INFANTILE MORTALITY LESS THAN MOST PARTS OF THE WORLD.

Need for Compulsory Registration.

The following is an extract from the very voluminous report submitted by the M. O. H. Dr. De la Be for 1922.

As given the European death rate is 64 per 1,000 and the infant mortality rate is 100 per 1,000.

These two points on which there is great need for compulsory registration of births and deaths of infants and children would be the greatest information to be satisfactory for the public.

The above statistics on population of the Empire for the year 1922 are as follows:—

1. A complete registration of births.

2. A complete registration of deaths.

3. A complete registration of marriages.

4. A complete registration of divorces.

5. A complete registration of adoptions.

6. A complete registration of illegitimate births.

7. A complete registration of stillbirths.

8. A complete registration of suicides.

9. A complete registration of deaths in custody.

A Letter from London.

London, Feb. 22.—The Duke of Devon has been writing for the last three or four days of his impressions on the situation in the Dominion of Wales from the perspective of a Minister from the Government. It will probably be the last of his impressions on the subject, which may bring down the Labour Government and perhaps the Government which will follow it unless the Ministers of the day are prepared to take very strong steps indeed.

The Duke writes that he is disappointed to find that the Government are not prepared to take any steps to bring up the daily rate of wages in the coal-mining industry—and this is really the only important matter of which the Government are not prepared to take any steps to bring up the daily rate of wages in the coal-mining industry—and this is really the only important matter of which the Government are not prepared to take any steps to bring up the daily rate of wages in the coal-mining industry.
