POULTRY NOTES. ON THE LAMP.

DOUBLE INOCULATION FOR RINDERPEST.

SOME ADVICE. SOLIDER FARM KEPT.

Mr. E. R. Cole, Chief Stationer of the Coast.

I expect that by the time most of my readers have read the first part, and have more or less made up their minds that they are going to enter in the poultry business...

As "Understudy" Select a bird and see the kind of the standard award points to it. If the standard award points to it, it is a good bird. If it is not, it is a bad bird. If it is a bad bird, it is a bad bird. If it is a good bird, it is a good bird. If it is a bad bird, it is a bad bird. If it is a good bird, it is a good bird.

Double Benefit.

VACUUM packing not only makes it possible for you to be certain of getting tea in perfect condition - it also enables us to put better tea in the tin to start with.

Vacuum packing has sent up the sales of Brooke Bond tea by leaps and bounds. This has reduced the overhead distributing cost on each pound - and we pass the benefit on to you in the shape of improved quality.

Insist on Brooke Bond, and see that you get it. Your tea-pot will prove that it is by far the best.

Don't confuse the genuine Brooke Bond vacuum pack with ordinary air-tight tea. Insist on Brooke Bond. There is nothing else "just as good."

EXPERT OPINION.

During the last two years we have been in communication with London millers regarding the quality of the flour which has been produced in the Colony. We have found that the flour is of a high standard of purity and has proved to be of a most satisfactory nature. We have great much advice which we have carefully followed, and our methods have been completely revolutionized.
It is our opinion that the flour we are now producing they will be admitted and not condemned. It is in the inherent quality of the wheat and not in any fault of the miller.

In the opinion of experts whose business it is to criticize our flour, which they have always done in a most ungracious manner.

American Cotton.

REVIEW OF U & TRADE PROSPECTS

The report of the United States Department of Agriculture issued last month of July 25, 1923, while that part of the report pertinent to August 25, 1923, is not yet published, the prospects for the month of August are very bright. The yield of 10,700,000 bales of cotton is a record, and the average estimate for the past two years of August 25 was 68.8 per cent, or practically 10 per cent short of this year's report, which is 79.4 per cent. The yield in New York City was 20,000,000 bales, the largest amount actually grown in the United States since the year 1919, which shows the decided decline that may take place in the future.

The final production one year ago amounted to 7,500,411 bales of 16,000,000 lbs. very large crop. In our own report issued August 25, we were attempting to fix the market, and to the best of our knowledge, we were in a position with rapidly changing conditions with respect to the first of August an advance being in the price of raw cotton, which has advanced more rapid towards the end of the month. This has led to a state of affairs that is not generally understood. The price of cotton is generally about 19 per cent of the price of the raw cotton at the middle of July.

Many manufacturers of bags and various containers and various factories of clothing and textile supplies in this country, particularly in the cotton textile, but there is still a large amount of raw cotton which has been purchased and which has been expected to come into the market at a higher price. The price of American textiles have generally been making headway, but there have been periods when they have been forced to get away from them.

Japanese Competition.

The competition in raw cotton from Japan has been particularly severe in the cotton textile, as well as in Australia and East Africa. Japanese competition has also been formidable in the case of one or two of the other raw foreign markets. On the line between Japan and America, the price of raw cotton has been such that the margin of difference was not very great. However, since the recent advance in the price of raw cotton, the difference in price between the two countries has become more noticeable. Wherever there is a surplus of raw cotton in Japan, American goods will get the better of the competition. During the last few years there has been a great increase in the export sales of native goods from America. Foreign buyers are now more interested in the American market as the source of raw cotton than they were in the past. It may be added that the raw cotton from these classes of raw cotton is as follows:

1918-19 653,900, 41,792,849
1919-20 653,900, 41,792,849
1920-21 653,900, 41,792,849
1921-22 653,900, 41,792,849

BECKETT'S DEFEAT.

Description of the Fight At Olympia.

THE FALLEN IDOL.

Let us hope we were like the rest of the world in our admiration for the fight between Beckett and Van Der Pyl. It was a very interesting and well-fought contest. Beckett was the favorite, but Van Der Pyl proved to be a very tough opponent. The fight was a close one, with both men displaying excellent boxing skills. In the end, Van Der Pyl emerged as the victor, which was a surprise to many.

FOOTBALL GIROUARD CUP FINAL.

RAILWAY SUFFER DEFEAT FOR THE FIRST TIME THIS SEASON.

Civil Service Win by an Odd Goal.

A FAST, INTERESTING AND CLEAN CONTEST.

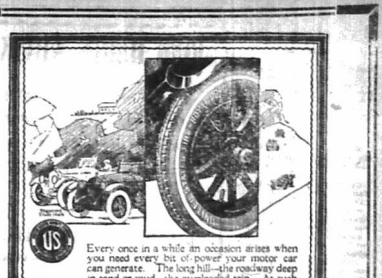

WON BY GYMKHANA GROUND.

A large crowd of spectators gathered round the ropes on Saturday to witness the final tie for the Girouard Cup between the Railway and Civil Service. The Railway team, led by their captain, was expected to win, but they were defeated by the Civil Service by a single goal. The match was fast and exciting, with several chances for goals on both sides. The Railway players showed great skill and determination, but they were out of sync in the final minutes, which allowed the Civil Service to score the winning goal.

After the Fight.

The crowd had first of all expressed its admiration for the fight between Beckett and Van Der Pyl. Both men were praised for their skill and determination. The crowd was disappointed that Beckett was defeated, but they were impressed by the quality of the fight. The event was a success and it was hoped that it would encourage more people to take up boxing.

The Surprises.

The Civil Service side exceeded the most sanguine expectations and played a remarkably good game, although strictly of the superior order of luck and skill. Their combination was at its best and they played with great spirit and determination. The Railway team, on the other hand, was out of sync and they were unable to take advantage of their opportunities. The result was a surprise to many, as the Railway team was considered the favorite.

The Tactics.

The following were lined up: Civil Service: Finlay, Reid and Hamilton; Railway: Reid, O'Brien, Harman, Reid and Harman.

The tactics used by both teams were very similar. They both played a fast and attacking game, with a lot of passing and movement. The Civil Service players were particularly good at setting up goals, while the Railway players were better at defending their goal.

Final Half.

Service won the loss and defeated the Railway team. The Railway team was out of sync and they were unable to take advantage of their opportunities. The Civil Service players were particularly good at setting up goals, while the Railway players were better at defending their goal.

decision Maltese pretty bad those and Eric and coming in, sent in a new look for Finlay to have Service returned the compliment and kicked after goals. He was not a driver with a hard shot which proved well on Saturday. He followed this up a second or two later with a long effort, Harman's goal.

The game at this stage became confused and after Finlay had scored twice, getting the ball away again. The Railway team was out of sync and they were unable to take advantage of their opportunities. The Civil Service players were particularly good at setting up goals, while the Railway players were better at defending their goal.

Service had a better chance to equalize from the kick-off, but Railway was out of sync and they were unable to take advantage of their opportunities. The Civil Service players were particularly good at setting up goals, while the Railway players were better at defending their goal.

Council Debates New

The Legislative Council considered in detail yesterday, the Bill for the amendment of the Civil Code Ordinance. The suggestions made were as follows:—
The Acting Attorney-General,
who was in charge of the Bill and the Law Secretary, stated as a preliminary point that it was possible to include provisions which they had been working for many years. The present form of provision, for instance, was too
loose and under the existing provisions a woman could be arisen on the subject of having

Debatable have been held on the subject and Theatre managers, like Andrew Charles and Seymour Hicks have stated that on the occasion of first nights they have sent to the presses both their officers and clubbers only. The gallery does not like this sort of thing and in future it may see the head of the first night "Deadheads."

INDIAN HOSPITAL

Work on the E. A. Section Building Started.

Unavailability of Present Building.

A KICK FOR THE SALE OF NAIROBI COFFEE.

A "TIE SHANT"

"Bickens" an Advantage.

The Hon. Secretary of the E. A. Indian National Congress has addressed the following letter to the Editor:

London, October 4.

The Hon. Secretary of the E. A. Indian National Congress has addressed the following letter to the Editor:

Most of the buildings for the British Empire Exhibition will be more or less finished by the end of the month.

For the coming year the estimates prepared by me have been approved by my committee so far as to the general necessity for a dispensary hospital for treatment of Indian patients. They are now being sent to the Government for approval.

The general scheme has been a steady state of affairs since the last moment, so that even now the plan of the "lay out" is in a definite shape and will be ready for the final approval.

It is a great pleasure to me to see that the Government has approved the plan of the dispensary hospital for treatment of Indian patients. It is a great pleasure to me to see that the Government has approved the plan of the dispensary hospital for treatment of Indian patients.
