NYAKA NOTES.

Government Work in the Province.

BUGAL FOR EXPORT.

[Now or never correspond.]

KUMBU, Oct. 23.
 Nyanga Province seems at last to be attracting the attention of the public that it deserves. In the past the province has been a sort of happy hunting ground for the hunter and the trader. Kavirondo has been the last to be visited by the white man. If it had not been for the work of the Mission in this respect cannot be overestimated. The work of the Mission in this respect cannot be overestimated. The work of the Mission in this respect cannot be overestimated.

also on the inland features near the lake and many rivers are being put in. There should be a station in the Kavirondo district. A railway will be put up near Mwasir. Introduce the motor bus. The public are looking for good results from their efforts.

A New Report.

A trip just made from Malindi to Kisumu will at once remove the impression that what is proceeding apace off coast on the lake. Never before in the history of the district have so many rivers been traced up and there are some 20000 acres of land now being brought under cultivation. Light cannot give a true picture of the land. The land now added by you is hope that the district, before a white planter is placed to make its contribution to the glory as a production area.

Nursery Rhymes Re-told
 Nc. 12, Jack Spratt,
 Jack Spratt was not too fat,
 his wife was also lean, until
 one day they ate good bread

 They both of them now look quite plump if not exactly fat. They always lick the platter clean—the old rhyme tells us that.

Reports in Nyanga are just now chiefly confined to news on private and club committees. Little football or cricket is going on but enough for the natives. The soccer code is going great and at Nairobi some four or five teams are practicing, while each district has its own side. The much prized "mambo" has been given to Mr. H. H. Bremer, Nairobi, who during the week and assisted the native societies every evening by playing at their tables and giving good advice on the game. Such efforts stimulate native football and if carried in other districts by public opinion, the natives of Kenya would soon be in advance of those in the Colonies in soccer sense and really representative matches between the natives of both countries would be helpful in many ways than one.

AFRICAN STANDARD

EX-SOLDIERS.

That vast body of men, the ex-soldiers will read with any but pleasant feelings the remarks made to them by the Commissioner of Lands when the Hon. H. H. Cole brought up the subject of their land needs in the Legislative Council on Tuesday last. Admitted that there is much truth in that, the Commissioner of Lands statement, admitted that the contract between the Government and the soldier-soldier was a perfectly clear one, there is still much to be said in favour of the latter. To some extent world conditions—the absence of markets, high competition, the absence of money—have been against him.

Through distribution the high cost of living, the absence of farms near the main centres, these men among local conditions that the soldier had to live on, and it is not to be wondered at if a certain sum of money that was expended at the beginning to be expected, though, has been found to be insufficient. It will be a calamity of the kind that has been said that all in all the land now farmed to them is because of their temporary inability to meet their needs, and we will be glad to hear that the Government will consider their position notwithstanding any disabilities that may be placed on them, should the real soil of the country should be one of the permanent sources of revenue.

It is not surprising that in some of them are now approaching the period when they are used that the soldier's position will be all the more improved, and we will be glad to hear that the Government will consider their position notwithstanding any disabilities that may be placed on them, should the real soil of the country should be one of the permanent sources of revenue.

TRADERS' LICENCES.

Government Unable to Abolish.

During the discussion of the revenue side of the Budget yesterday Mr. Shanno of Durai asked why the maintenance of the Legislative Council of the Trading Committee in regard to the abolition of trade licence fees had not been taken into consideration as that item again appeared in the Budget.

WOMEN

The Legislative Council yesterday afternoon in the debate, that the Government is unable to abolish the present system of women's franchise in the Colony.
