring the carpus, metacarpals and hand covering areas, but as it is not possible to measure between the finger and thumb.

This measure gives an indication of the condition of the carpus, and is measured over the fracture. This factor is measured in the same way as the carpus, and is measured under three head-ings as egg type, dual type, and nest type.

Takes for example a hen having a very thin pulvis bone, 1 1/8 inch thick, this condition indicates that a bird has but a scanty supply of food on her frame, and the more dense, even having an abundance of meat tissue to repair, go to the egg stage. These thin type birds lose the best of their eggs. The best meat-producing types are those possessing extremely thick pulvis bones about 1 inch to 1 1/4 inches thick.

Grading.
To grade a pulvis on the above system proceed as follows:

Place the bird in left hand, above her against the side of the carpal. This measure is not applied to the breast bone, and we shall find the difference between the two measurements. Try for capacity. It is required to test a hen for capacity. It is required to test a hen for capacity. It is required to test a hen for capacity.

Next week I will give a table showing how to determine probable egg production.

TENNIS

HOME TENNIS.

Results of South of England Tournament.

AN INDIAN WINNER.

London, Sept 28. The South of England Lawn Tennis Championships, for which a very large entry was received, terminated at Eastbourne on September 27. A surprising result was that of the Men's singles in which the Ramesseid defeated F. G. Lewis by two sets to one the scores being 6-1, 6-0 and 8-6. The Indian was pitted on his merits as he played a superb battle with his opponent who scored too much in the first set. This, however, Lewis contrived to the net. He was nearly overthrown by well-judged passing shots. Thus the Championship was won by the first time since G. Currell, the left-handed player, stood little chance in the London Single against Max F. Helder who was able an unimpaired game by 6-1, 6-1. The Veteran's Singles championship was won by G. Overton who completely outplayed S. Barratt in the final to win by 6-1, 6-0. Overton was also victorious in the doubles with P. M. Davies when opponents were H. F. Sarg and W. A. Hearn who, after taking the first set 6-4, lost the next two and also the championship. A splendid match was witnessed in the final of the Mixed Doubles between C. H. Kinsley and G. Eames who defeated Mrs. G. C. Dwyer and H. W. Blandford. The final score being 6-1, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1. The former pair composed of 6-1, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1. The singles by winning the Doubles event when partners by Mrs. C. Eames. The winners had an easy time over J. Heston and Mrs. H. F. Cobb by two straight sets.

A JEWISH CRIMEA.

Bolsheviks Make an Offer of Land.

According to the Jewish Tribune of August 17, Mr. Felix M. Warburg, in a report on Jewish relief work, states that the Bolshevik Government has offered to the Joint Distribution Committee a large tract of land in the Crimea capable of receiving 250,000 Jewish agriculturists.

Mr. Warburg has informed Mr. A. Rosenberg, a Vice Chairman of the Committee, that this body is not in a position to embark on such a project, but that "with infinitely smaller expenditures, larger and much more promising colonies could be started in the Crimea than in such places as Argentina." If the Zionist Institute, whom we have formed upon Palestine could be induced to go to the Crimea, it would be a great relief to our chances.

Sikh Activity in Nabha.

It is stated that the Parbatshahi (Sikh shrine reform) Committee has definitely committed to interfere with the affairs of the State of Nabha, and that the Sikhs of Nabha (bands of Sikh fanatics) have already begun and will probably be developed on a larger scale in the State of Nabha. A clash between the Sikhs and the Government appears, therefore, to be imminent.

Landi Kotal Fugitives.

The Afghan Government has appointed Brigadier-General Sir Kerley Khan to command the operations which are to be undertaken with the object of recovering the Landi Kotal area of the State of Jalandhar, which was formerly a Sikh territory. It is reported that this Government indicates the earnest desire of the Afghans to prevent the hinderance of allowing the same to escape.

THE MAS. BENTLEY'S BULLET.

THE MAS. Bentley's Bulletin. The Masai position of Kenya Colony, as revealed in the first issue for 1922, is not very satisfactory, though they regard the general condition of economic progress and agriculture within the limits of the District for 1921 as satisfactory. As the Masai Colony is still paying the interest on the recent loan of capital, having to meet the interest of 10 per cent, they are naturally impatient to receive the remainder of the loan. Outside public debt, they require the largest loan to be proposed under "Administration," which would amount to £241,000 and the total amount of the Masai loan would be £382,000. It is not the Masai who are the primary beneficiaries of the loan, but the Government of Kenya. The Masai are only to be considered as a means of raising the money for the Government. The Masai are to be considered as a means of raising the money for the Government. The Masai are to be considered as a means of raising the money for the Government.

NAIVASHA NOTES.

Golf Tournament Against Muthiga.

DUCK-SHOOTING SEASON.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT]

Naivasha, October 9. Last week and so far the first match upon the splendid Nile hole...

Sunday morning was taken up with singles, and in the afternoon foursomes were played.

RESULTS.

Table showing golf tournament results for various matches and foursomes.

DUCK-SHOOTING.

Walker and Wilbourn 2. Bay and Agnew 2.

The visitors once had the making of the first in Naivasha, a most successful run along the bank...

It was a delightful day, with some of the best Naivasha ducks to help the Naivasha side.

The Muthiga players found the ground very much on the slow side when compared with their home course.

It was a most agreeable week and we are hoping to meet visitors more frequently from other parts.

Four healthy visitors from Nakuru had the courtesy to do 27 holes before lunch, the first round being started upon about 6.30 a.m.

Duck Shooting.

It has been decided by the committee responsible that the duck shooting season is to commence on Saturday, December 13, the date being later than usual on purpose to allow for the young ducks to fatten up.

Visitors wishing to enjoy themselves during the Naivasha week should start as early as opportunity of looking up at the lake, there now being some in the Naivasha Hotel, which is near the lake and the Bath Valley Hotel, on the Hill.

The usual round of sports and entertainments which were such a success last year will be continued. A list of events will be announced later.

"THE GOLF."

The following notes by the editorial staff under the pen and sportsman, O. Moore-Cyrenne...

It is an explanatory note, the readable sort of that, so far as it can be so written, the poem the first of Naivasha, which puts the date some months B.C. and it would appear that, although the game was played much on the same lines as present-day golf...

The Poem.

Dreaming one morning at 11 I seemed to hear a solemn voice: 'Slow back, don't press, and grip the mallet firm.'

And when the golfing spirit fills the mind, the sweetest dream that vice in its sweetest dream...

'How fine a straight drive from the low seat, say, on the green, Ah, where's my favourite club, or with whom I should be seen?'

Here, with a drive of fifteen yards, or there, with a drive of fifteen yards, or there, with a drive of fifteen yards...

When, at the eighth, the score was level-fifty, I saw my partner foot-look on the green.

The Naivasha flag made a three-quarter swing, and with a great half-volley, bowed him back the next day.

If at the long hole, hitting for a four, You only strike a duck, or run one above, all things make an endeavour to draw light on your vocabulary's store.

I sometimes think that never goes so far The ball afterwards inside the bar, One ball of how one drove a fatish pill From off the bushes late to Naivasha!

Musing on ideal links when morning wales, I fumbled greens that moved to suit the stroke, Enough that needed at the ball's approach, And ground on which a pill had never bared.

Oh, come with me and try to win a prize! I fumbled greens that moved to suit the others, boys; One thing you soon will learn if you are true, Some words which had the next day 'pois' tone, like 'I' Translated by H. H. H.

VETERINARY RESEARCH
Investigating Kenya Fowl Disease

TRYPANOSOMIASIS
Botanical Survey of the Luneta Area

"Experiments on Kenya fowl disease, carried out during the year 1919-20, and in connection with the following: (a) The mode of transmission of the disease. (b) The susceptibility of various animals. (c) The production of an artificial fowl disease serum. (d) Preventive measures. (e) The mode of treatment."

"During 1922, further research was undertaken, this included: (1) To determine at what ages fowls are susceptible to the disease. (2) To determine the effect of various ages on the course of the disease. (3) To determine the effect of various ages on the course of the disease. (4) To determine the effect of various ages on the course of the disease."

"On the 10th of October, 1922, a fowl was inoculated with a virus prepared from the blood of a fowl infected with the disease. The fowl died on the 12th of October, 1922, and the blood was found to contain the virus. This was the first case of the disease in Kenya."

THE GARDEN

[By Mrs. LAWRENCE, F.R.H.S. & Mrs. Park, Hill, River, to whom all correspondence concerning it should be addressed.]

GARDEN PLANNING

Several of my correspondents have asked for hints on the best plan of a garden...

Those of us who garden are always given to some of those who have the skill of making a garden...

To say the least of it, a well-planned garden is a source of pleasure and interest...

One of the aims of garden design is to provide a place where the gardener can enjoy the fruits of his labour...

It is a thing that is beautiful in itself but if it is wrong plan it is inefficient...

A garden which is well-planned is a source of pleasure and interest...

There are a number of things that are essential to a well-planned garden...

It is a thing that is beautiful in itself but if it is wrong plan it is inefficient...

Sheer unreasoning habit

This man is drinking stuff which is called tea and taste like dish water. He does not enjoy it...

Thousands of people are the same. They have become so accustomed to swallowing wash-water that they have almost forgotten how good tea is.

Next time somebody hands you a cup of tea, do not say "tea" but say "cup of tea"...

First find out if the stuff is properly made. Make your best understanding that the water must be properly boiled...

See that you get the right tea. Get Brooke Bond in the vacuum tin. You know that your tea is bound to be fresh...
